Competition in Telecommunications

Jean-Jacques Laffont
Jean Tirole

The MIT Press
Cambridge, Massachusetts
London, England
Contents

Series Foreword vii
Laudation for Jean Tirole ix
Preface xiii
Acknowledgments xvii

1 Setting the Stage 1
  1.1 Introduction 1
  1.2 A Brief Guided Tour through the Telecommunications Industry 9
  1.3 Regulatory Reforms 16

2 Incentive Regulation 37
  2.1 Economic Principles: Performance-Based Regulation 38
  2.2 Economic Principles: Pricing Services to the Consumer 60
  2.3 Practical Aspects 84

3 Essential Facility and One-Way Access: Theory 97
  3.1 Background 97
  3.2 Economic Principles 100
  3.3 Refining the Theory: Lack of Instruments and Multiple Goals for Interconnection Charges 124
  3.4 Two Specific Concerns and Some Common Misperceptions about Ramsey Access Pricing 131

4 Essential Facility and One-Way Access: Policy 137
  4.1 General Issues for the Design of Access Policies 137
  4.2 Backward-Looking Cost-Based Pricing of Access 141
  4.3 Regulated and Deregulated Segments: The Problem of Cross-Subsidies 144
4.4 Forward-Looking Cost-Based Pricing of Access 148
4.5 Cost-Based Access Pricing and Exclusion 161
4.6 ECPR and Its Applications 166
4.7 Global Price Cap 170
4.8 Global Price Cap and Incentives to Exclude 173

5 Multiple Bottlenecks and Two-Way Access 179
   with Patrick Rey
   5.1 Background 179
   5.2 Ineffectiveness of Noncooperative Access Price Setting 184
   5.3 Do Wholesale Agreements Promote Retail Collusion? The Patent Pool Analogy 187
   5.4 Application to Two-Way Access Pricing in Telecommunications 189
   5.5 Four Reasons Why High Access Charges May Not Facilitate Collusion 196
   5.6 Unbundling- and Facilities-Based Entry 207
   5.7 Alternative Policies 213

6 Universal Service 217
   6.1 The Need for a New Paradigm 217
   6.2 The Foundations of Universal Service 219
   6.3 The U.S. Telecommunications Act of 1996 and Universal Service Obligations 231
   6.4 Universal Service Auctions 243

7 Concluding Remarks 265
   7.1 Internet and Internet Telephony 265
   7.2 Regulatory Institutions 272

Glossary 281
References 289
Index 299