Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Prologue</th>
<th>ix</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Acknowledgements</td>
<td>xvi</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Part I  Principles of modernity

1. Modes of narrating modernity  3
2. Enablement and constraint: Understanding modern institutions  19

Part II  The first crisis of modernity

3. Restricted liberal modernity: The incomplete elaboration of the modern project  37
4. Crisis and transformation of modernity: The end of the liberal utopia  55

Part III  The closure of modernity

5. Networks of power and barriers to entry: The organization of allocative practices  73
6. Building iron cages: The organization of authoritative practices  89
7. Discourses on society: Reorganizing the mode of cognitive representation  104

Part IV  The second crisis of modernity

8. Pluralization of practices: The crisis of organized modernity  123
9. Sociology and contingency: The crisis of the organized mode of representation  141
10. Modernity and self-identity: Liberation and disembedding  154
Part V  Towards extended liberal modernity?

11  Incoherent practices and postmodern selves: The current condition of modernity  175

Notes  194
Bibliography  240
Index  261