

A CULTURAL TRAVEL GUIDE TO THE PORT CITIES OF ANTWERP, HAMBURG & ROTTERDAM

Eric Van Hooydonk & Patrick Verhoeven

4	PORT CULTURE AND PORT TOURISM – A MISSION FOR SOCIETY	11
	HOW TO NAVIGATE THE PORTS PORTABLE	12
	This is not a city guide, but a port city guide	12
	Mind the dock.....	12
	Ports change	12
	Port pubs, restaurants, hotels and more	13
	IF THIS IS YOUR FIRST CALL...	14
	Parts of a port.....	14
	Shipspotting	15
	Who does what in a port ?	16
	A port is not a man's world	17
	A decent glossary of Dutch and German Portese	18
	THE HAMBURG-LE HAVRE PORT RANGE – ETERNAL COMPETITORS ON THE NORTH SEA COAST	19
	Gateways to the European heartland.....	19
	The many faces of port competition	19
	Common historical influences and exchanges	20
	Facing similar challenges today	21
	The struggle for port capacity.....	21
	Corporatisation of port authorities and port cooperation	22
	Waterfront development and regeneration of port cities	23
	ANTWERP, HAMBURG AND ROTTERDAM – COMPARE FOR YOURSELF	24

ANTWERP, THE FINEST

Antwerp, a broad view of the world – Foreword by Marc Van Peel and Eddy Bruyninckx	30
The world capital of port culture	31

THE PORT'S PAST AND FUTURE	34
From deepest depths to highest heights	34
Prehistoric times – 10th century: From Roman settlement to merchant town	34
11th-15th centuries: The emergence of an international seaport	35
1490-1585: Antwerp's Golden Age – The New York of the 16th century	37
1585-1792: Disaster and decline – The river Scheldt closed for over two centuries	42
1792-1863: The phoenix years	44
1863-1914: A world port again	47
1918-1940: A success story in spite of setbacks	50
1945-1990: The Ten-Year Plan and growing traffic, but also despair	52
From the 1990s: Full steam ahead!	53

CITY ON THE RIVER – THE OLD HARBOUR QUARTERS	56
The Antwerp waterfront in transition	57
The city hesitantly returns to the riverside	57
The Scheldt quays – A sample sheet of architectural styles	58
Grote Markt – Symbols of navigation, trade and labour	61
Traces of the oldest port facilities	65
Schipperskwartier – A seductive piece of Antwerp	67
The heart of the old Schipperskwartier	68
When red lights fade	70
Looking for port traces downtown	72
Students of art, literature, commerce and life	72
Modern trade metropolis	76
Sint-Andrieskwartier – The parish of misery	80
Kloosterstraat – Antwerp's Portobello Road	80
Fashion addicts replace dockworkers and fishmongers	82
Het Zuid – The most trendy part of town	84
From citadel to port district to urban hype	84
The old Zuid quarter – Exhibition space for 19th-century Antwerp port pride	85
Nieuw Zuid and Petroleum-Zuid – The choice between urban development and industrial archaeology	90

ON AND AROUND HET EILANDJE – A NEW TOWN RE-INVENTS ITSELF	93
450 years of port city development	93
Nieuwstadt – Genesis of the first Antwerp docks	93
A 16th-century public-private partnership	93
A stroll along the warehouse boulevard	97
Natives move extra muros	99
Napoleon's military stronghold becomes a beacon of port culture	102
Het Eilandje – A series of dock islands	107
Old docklands rediscovered	108
The Montevideo area – Iron Rhine meets Red Star Line	109
From Siberia to Mexico	111
The Cadix quarter – Dockworkers' town	114
The Dam quarter – A forgotten island	117

THE PORT ON THE RIGHT BANK – ANTWERP'S TRIPLE JUMP TOWARDS THE SEA.....120

The secret of the port's layout – Canal docks as river bypasses	120
Amerikadok and Noordkasteel – Relics of the stranglehold of Antwerp's fortifications	121
Albertdok – The first canal dock with side docks	124
Giant docks in the middle section of the port – Leopolddok, Vierde Havendok and Vijfde Havendok	125
The petroleum and ship repair port	127
The multifaceted labyrinth of Hansadok, Zesde Havendok and Churchilldok	129
Van Cauwelaertsluis and Boudewijnsluis – Antwerp's first leap towards the sea	130
industry, bulk and containers at Kanaaldok and Delwaidedok	131
Lillo-Fort – A historical oasis in the port area	134
Zandvlietsluis, Berendrechtssluis and the Scheldt container terminals – Antwerp's closest approach to the sea	136

THE LEFT BANK – THE FUTURE OF THE PORT.....142

Polder landscape in evolution	142
City expansion on the left bank – From Head of Flanders to ville radieuse	143
Sint-Anneke becomes a popular Sunday destination	143
The failure of urban development plans	145
Utopia achieved - The port expands to the left bank	148
Development and structure of the port area on the left bank	148
Waaslandhaven-Oost – Petrochemical industry and dredging know-how	149
Waaslandhaven-Zuid – The roots of left bank port activity	152
Waaslandhaven-Noord – Logistical fortress and den of container giants	154
Doel – Is there life after 2007?	159
The future of the port of Antwerp lies on the left bank	160

6

HAMBURG, THE PROUDEST

Universitäts- und
Landesbibliothek
Darmstadt

Hamburg, Tor zur Welt – Foreword by Gunnar Uldall and Manfred Reuter	178
The world capital of port pride	179

THE PORT'S PAST AND FUTURE.....182

The right people at the right time	182
7th-11th centuries: Hammaburg and the Alster port	182
7 May 1189: The birth of the port	183
1230-1528: The Hanseatic period	184
1528-1799: A steady course in unsteady times	186
1799-1862: Standstill and disaster	188
1862-1914: The emergence of a modern port	190
1918-1945: Recovery, depression and catastrophe	194
1945-1970: Redevelopment	195
1970-2006: Regaining world status	198

FROM ALSTER PORT TO SPEICHERSTADT - THE OLD CITY PORTS.....202

The city recovers the port area on the north bank	202
In search of Hamburg's oldest port facilities	203
Traces of the ancient Alster port in Altstadt	203
Binnenhafen – The port moved to the Elbe	207
Under the protection of the Michel	208

Niederhafen – Hamburg's visiting card	210
The Kontorhausviertel and the eastern harbour connection	214
HafenCity – The oldest modern port returns to the city	218
Two centuries of creative port and city planning	218
Discovering HafenCity	221
Speicherstadt – The city of warehouses	228
The Freeport needs storage capacity	229
Old immigrant quarters have to disappear	230
A stylish and technically advanced city	231
A tour through the world of merchants, Quartiersleute and customs officers	233
The future of the Freeport and Speicherstadt	236

THE THRIVING FREIHAFEN ON THE SOUTH BANK – AND BEYOND

The secret of the South Bank's layout – An archipelago of Elbe Islands	238
From Danish territory to Hamburg Freeport	238
Veddel and surroundings – The growing cultural significance of an old seaport	240
The tidal docks – A port museum amidst industrial fervour	240
Dockworkers' district and emigration barracks	244
Steinwerder and Ross – From shipyards and private port to container terminal	246
Neuhof, Kattwyk and Hohe Schaar – Land of silos, tanks and port bridges	251
Waltershof – Island of ten million containers	254
Altenwerder – A high-tech container terminal with village church	256
Moorburg – The final countdown	260
Finkenwerder – Fishing village alongside a world port	260
Wilhelmsburg – Reservoir of factory workers	262
Harburg – Citadel port and industrial city	266
The unique castle or citadel port	266
Schloßstraße and Schellerdamm – At the heart of the port area's revival	270
The industrial seaport	272

FROM ST. PAULI TO BLANKENESE – A PORT BIOTOPE OF WHORES AND HIGH SOCIETY

St. Pauli – Red light district and tourist port	274
From rough sailors' quarter to nostalgic seaport kitsch	274
St. Pauli Landungsbrücken – Hamburg's number one postcard image	275
St. Pauli Elbtunnel – A fully operational port-engineering monument	276
St. Pauli Hafenkronen – Maritime institutions from the Emperor's days	276
St. Pauli Fischmarkt – Hamburg's former fishing village	277
Reeperbahn – The most (in)famous street in the world?	278
The unique port front between Altona and Blankenese	280
The port of Altona – Yet another competitor devoured by Hamburg	281
Altona's bustling fishing port	281
Altona's balcony onto the port	285
Neumühlen – Glass pearls on the Elbe	285
Övelgönne – A pilots' village with beach	287
Teufelsbrück – A legendary landing stage	288
Nienstedten – World-class chefs and legal experts	290
The Louis C. Jacob – Pinnacle of Hanseatic port flair	290
The International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea – The one and only world maritime court	291
Mühlenberg and Dockenhuden – The great shipowners' and merchants' parks	292
Blankenese – From fishing village to the Montevideo of the North	293
Schulau and Wedel – More port curiosa	295

ROTTERDAM, THE BIGGEST

Welcome to Rotterdam ! – Foreword by Roelf de Boer and Hans Smits	312
The world capital of port business	313
THE PORT'S PAST AND FUTURE	316
From fishing village to mercantile town to the world's biggest port	316
The port settlement at the dam in the river Rotte	316
Regional place of commerce thanks to the city privileges granted in 1299 and 1340	317
1570-1795: Rotterdam's rise to the second mercantile city of Holland	321
1795-1830: Decline and stagnation under French rule and the United Kingdom of the Netherlands	328
1830-1918: Nieuwe Waterweg and the leap to the south – Taking the bull by the horns	328
1918-1945: A difficult interwar period resulting in trauma	332
1945-2005: Botlek, Europoort, Maasvlakte – Big, bigger, biggest	333
Towards Tweede Maasvlakte in a new guise	337
THE ROTTERDAM CITY – MANHATTAN ON THE MEUSE	339
Rotterdam Work City – An unfair label	339
Landstad – The heartbeat of Rotterdam's business world	340
Waterstad – Age-old docks in new dress	344
Scheepvaartkwartier – 19th-century port style and standing	350
THE OLD-DUTCH HARBOUR TOWNS – A STRING OF PEARLS ALONG THE MEUSE	357
The eternal issue of control over the shipping channel	357
Delfshaven – Historical harbour, flashy docklands and modern general cargo terminals	357
Lloydkwartier and Mullerpijp	358
Historical Delfshaven	361
Vierhavens and Driehavens	364
Schiedam – Historical port for the Jenever and shipbuilding industries	366
Historical Schiedam	367
The modern harbour basins of Schiedam	369
Vlaardingen – A collection of curiosities along Nieuwe Maas	370
Maassluis – A unique historical towage centre	373
Hook of Holland – Front-row shipspotting in Europe's biggest port	376
KOP VAN ZUID – THE ROTTERDAM DOCKLANDS	379
Traces of port culture in Rotterdam Zuid	379
Plincoffs City – The docklands of Feijenoord	380
The Entrepot area – From mercantile to transit port	381
MS Noordereiland	384
The little smelly docks of Feijenoord	387
Rijnhaven and Maashaven – Mass transit of cargo and emigrants	390
Wilhelminapier – Shop window of Kop van Zuid	391
Katendrecht – A sailor's lost paradise	396
Quiet village turned into expensive fishing pond	397
Germ cell of the international dockworkers' union	398
Europe's once largest Chinatown	399
The red lights of De Kaap fade away	400
Traces of port activity around Rijnhaven and Maashaven	402
FROM WAALHAVEN TO TWEDE MAASVLAKTE – THE LURE OF THE NORTH SEA	404
A vast docklands spanning 45 kilometres between city and sea	404
Waalhaven and Eemhaven – The last traditional harbour basins	409
The Waalhaven plan – The legacy of De Jongh	409
Charlois or Sjaarloos ?	406
Around Waalhaven	407
RDM – The demise of a historical shipyard	411
Eemhaven – Cradle of containerisation	413
Petroleumhavens and Botlek – Heartbeat of Rotterdam's port industry	418
The oil industry casts anchor	418
Pernis – A fishing village in the shadow of the petrochemical industry	417
Botlekhavens – The first post-war port expansion project	419
Europoort and Maasvlakte – Size matters	423

The port of Rotterdam reaches the North Sea	423
Landtong Rozenburg – Port education and recreation	423
Europoort – Transit hub for oil	425
Maasvlakte – The sea makes way for the port	429
Tweede Maasvlakte – The greatest port expansion challenge to Rotterdam since 1970	432
Shall the port of Rotterdam expand all the way to Harwich?	433

PORTS

Port
Mar
Pla
Por
Rce
Hav
St
Pa
Ma
Ni
Fe
Ca

WAVING GOODBYE

Paying our harbour dues	450
Dredged material	451
Selected bibliography	451
Image acknowledgment	455
Index	457
Disclaimer and contact information	473

MAPS

European Union	inside front cover
Hamburg – Le Havre Port Range	inside back cover
Port of Antwerp	32-33
Port of Hamburg	180-181
Port of Rotterdam	314-315