Contents

PREFACE xiii

1. INTRODUCTION: TWO ENVIRONMENTS—TWO IDEOLOGIES—ONE TERMINOLOGY 1

   Why Bother with Dead Marxism and Leninism? 1
   Two Ideologies 4
   Marx and Marxism 6
   One Terminology 8
   Ideology and Words 10

2. THE EVOLUTION OF MARXISM 13

   Socialist Labor Movements 13
   Origins 13
   The Appeal of Marxism 15

   The Social-Democratic Party in the German Empire 16
   Growth and Weakness 16
   Revolution and Marxism 18

   Social Democracy since 1918 23

3. THE EVOLUTION OF LENINISM 27

   Leninism and Modernizing Intellectuals in Underdeveloped Countries 27
Contents

Lenin Reinterpreted 27
Revolutionary Modernizing Intellectuals 29

The Appeal of Leninism 34
From Proletarian Revolution to Modernizing Revolution 34
Industrialization 38
Anti-imperialism 40
Intellectuals and Workers 42
Peasants and Peasant Revolution 44
Marx and Lenin on Bourgeois, Proletarian, and Peasant Revolutions 47
No Class Struggle in Russia 49
No Class Struggle in the "East" 51
Leninist Voluntarism and Marxist Determinism 54

Leninism since Lenin 57
From Mao to Mengistu 57
The Blurring of Leninism 60

4. MARXISM IN THE EAST, "LENINISM" IN THE WEST 65

Marxism in Underdeveloped Countries 65
Adaptable Leninists, Doctrinaire Marxists 65
The Mensheviks 67

"Leninism" in Western Europe 69
Lenin's Marxist Words as Myths 69
Lenin's Non-Leninist Followers 71
The French and Italian Communist Parties: Heirs of Syndicalism 74
PCF and PCI: From Syndicalism to Disappearance or Social Democracy 78

Between Marxism and Leninism 83

5. WHY MARXISM AND LENINISM HAVE BEEN SEEN AS A SINGLE IDEOLOGY 89

Ideology and Environment 89
Ideology: Words or Substance? 89
Marxists' Un-Marxian View of Marxism and Leninism 93
The Uses and Origins of the Confusion 95
  Why Leninists in Underdeveloped Countries and Some Western Marxists Want To Be "Marxists-Leninists" 95
  The Beginnings of the Confusion 97

Eurocentrism 100
  Russia: A European Country 100
  Marxism: A Eurocentric View of History 101
  Ignorance and Indifference 103
  No More Excuse for Eurocentrism 106

NOTES 109

BIBLIOGRAPHY 129

INDEX 135