Contents

Foreword vii
Preface ix

CHAPTER 1 COMMUNICATORS AS INFORMATION SEEKERS: MODELS OF THE SEARCH PROCESS 1

Information-Related Changes in Mass Communication 2
   Technology Convergence 2, New Language 2, New Jobs 5, New Connections 6, New Quality Demands 6, New Content Demands 8, New Time Problems 8, New Phobia 8, Constancy, along with Change 9
The Search Strategy: An Intellectual Tool for Communicators 11
The Roles and Uses of Models 12
Search-Strategy Models: Simple and Expanded 14
   Question Analysis 15, Potential Contributors of Information 17, Interviews 24, Selection and Synthesis 25, Message 26
Literary Conventions: Storytelling and the Media 27
Constraints on Communicators 28
   Legal and Social Constraints 28, Time and Resource Constraints 29
Information Needs of the Audience 30
The Search-Strategy Model in a Mass-Communication Context 31
Notes 31
CONTENTS

CHAPTER 2 WHAT'S THE QUESTION? 33
- How to Talk about the Topic 37
- Drawing Disciplinary Boundaries 39
- Narrowing the Topic 42
- What's New about the Topic? 45
- Question Analysis and Information Subsidies 46
- Links to the Search Strategy 48
- Notes 49

CHAPTER 3 CONSULTING PEOPLE AND OBSERVING THE WORLD 51
- Networks of Informal Sources 52
- The Virtual Watercooler 55
- Informal Files and References 58
- Casual Reading 59
- Personal Memory as an Informal Source 61
- Communicators as Observers 62
  - Types of Observation 63, Developing Observation Techniques 71, Recording the Observations 73
- Recognizing Conditions for Distortion 73
- Links to the Search Strategy 74
- Notes 75

CHAPTER 4 DIGGING INTO INSTITUTIONS 77
- How and Why Institutions Produce Information 80
- Public and Private Information 81
- Institutional Bias in Information 82
- Major Types of Institutions 84
  - Private-Sector Institutions 85, Public-Sector Institutions 94
- Following the Paper and Electronic Trails 104
- Publicity and Privacy 109
- Links to the Search Strategy 111
- Notes 112

CHAPTER 5 APPROACHING LIBRARIES: TACTICS AND TOOLS 113
- The Library's Place in the Search Process 115
- Public Libraries 117
- Academic Libraries 118
CONTENTS

Special Libraries 119
Archives 120
Media-Organization Libraries 121
Decoding the Structure of Information in Library Collections 125
How Libraries Organize Information 127
  Classification Systems 127, Subject Classification of Information in Libraries 129, What Library Organization Schemes Mean to the Communicator 131
Major Tools for Access to Information in Libraries 131
  One-Step Library Tools 132, Two-Step Library Tools 139
The Library and the Librarian in the Message-Making Process 159
Links to the Search Strategy 161
Notes 161

CHAPTER 6 USING ELECTRONIC INFORMATION AND DATA TOOLS 163

What Communicators Can Do with Electronic Information and Data Tools 165
Information-Surfing Tools in Depth 167
  Local or Stand-Alone Bulletin Board Systems 168, Commercial Database Services 170, Internetworked Systems 178
Data-Crunching Tools in Depth 189
Quality Issues and Caveats 191
Using Electronic Information and Data Tools in Media Organizations 194
  Electronic Information and Data Tools in News 194, Electronic Information and Data Tools in Public Relations 201, Electronic Information and Data Tools in Advertising 204, Electronic Information and Data Tools in Academic Settings 208
Links to the Search Strategy 210
Notes 211

CHAPTER 7 INTERVIEWING 213

Types of Interviews 215
The Place of Interviews in the Search Process 219
Preparing for Interviews 222
  Selecting Interviewees 222, Planning Interviews 225
Conducting Interviews 230
  Rituals and Routines for Interviewers 230, Sources of Interview Error 231, Being Interviewed 236
Mass-Communication Interviews 236
CHAPTER 8 USING POLLS AND SURVEYS 251

The Search Strategy and the Poll or Survey 253
Uses of Polls and Surveys 253
Organizations That Conduct Polls and Surveys 255, Where to Locate Poll and Survey Information 259, Evaluating Polls and Surveys 262, Interpreting Poll and Survey Information 270
Caveats to the Communicator 272
Links to the Search Strategy 283
Notes 283

CHAPTER 9 SELECTING AND SYNTHESIZING INFORMATION 285

Selecting and Appraising Information 288
Critical Thinking 288, Climate of Opinion 294, Standards 295
Synthesizing and Organizing Information 305
Links to the Search Strategy 308
Notes 309

CHAPTER 10 SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND THE SEARCH STRATEGY 311

The Social Responsibility Context 320
The Societal Perspective 321, The Professional and Organizational Perspectives 329, The Individual Perspective 335
The Search Strategy and Social Responsibility 337
Notes 338

Afterword 341

Following the Model: A Case Study of the Search-Strategy Process in Action 343

General Index 359

Topical Tool Index 368