The Ethics of Banking
Conclusions from the Financial Crisis

by

PETER KOSLOWSKI
VU University Amsterdam, The Netherlands

Translated from German by

DEBORAH SHANNON

Springer
Contents

Part I Foundations of Business and Finance Ethics

1 Ethical Economy, Economic Ethics, Business Ethics:
   - Foundations of Finance Ethics ........................................... 3
   - Purely Economic Economics Versus Ethical Economy ............. 3
   - The Justification of Ethical Duties from the Nature of the Matter . 5
   - Business Ethics and the Fiduciary Duties of the Manager .......... 9

Part II The Ethical Economy and Finance Ethics of the Markets for Credit, Capital, Corporate Control, and Derivatives

2 The Ethical Economy of the Credit Market ............................... 17
   - Purpose and Task of the Credit Market ................................. 17
     - The Purpose of the Bank for Deposit Customers, as the Bank's Creditors .................................................. 18
     - The Purpose of the Bank for Credit Customers, as the Bank’s Debtors ............................................................. 19
     - Task of the Bank: Intermediating Between Its Creditors and Debtors ................................................................. 19
     - Schuldverhältnisse: Relationships of Schuld, of Guilt, Debt, or Obligation. Excursus with Reference to an Equivocation in the German Language ....................................................... 21
     - Task of the Bank: Transforming Time Periods and Bearing Risk . 23
   - Duties of Banks Arising from the Nature of Their Tasks to Facilitate Payments and to Enable Credit ................................. 24
     - Duties Arising from the Bank's Task to Facilitate Payments and Safeguard Liquid Funds ........................................... 24
     - Duties Arising from the Task of the Bank to Transform Deposits into Loans .......................................................... 26
3 The Ethical Economy of the Capital Market

The Globalization of the Capital Market

Globalization Extends the Simultaneity of Space and Compresses the Non-Simultaneous Nature of Human Time

Globalization of the Capital Market as the Driver of Globalization of the World

Values and Valuations in the Capital Market

Which Values Should Determine the Actions of Financial Intermediaries in the Capital Market?

On the Ethics of Financial Consulting

The Tasks of the Capital Market and the Duties of the Participants in the Capital Market

Speculation and Finance Ethics

The Functions of Speculation in the Capital Market: Bearing Uncertainty and Risk as Well as Enabling the Division of Labor Between Calculation and Speculation

4 Insider Knowledge and Insider Trading as Central Problems of Finance Ethics

Insider Trading as Pseudo-Speculation and Agiotage

Arbitrage, Speculation, Agiotage

Insider Trading and the Fiduciary Relationship

Insider Trading as Perverse Incentive

Insider Trading and Short-Termism

Insider Trading and the Duty of Ad Hoc Publicity

Detrimental Effects of Insider Trading on Allocation, Distribution, and Stability

Experiences After the Entry into Force of the Laws Against Insider Trading in Germany

The Abuse of Insider Knowledge as a Form of Corruption

Ethical Duties of the Investor and of the Firm Quoted on the Capital Market

5 The Ethical Economy of the Market for Corporate Control and for Corporate Know-How

Hostile and Friendly Takeovers: The Finance Ethics of Corporate Control and Corporate Takeovers

Mergers and Acquisitions: The Capital Market as a Market for Corporate Knowledge and Know-How

Hostile and Friendly Takeovers and the Importance of the Global Competition Between Management Teams

Corporate Governance by Self-Control Through Stakeholder Consensus, and Corporate Governance by Competition from Outsiders: The German and the Anglo-American Model of Corporate Governance
6 The Ethical Economy of the Market for Derivatives: Trading with Values Derived from Other Values for Hedging, Speculation, and Arbitrage ........................................ 83
   Futures and Options: Non-Conditioned and Conditioned Forward Transactions .................................................. 85
   Variants of Derivatives: Futures, Options, Swaps, Structured Finance and Investment Products ................................. 86
      Non-Conditioned Futures and Forwards ........................................... 87
      Conditioned Futures: Options ................................................... 87
      Swaps: A Sequence of Forwards or Options .................................. 87
      Interest Rate Swaps ................................................................ 88
      Credit-Default Swaps ................................................................ 88
      The Collateralized Debt Obligation as a Structured Finance Product and an Instrument of Credit Enhancement ........ 89
   The Functions of Speculation in the Derivatives Market: Enabling the Division of Labor Between Hedging and Speculation ..... 92

7 Interdependences Between the Financial Markets for Credit, Capital, and Derivatives, and the Challenges the Financial Markets Pose for Ethics ................................................. 97
   A Capital Market Within Banks in Bank-Controlled Industries: The Corporatist Model .............................................. 97
   The Information and Influence Asymmetry Between Banks and Manufacturing Firms: Banks as Monitors of Their Debtors' Firms ................................................................. 99
   The Intangibility of the Merchandise Traded in Financial Markets as an Ethical Problem ............................................. 100

8 The “Banking Secret”, the Right to Privacy, and the Banks’ Duty to Confidentiality .................................................... 105
   The Protection of Facts Communicated Under Confidentiality ..... 105
   Banking Secrecy, the Investigation of Tax Avoidance, Tax Evasion, Money Laundering, and the Discussion Around the Swiss “Banking Secret” ........................................ 106
   Banking Secrecy, the Right to Privacy, and the State: Thoughts on Political Philosophy .............................................. 113
      The Dualism of Private and Public, of Society and State ............... 113
      Protection of the Distinction Between Private and Public as a Consequence of Skepticism About Humans as Political Beings ...... 115

9 Financial Wagers, Hyper-Speculation and Shareholder Primacy ................................................................. 119
   Wager or Gambling: What Is Speculation? ...................................... 119
After the American Financial Overstretch – Have We Reached the End of the Washington Consensus? ......................................................... 172
The Failure of Economics and Management Science ........................................ 176
"Wealth in the Hands of Others": The Outsourcing of Asset Management and the Growth of Financial Intermediation as Causes of the Financial Crisis ........................................ 179
The Financial Crisis – Systems Crisis or Action Crisis? ........................................ 183
The Way Out of Financial Crises ................................................................. 189

References ........................................................................................................ 197

Name Index ....................................................................................................... 211