A LIFE OF MAGIC CHEMISTRY

Autobiographical Reflections of a Nobel Prize Winner

George A. Olah
Contents

Preface ix

Chapter 1. Introduction 1

Chapter 2. Perspectives on Science 4

Chapter 3. Chemistry: The Multifaceted Central Science 21

Chapter 4. Growing up in Hungary and Turning to Chemistry 38

Chapter 5. Early Research and Teaching: Departing the Shadow of Emil Fischer 51

Chapter 6. Move to North America: Industrial Experience While Pursuing the Elusive Cations of Carbon 64

Chapter 7. Return to Academia—The Cleveland Years: Carbocations, Magic Acid, and Superacid Chemistry 84

Chapter 8. Moving to Los Angeles: Building the Loker Institute—Hydrocarbons and Hydrocarbon Research 108

Chapter 10. From Kekulé’s Four-Valent Carbon to Five- and Higher-Coordinate Hypercarbon Chemistry 153

Chapter 11. The Nobel Prize: Learning to Live with It and Not Rest on Laurels 169

Chapter 12. Post-Nobel Years: From Superacids to Superelectrophiles 188

Chapter 14. Gone My Way 222

Appendix My Previous Books for References and Additional Reading 259

Index 261