Media Ethics

Edited by Matthew Kieran
Contents

Notes on contributors
Introduction

1 Journalism and ethics: can they co-exist?
Andrew Belsey

2 The journalism of attachment
Martin Bell

3 Objectivity, impartiality and good journalism
Matthew Kieran

4 The problem of humbug
Mary Midgley

5 Journalism, politics and public relations: an ethical appraisal
Brian McNair

6 The myth of Saddam Hussein: new militarism and the propaganda function of the human interest story
Richard Keeble

7 Privacy, the public interest and a prurient public
David Archard

8 Beyond Calcutt: the legal and extra-legal protection of privacy interests in England and Wales
Ian Cram

9 Taming the tabloids: market, moguls and media regulation
Bob Franklin and Rod Pilling

10 Ethical photojournalism in the age of the electronic darkroom
Nigel Warburton

11 Is the medium a (moral) message?
Noël Carroll
Contents

12 Sex and violence in fact and fiction
  Gordon Graham

13 Censorship and the media
  Anthony Ellis

  Select bibliography
  Index

152
165
179
187