

Contents

1 Introduction	1
Responding to pressures	2
Relationships between tiers of government	7
Structural arrangements	9
Strategic management, steering and controlling	12
Planning and budgeting systems	13
Managing people	14
Notes	22
2 Sweden	23
Scale and scope of the public sector	23
Structure	23
Part I	26
Management processes 1	26
Management processes 2	32
Part II: Managing Change	36
Introduction: reforms and recent changes	36
Reform of the budget process	42
Acknowledgements	47
References	47
3 The United Kingdom	50
Constitution	50
Structure of the public sector	50
Non-departmental public bodies	54
Management processes	56
Market orientation	58
Conclusions	67
Notes	67
Case Study: Next Steps Agencies	69
Introduction: the next steps	69
Agencies	70

Other pressures	70
The process	71
Coverage	73
Assessment	76
Notes	82
4 The Netherlands	84
Introduction	84
Management processes	89
Managing change	103
Case Study	107
The 'Great Efficiency Operation' – the reorganization of the central government sector	107
References	111
5 France	112
Constitution	112
Management processes	112
Personnel management	116
Critique	118
Unfinished reforms	121
Conclusions	123
Practical Example	124
Management instruments	124
Management information instrument	126
Plan objectives/resources	127
Responsibility centre concept	130
References	131
6 Germany	132
Part I: Public sector modernization in Germany – recent trends and emerging strategies	132
Overview	132
Introduction	133
Current trends in the modernization of the public administration in Germany	134
An east-west division in the modernization approach	137
A 'typical' German strategy?	141
Outlook	145

Part II: New models of guidance and steering in the public administration	146
The administrative structure of the Federal Republic of Germany	146
The administrative structure of Berlin	147
Main features of the new model of guidance and steering	149
The Berlin model of guidance and steering	156
Case Study: Implementing Public Management Concepts in Local Authorities	160
Introduction	160
The process of managerial change	161
Major elements of the pilot projects	163
The first experiences with the 'new steering model'	166
Open questions, existing problems and limitations	168
Notes	170
References	170
7 Austria	172
Overview	172
Basic structures	173
Management processes	178
Personnel management	188
Administrative reforms: public administration management	196
Case Study: Reform of Austrian Universities	209
Original condition	209
New organizational structure	210
Fields of autonomy	212
Redefined tasks and committees	213
Cost accounting and controlling	214
Consequential costs of the UOL reform	216
Chances and risks resulting from the UOL reform	218
Notes	218
References	220
8 Switzerland	222
Overview	222
Basic structures	223
Management processes	230
Personnel	248
Case Study: Controlling in the Swiss Commodity Customs	259
Background	259

Project goals	259
Approach	260
Experiences	260
Effects of the implementation of controlling	261
Notes	261
References	261
Conclusions: Changing Management Practices	263
Decentralization	263
Accountability	265
Human resource management	266
Financial management	267
Management of reform programmes	269
Index	272