Contents

Contributors ......................................................... xi
Foreword .............................................................. xiii
Preface ................................................................. xv
About Herbert C. Kelman ........................................ xvii

Part I. Theoretical Foundations 1

1. The Contributions of Herbert C. Kelman: Reinvigorating Lewin and Anticipating Dynamical Systems Models .......................... 3
   Reuben M. Baron

2. Social Psychology: Social or Sociological? ............................ 21
   José R. Torregrosa
   Comments on Chapters 1 and 2 ........................................ 41
   Susan H. Korper

3. Prejudice: Toward a More Inclusive Understanding .................. 45
   Alice H. Eagly

4. Identification as a Challenge to Dual-Process Theories of Persuasion ......................................................... 65
   V. Lee Hamilton
   Comments on Chapters 3 and 4 ........................................ 77
   Erin Driver-Linn

Part II. Applications of Social Psychology 81

5. Rigor and Vigor: Spanning Basic and Applied Research ............. 83
   Nancy E. Adler

6. Achieving Equality of Student Internet Access
   Within Schools ................................................................ 97
   Janet Ward Schofield and Ann Locke Davidson
   Comments on Chapters 5 and 6 ........................................ 111
   Jennifer A. Richeson

7. Organizational Narcissism .............................................. 115
   Shoshana Zuboff

8. Peace Architecture: The Prevention of Violence ..................... 133
   Luc Reychler
   Comments on Chapters 7 and 8 ........................................ 147
   Jeffrey R. Seul
Part III. Social Psychological Approaches to the Practice of Conflict Resolution 149

9. Extending the Interactive Problem-Solving Method: Addressing Multiple Levels of Conflict, Unacknowledged Trauma, and Responsibility ............... 151
   Donna Hicks and William Weisberg

10. Identity and Power in the Reconciliation of National Conflict ........................................ 173
    Nadim N. Rouhana

   Comments on Chapters 9 and 10 ............................... 189
    Rebecca Dale

11. The Contribution of Bicommunal Contacts in Building a Civil Society in Cyprus .................... 193
    Maria Hadjipavlou

12. Assessing the Social Psychological Support for Kelman’s Interactive Problem-Solving Workshops .......... 213
    Cynthia Chataway

   Comments on Chapters 11 and 12 ............................... 227
    Rhoda Margesson

Part IV. Reflections by Herbert C. Kelman 231

13. Continuity and Change: My Life as a Social Psychologist ........................................... 233
    Herbert C. Kelman

Appendix A. Herbert C. Kelman’s Graduate and Postgraduate Advisees .............................. 277

Appendix B. Herbert C. Kelman’s Publications, 1945-2003 ........................................ 279

Index ........................................................................ 297

About the Editors .................................................. 307