

Contents

List of Tables	vii
List of Abbreviations	viii
Glossary	x
Preface	xii
Introduction	1
1 Prison Life, 1775–1825: Popular Curiosity and Professional Interest	11
2 Death, Discipline and Depravity in Prison Factories, 1821–1850	30
3 Socialization by Social Isolation: Experiments with Penitentiaries in England and the USA	54
4 Barbarian Scaffold versus Civilized Solitude: From External to Internal Constraint	68
5 Penal Reality for a Prison Inspector, 1850–1886: The Suffering Behind the Death Rates	92
6 Cell Maniacs, Irish Sinners and Conservative Reactionaries: The System Controversy	111
7 Misery and Insanity: The Reality of Cell Life, 1886–1914	142
8 Wilful Sinners or Born Criminals: The Cell System Under Attack	177
9 Toughness and Leniency, 1918–1940: ‘Deviations’, Education, Incapacitation and Minimum Rules	211
Social Intercourse and Contacts with the Outside World	213
The Educational View: A Penal Civilizing Offensive	219
The Emancipation of Prisoners	221
The Harsh School of Thought	232
Making Up the Balance	236

10 Radical Reforms after the Occupation: The Abolition of the Cell System	244
Socializing and Self-restraint	246
Prisoner Emancipation Gathers Pace	253
Emancipation on Balance	274
11 Two Centuries of Imprisonment: Socio-Historical Explanations and Conclusions	290
Trend and Structure over Two Hundred Years	297
The Emancipation Process of Prisoners	312
Bibliography	332
Index	361

List of Tables

2.1 Mortality rate in prisons, 1837–50	39
2.2 Mortality rate in separate prisons, 1841–50	40
5.1 Mortality rate in prisons, 1851–80	94
5.2 Mortality rate in separate prisons, 1851–80	95
6.1 Registered suicide and insanity in prisons, 1846–85	129
7.1 Mortality rates in prisons, 1880–1909	148
7.2 Rates of insanity in prisons, 1887–1912	153
7.3 Clinical representations of insane prisoners, 1885–1915	166
7.4 Grief as a cause of insanity, 1885–1908	167
10.1 Suicide rate in prisons, 1956–1993	278
10.2 Parasuicide rate in prisons, 1965–1993	279