Plenary Lectures

Introduction: The Concept of the Symposium
OGAWA, Tohru; HUSIMI, Kōdi; MIURA, Koryo; MASUNARI, Takashi; and NAGY, Dénes .......... 3

Katachi and Symmetry: Towards Interdisciplinary and Intercultural Cooperation
OGAWA, Tohru ............................................................................................. 7

The Western Symmetry and the Japanese Katachi Shake Hands:
Interdisciplinary Study of Symmetry and Morphological Science (Formology)
NAGY, Dénes .............................................................................................. 27

Growth and Form
MACKAY, Alan L .......................................................................................... 47

The Sun, the Moon, and the Eyeball — A Cosmic Correspondence
SUGIURA, Kohei ......................................................................................... 63

Symmetry in Mon and Mon-yō: Artisans Preceded Mathematicians
HUSIMI, Kōdi .............................................................................................. 75

Development and Modification of the “Holy Symmetrical Design” — West and East of the “Silk Road” —
Prince MIKASA, Takahito ........................................................................... 81

Dichotomies and Trichotomies in the Eastern and Western Cultures
DARVAS, György ......................................................................................... 91
