List of tables and figures vii
List of abbreviations ix
Currency equivalents xi
Preface xiii

Part I  Background and framework

one  China's social policy: background and issues 3
Introduction: the emergence of a new era 3
Chinese economic achievements and well-being 5
Understanding China and its policy issues 6
Issues specific to China 8
The structure of the book 11

two  Social policy and well-being 15
Constraints of GDP and alternative measurements 15
Human Development Index and its limitations 16
Role of subjective well-being 17
Social quality and Phillips' quality of life approach 18
Human nature and well-being 20
Conclusion 24

three  Social policy in the context of economic reforms 27
The pre-reform economic system 28
Welfare changes and economic reforms 29
Economic reforms, 1978-92 30
Social policy responses to economic reforms, 1978-92 32
Economic reforms after 1993 33
Social policy responses to economic reforms after 1993 37
Conclusion 41

four  The making of social policy in China 45
China's real policy maker: the Chinese Communist Party 45
The National People's Congress and its Standing Committee: 47
  the highest state organ of policy making
The State Council: China's principal policy maker 48
Key government departments and social policy making 50
Other actors involved in social policy 52
China's policy-making process: the case of the Labour Contract Law 54
Social policy implementation: the politics of central-local relations 55
Conclusion 56
Part 2  Key policy areas and well-being five  Social security policy  61

Social security before the economic reforms  62
Social security after the economic reforms  62
Social security and well-being  71
Conclusion  85

six  Labour policy  93
Labour policy before the economic reforms  93
Labour policy after the economic reforms  95
Market transition and unemployment in China  97
Surplus rural workers  100
Anti-unemployment policies in China  101
Labour policy and well-being  104
Conclusion  111

seven  Health policy  115
Healthcare provision before the economic reforms  115
Healthcare provision after the economic reforms  117
Healthcare reform and well-being  130
Conclusion  141

eight  Education policy  147
Education policy before the economic reforms  148
An overview of education policy in the economic reform era  149
Education policy and well-being  156
Conclusion  165

nine  Housing policy  169
Housing policy before the economic reforms  170
Housing policy during the era of economic reform  171
Land-losing farmers  179
Housing policy and well-being  180
Conclusion  188

Part 3  Conclusion

ten  Welfare reforms and well-being  195
Well-being during welfare reforms  196
Conclusion  217

Index  227
List of tables and figures

Tables

1.1 China’s composition
2.1 Key areas for achieving autonomy and mutuality
3.1 A selection of company forms in China
3.2 The historical development of China’s economic reforms since 1978
5.1 The design of the pension scheme for employees of urban enterprises (2006)
5.2 The original design of rural pensions (1991) and later changes up to 2002
5.3 The development of rural pension schemes since 1992
5.4 The replacement rates of old age pensions in different regions (2003)
5.5 Caring and help received by poor families
5.6 Migrants with temporary residence permits in urban areas
5.7 Multidimensional indicators of hardship
5.8 The monthly rate of the MSLS in 36 cities of China (May 2005)
6.1 Registered urban unemployment in China (1987-2005)
6.2 Number of laid-off workers (1993-2002)
7.1 Composition of hospital incomes in China (1980-2000) (%)
7.2 Medical insurance subsidies to different target groups in Jilin’s pilot scheme
7.3 The qualifications and medical institutions of doctors (2002)
7.4 National health expenditure by resources in China (1980-2001)
7.5 Types of health insurance schemes and coverage in China (2003) (%)
7.6 Discounted items for poor patients in nine hospitals
8.1 Enrolment rate of school-age children in primary schools (1965-2004)
8.2 Regular higher education institutions and enrolled students (1990-2005)
8.3 Affiliation of regular higher education institutions (HEIs) (1997-2004)
8.4 Main types of private education provision in China (2005)
8.5 Gender inequality in Chinese education (2004)
9.1 Growth of extra-budgetary funds (1952-91)
9.2 Rural house building (1978-89)
9.3 The housing conditions of rural households (1990-2004)
9.4 Housing choices of temporary and permanent migrants and local residents (%)
9.5 Differences in housing conditions between temporary migrants and local residents in Shanghai and Beijing
10.1 The extent to which physical needs are met by state welfare
10.2 The extent of the achievement of equal value for China’s citizens
10.3 The extent to which welfare policies meet psychological needs
10.4 The extent to which the welfare system achieves social integration
Social policy in China

10.5 Filling caring duties for children 208
10.6 The extent of achieving learning and development 209
10.7 The extent to which the welfare system enables self-determination 211
10.8 Evidence on the degree of a just polity 213

Figures

1.1 Governmental administrative structure of China 8
4.1 The CCP's central organisation 46
4.2 Organisation of the State Council 49
7.1 Main structure of the urban health sector in China (2003) 118