Contents

Tables vii
Authors ix
Acknowledgments xi

Part One. The Research Perspective: AA as a Mutual-Help Movement

1 Introduction 3
2 The place of AA among social movements 8

Part Two. Early Years and the Diffusion of AA

3 The early years of AA in the United States and Canada 19
4 The international diffusion and structure of AA 25

Part Three. AA as a Social Organization

5 Organizational principles of AA 43
6 The local structure of AA and AA as a social network 52
7 Regional and national service structure 73
8 The finances of AA 85
9 The membership of AA 96
Part Four. AA as a Belief System and a Program for Action

10 The AA program as a set of beliefs and as a program for action 117
11 The AA meeting as a speech event 133
12 Practicing the AA program 153
13 Men, women, and AA 170

Part Five. AA and the Outside World

14 AA and the professional treatment system 185
15 AA and other mutual-help movements for alcohol problems 207
16 Diffusion of the 12-step program to problems other than alcohol 216

Part Six. Conclusions

17 The AA movement in perspective 239
18 Implications for professional practice and research programming 253

Appendix A. Organization and methods of work of the International Collaborative Study of Alcoholics Anonymous (ICSAA) 259

Appendix B. Collection of interviews, observations, life stories, and other qualitative data 261

Appendix C. Group, meeting, and membership surveys 267

Appendix D. Basic AA Texts 274

References 276

Index of Personal Names 298

Subject Index 303
Tables

2.1 Mutual-aid self-help groups in the United States, by type of problem addressed 13
3.1 Milestones in the history of AA in the United States and Canada 20
4.1 AA membership, United States/Canada and worldwide, 1953–1990 26
4.2 Percentage of average annual growth of number of AA groups and members, 1954–1990 27
4.3 Percentage, by linguistic and cultural region, of AA groups and members in the world, 1965 and 1988 29
4.4 Year of first publication of the Big Book of Alcoholics Anonymous in different languages 30
4.5 Countries where AA has established an operating general service board and/or a literature distribution center, 1992 31
4.6 Influences on early beginnings of AA in study countries 32
4.7 Important dates in the history of the international service structure of AA 36
4.8 Internationally significant AA conferences and meetings, 1990 37
6.1 Sizes of AA groups in study countries 56
6.2 Members' joint activities between meetings, and collaborative projects with other groups in study countries 61
6.3 Special interest groups in study countries, 1990 66
7.1 Service structure of AA in study countries, 1990 76
7.2 Percentage of members having attended AA assemblies, conferences, and roundups 81
7.3 Arrangements supporting AA networks in study countries 83
8.1 Percentage of monthly expenses, by type, of Austrian, Finnish, Mexican, and Swedish AA groups 88
8.2 Percentage of national-level operating budget, by source, of national AA in study countries, around 1990 91
9.1 The role of existing members and professional treatment among factors most responsible for U.S. and Canadian AA members coming to their first meeting, by percentage 100
9.2 The role of existing members and professional treatment among factors contributing to AA members in study countries coming to their first meeting, by percentage 101
9.3 Membership composition of AA in study countries, by percentage 103
9.4 Types of drinking problems of members in Iceland, Poland, Sweden, and German-speaking Switzerland, by percentage 107
9.5 Percentage of AA members in study countries with short and long time spans of sobriety 110
10.1 AA slogans and mottos 122
10.2 Positive and negative qualities in AA thought systems 130
11.1 Positive politeness in AA meetings in study countries 150
12.1 Steps addressed in AA meetings in Austria and Finland and in articles in the Finnish AA journal 154
12.2 Meaning among AA members of “power greater than ourselves” as mentioned in the Twelve Steps, by percentage 159
12.3 Percentage of AA members attending worship services 160
12.4 Ways of transforming the unspeakably private into public discourse 162
12.5 Percentage of AA members experiencing sponsorship 167
12.6 Percentage of AA members performing 12th-step work 169
13.1 Percentage of women of heavy or problem drinkers in the general population, of clients in professional alcohol treatment, and of AA members in study countries 174
14.1 Relationship of AA to professional treatment systems in study countries, and role of institutional 12-step treatment, 1990 188
16.1 Selected 12-step movements in the United States 217
16.2 Membership malady characteristics of selected 12-step movements 220
16.3 Selected 12-step groups in study countries that were active in 1990 234
B.1 Written records of talks and interviews with members of mutual-help groups and with treatment professionals 263
B.2 Written records of meeting observations 264
B.3 Number of life stories collected, by background characteristics of life-story tellers 265
C.1 Target area and year of data collection in group, meeting, and membership surveys 268
C.2 Number of AA groups in target area, and sample, mode of distribution of questionnaires, number of completed questionnaires, and response rate in group survey 269
C.3 Number of AA meetings in target area, and sample, mode of distribution of questionnaires, number of completed questionnaires, and response rate in meeting survey 271
C.4 Mode of distribution of questionnaires, and number of completed questionnaires in membership survey 272