Physical Environments and Aging: Critical Contributions of M. Powell Lawton to Theory and Practice

Rick J. Scheidt
Paul G. Windley
Editors

Physical Environments and Aging: Critical Contributions of M. Powell Lawton to Theory and Practice has been co-published simultaneously as Journal of Housing for the Elderly, Volume 17, Numbers 1/2 2003.
Physical Environments and Aging: Critical Contributions of M. Powell Lawton to Theory and Practice

CONTENTS

Introduction 1
Rick J. Scheidt
Paul G. Windley

M. Powell Lawton’s Three Dilemmas in the Field of Environment and Aging 5
Benyamin Schwarz

Vision and Values: M. Powell Lawton and the Philosophical Foundations of Environment-Aging Studies 23
Gerald D. Weisman
Keith Diaz Moore

Powell Lawton’s Contributions to Purpose-Built Housing Design for the Elderly 39
Victor Regnier

Many Meanings of Community: Contributions of M. Powell Lawton 55
Rick J. Scheidt
Carolyn Norris-Baker

Powell Lawton’s Contributions to Long-Term Care Settings 67
Margaret P. Calkins

Quality of Life and Place-Therapy 85
Habib Chaudhury
Advancements in the Home Modification Field: A Tribute to M. Powell Lawton
Jon Pynoos
Christy Nishita
Lena Perelman

The Human Factors of Aging and the Micro-Environment: Personal Surroundings, Technology and Product Development
Joseph A. Koncelik

Toward Measuring Proactivity in Person-Environment Transactions in Late Adulthood: The Housing-Related Control Beliefs Questionnaire
Frank Oswald
Hans-Werner Wahl
Mike Martin
Heidrun Mollenkopf

Index