Muslims and Others in Early Islamic Society

edited by
Robert Hoyland
CONTENTS

Acknowledgements vii

General Editor’s Preface xi

Introduction xiii

1. Religious Communities in Late Sasanian and Early Muslim Iraq
   Michael G. Morony 1

2. Dhimmah in Qur’ān and Hadith
   Mahmoud Ayoub 25

3. The Legislative Autonomy of Christians in the Islamic World
   Néophyte Edelby 37

4. How Dhimmīs Were Judged in the Islamic World
   Antoine Fattal 83

5. Problems of Differentiation between Muslims and Non-Muslims: Re-reading the “Ordinances of ‘Umar” (Al-Shurūʿ al-ʻumariyya)
   Albrecht Noth 103

6. “Do not Assimilate Yourselves ...” Lā tashabbahū ...
   M.J. Kister 125

7. Minority Selfrule and Government Control in Islam
   S.D. Goitein 159

8. Comparative Religion in the Apologetics of the First Christian
   Arabic Theologians
   Sidney H. Griffith 175

9. Jewish Polemics against Islam and Christianity in the Light of Judaeo-Arabic Texts
   Sarah Stroumsa 201
10. Muslim Studies of Other Religions: The Medieval Period
Jacques Waardenburg

11. Christian Polemic and the Formation of Islamic Dogma
C.H. Becker

12. Socio-Economic History and Islamic Studies: Problems of Bias in the Adaptation of the Indigenous Population to Islam
Claude Cahen

13. Mawlas: Freed Slaves and Converts in Early Islam
Daniel Pipes

14. Conversion in Early Islamic Egypt: The Economic Factor
Gladys Frantz-Murphy

15. Questions Concerning the Mazdaeans of Muslim Iran
Jean de Menasce

General Index