

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. THE POLITICAL AND LABOUR MARKET BACKGROUND	9
A. General characteristics	9
B. National backgrounds	10
1. Greece	11
2. Ireland	19
3. Portugal	27
2. STRUCTURE, MANAGEMENT AND MAIN FUNCTIONS OF THE PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT SERVICE	49
A. Labour market agencies and actors	49
1. Greece	49
2. Ireland	52
3. Portugal	56
4. Summary	60
B. PES autonomy, social partner involvement and mission statements	61
1. PES autonomy and strategic planning	61
2. Board structure and representation of the social partners	62
3. Mission statements	65
C. Labour market policy financing and spending	66
1. Financing and budgetary control	66
2. Comparative measures of labour market spending	69
D. Office structure, internal organisation and work methods	69
1. Greece	70
2. Ireland	71
3. Portugal	72
4. PES decentralisation and management methods	74
5. Benefit administrations in Ireland and Portugal	76
E. Office resources	77
1. Staff numbers and workload	77
2. Staff status and qualifications	80
3. National computer databases and systems	82
4. Planning and information resources	83
3. THE JOB-BROKING FUNCTION	89
A. Introduction	89
B. Active and self-service placement functions	90

1.	Framework for PES job-brokng	90
2.	General approaches to matching	90
3.	Initial job-seeker registration	93
4.	Initial vacancy registration	94
5.	The type of vacancies available and information recorded	95
6.	Screening and matching of job-seekers to vacancies	96
7.	Vacancy advertising and display and other self-service information	98
8.	Maintenance of the job-seeker register	99
9.	Special services for collective dismissals	102
C.	Employer outreach, vocational guidance, job-search aids and the counsellor's tool kit	103
1.	Employer outreach in relation to placement services	103
2.	Vocational guidance	104
3.	Job-search aids	106
4.	The employment officer's tool kit	107
D.	Recent innovations in employer and job-seeker outreach	109
1.	Employment Promotion Centres in Greece	110
2.	Local Employment Services in Ireland	111
3.	UNIVAs and Job Clubs in Portugal	113
E.	Private placement agencies	113
F.	Labour market penetration and placement patterns	114
4.	UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS AND RELATED INCOME SUPPORT	123
A.	General and historical overview	123
B.	Current unemployment benefit entitlements	129
1.	Regular UI benefits	129
2.	Extraordinary benefits in Greece	129
3.	Guaranteed income systems	131
C.	Beneficiary numbers and benefit coverage	133
D.	Implementation of labour market eligibility criteria	138
1.	Institutional background	138
2.	Application procedures and processes	139
3.	Definition of labour market eligibility criteria	141
4.	Application of labour market eligibility criteria	141
5.	Communications between placement services and the benefit administration	143
6.	Sanction frequencies and appeals	144
E.	Fraud and fraud control	145
1.	Cross-checks between official records	145
2.	Measures to tackle undeclared working	146
3.	Evidence of fraud and Ireland's anti-fraud drive	146
F.	Disability and early retirement benefits	147
1.	Invalidity benefits	148
2.	Early retirement benefits	149
5.	ACTIVE LABOUR MARKET PROGRAMMES	157
A.	Introduction	157

B.	Overview of active labour market programmes	157
1.	Spending	157
2.	Target groups	158
3.	Job-search assistance, facilitation and incentive programmes	160
C.	Subsidies to employment for youths and adults	161
1.	Subsidies to employment in the private sector	161
2.	Self-employment	164
3.	Direct job creation	165
4.	The impact of subsidised employment programmes	170
D.	Training for youths and adults	174
1.	The training market	174
2.	Youth training	179
3.	Training for adult unemployed	181
4.	Training for the employed	186

6.	SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS	199
A.	PES structure, management and main functions (Chapter 2)	199
B.	The job-broking function (Chapter 3)	204
C.	Unemployment benefits and related income support (Chapter 4)	207
D.	Active labour market programmes (Chapter 5)	209
E.	Final remarks	212

Annex:	THE ROLE AND IMPACT OF THE EUROPEAN SOCIAL FUND (ESF) AND OTHER STRUCTURAL FUNDS IN GREECE, IRELAND AND PORTUGAL	217
A.	Overview	217
B.	The ESF in the three countries reviewed	221
1.	Greece	221
2.	Ireland	223
3.	Portugal	226
C.	Elements of an assessment	228
1.	Negotiation of the national CSFs	228
2.	Implementation of the CSFs	230
3.	Global issues of EU intervention	232

NOTES	235
GLOSSARY	251
BIBLIOGRAPHY	255

LIST OF TABLES

1.1	Area, population and GDP	36
1.2	Population living abroad, 1990	37
1.3	Population aged 25 to 64 by the highest completed level of education, 1995	38
1.4	Composition of employment by main sector and professional status	39
1.5	Labour force participation rates, 1996	41
1.6	Unemployment rates	42
1.7	Composition of unemployment	43

1.8	Bargaining, wage determination and employment regulation indicators	44
1.9	Government spending and social security contribution rates, 1995	46
1.10	Social expenditure, 1995	47
2.1	Employment office networks and staff resources	86
2.2	Indicators of PES staff workload	87
3.1	Basic flows, stocks and market share indicators, 1992-96	121
3.2	PES placements into regular employment and flows into selected PES-managed labour market measures targeting the unemployed	122
4.1	Main changes to unemployment benefit entitlements in Greece, Ireland and Portugal	151
4.2	Unemployment benefit systems in 1996	153
4.3	Indicators for the benefit coverage of unemployment	155
4.4	Labour market behavioural criteria for eligibility for unemployment benefits	156
5.1	Public expenditure on labour market programmes	189
5.2	Participant flows into labour market programmes	190
5.3	Composition of expenditure on active labour market measures, 1996	191
5.4	Public expenditure and participant flows into ALMPs, Greece, 1996	192
5.5	Public expenditure and participant flows into ALMPs, Ireland, 1996	193
5.6	Public expenditure and participant flows into ALMPs, Portugal, 1996	194
5.7	Subsidy rates in various hiring subsidy schemes in Greece, Ireland and Portugal, 1996	195
5.8	Self-employment programmes in Greece, Ireland and Portugal	196
5.9	Outcomes from Irish ALMPs since 1994	198
6.1	Summary of specific policy recommendations for the three countries	200

LIST OF CHARTS

1.1	Unemployment rates according to different definitions, 1970-96	35
2.1	Greece: main actors in labour market policy	50
2.2	Ireland: main actors in labour market policy	53
2.3	Portugal: main actors in labour market policy	58
3.1	Registered unemployed and vacancies, 1980-96	116
3.2	Placements and newly registered vacancies, 1980-96	118
4.1	Unemployment and invalidity benefit recipients, 1970-96, Greece	124
4.2	Unemployment, early retirement and invalidity benefit recipients, 1970-96, Portugal	125
4.3	Unemployment, early retirement and invalidity benefit recipients, 1970-96, Ireland	126
4.4	Index of benefit entitlements, 1961-95	127
4.5	Gross replacement rates by unemployment duration, 1996	130

LIST OF BOXES

2.1	Area-based Partnerships in Ireland	55
2.2	The Local Employment Service	57
3.1	Registration of hirings and dismissals in Greece	91
4.1	Ireland's special Live Register sample in the 1996 labour force survey	135
5.1	Proposed voucher system in Greece	177