Why Foucault?

New Directions in Educational Research

Edited by Michael A. Peters & Tina (A.C) Besley
Preface ........................................................................................................................................... vii

1. Introduction: Why Foucault? New Directions in Educational Research ......................................................... 1
   Michael A. Peters and Tina (A.C.) Besley

2. Michel Foucault: Educational Research as Problematisation. ................................................................. 15
   James D. Marshall

3. Freedom and Discipline: Transformations in Pedagogic Punishment .......................................................... 29
   Ludwig Pongratz

4. Pedagogy and Self-Concern in Master-Student Relationships in Antiquity .................................................. 43
   Thomas Coelen

5. Foucault, Truth-Telling and Technologies of the Self: Confessional Practices of the Self and Schools .......... 55
   Tina (A.C.) Besley

6. Paradox of Capacity and Power: Critical Ontology and the Developmental Model of Childhood ............... 71
   James Wong

7. Social Work as Government—A Power Analytical Perspective ................................................................. 91
   Fabian Kessl

8. The “Intrapreneur” and the “Mother”: Strategies of “Fostering” and “Developing” the Entrepreneur of the Self in Organizational Development and Affirmative Action ........................................... 101
   Susanne Maria Weber

9. Thinking Governmentality ‘from below’: Social Work and Social Movements as (Collective) Actors in Movable/Mobile Orders ........................................................................................................ 125
   Susanne Maurer
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chapter</th>
<th>Page</th>
<th>Authors</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>10. Only Love for the Truth Can Save Us: Truth-Telling at the (World)university?</td>
<td>139</td>
<td>Maarten Simons and Jan Masschelein</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13. Critically Framing Education Policy: Foucault, Discourse and Governmentality</td>
<td>193</td>
<td>Robert Doherty</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notes on Contributors</td>
<td>227</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index</td>
<td>233</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>