

Jobs for Immigrants

VOLUME 1

LABOUR MARKET INTEGRATION
IN AUSTRALIA, DENMARK, GERMANY AND SWEDEN

ORGANISATION FOR ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT

Table of Contents

Summaries of country chapters .....	13
Résumés des chapitres par pays .....	21
 Chapter 1. KEY FINDINGS ON THE LABOUR MARKET INTEGRATION OF IMMIGRANTS
Introduction .....	31
1. Definitions and methodology .....	32
2. Immigration and labour market outcomes: an overview .....	35
3. Key issues in the labour market integration of immigrants .....	43
4. A significant challenge: the integration of the children of immigrants.....	56
Conclusion.....	67
References .....	69
 Chapter 2. THE LABOUR MARKET INTEGRATION OF IMMIGRANTS IN AUSTRALIA
Introduction .....	73
1. The framework for integration.....	77
1.1. The evolution of Australia as a multicultural immigration country.....	77
1.2. The evolution of selection policy .....	81
1.3. Key actors.....	85
1.4. Main services provided to migrants.....	87
2. Key issues in the labour market integration of immigrants .....	91
2.1. The impact of selection policy .....	91
2.2. Outcomes of recent arrivals.....	94
2.3. The settlement perspective .....	97
2.4. The recognition of foreign qualifications and experience .....	98
2.5. The impact of the waiting period on labour market outcomes .....	103
2.6. Immigrants and the Job Network services .....	105
2.7. Importance of English language and effectiveness of language training .....	106
2.8. Discrimination .....	107
2.9. The outcomes of humanitarian migrants.....	108
2.10. The outcomes of the second generation.....	110
Summary and Recommendations .....	114
Annex 2.1. Australian migration categories, fiscal years 2004-2005.....	119
Annex 2.2 Logistic regression on the likelihood of employment relative to non-employment of immigrants.....	120
References .....	122

Chapter 3. THE LABOUR MARKET INTEGRATION OF IMMIGRANTS IN DENMARK

Introduction .....	125
1. The framework for integration.....	126
1.1. Overview of employment outcomes.....	126
1.2. History of migration to Denmark and structure of the immigrant intake.....	129
1.3. Legislation governing immigration into Denmark.....	132
1.4. The evolution of integration policy .....	134
1.5. Key actors.....	137
1.6. The introduction programme.....	141
1.7. The labour market integration model.....	143
2. Key issues in the labour market integration of immigrants .....	144
2.1. Immigrants' characteristics and labour market outcomes .....	144
2.2. Specificities of the Danish labour market.....	153
2.3. Analysis of integration policies.....	161
2.4. Integration of the “second generation” .....	166
2.5. Discrimination .....	174
Summary and Recommendations .....	177
Annex 3.1. Age structure of the Danish population by gender and migration background, 2006....	185
Annex 3.2. The ten most important origin countries of immigrants and their share in the total immigrant stock in 1985, 1995 and 2006 .....	185
Annex 3.3. Structure of the Danish language courses .....	186
Annex 3.4. Determinants of immigrants' employment probability – odds ratio estimates.....	187
Annex 3.5. Probability of being employed – Persons aged 20 to 29 years old and not in education.....	188
References .....	189

Chapter 4. THE LABOUR MARKET INTEGRATION OF IMMIGRANTS IN GERMANY

Introduction .....	195
1. Methodology – Target populations and labour market characteristics.....	196
2. The main migrant groups in Germany .....	199
2.1. “Guestworkers” and their families.....	200
2.2. Ethnic Germans from Eastern Europe .....	201
2.3. Humanitarian migrants.....	203
2.4. Evolution of the labour market situation of people with a migration background .....	204
3. The framework for integration.....	208
3.1. The legal framework .....	208
3.2. The role of sub-national governments and non-governmental actors .....	213
3.3. Main areas of the integration activities.....	215
4. Key issues in the labour market integration of immigrants and the second generation .....	219
4.1. Outcomes of recent arrivals.....	219
4.2. Qualification structure of the native and immigrant population .....	221
Summary and Recommendations .....	239
References .....	246

Chapter 5. THE LABOUR MARKET INTEGRATION OF IMMIGRANTS IN SWEDEN

Introduction .....	251
1. The Swedish experience with migration .....	252
1.1. The labour immigration period (1945-1975) .....	253
1.2. The refugee immigration period (1970-2004).....	254
1.3. The development of an active integration policy in Sweden .....	254
2. Immigrant labour force outcomes in Sweden.....	260
2.1. A comparative overview .....	260
2.2. Comparing immigrant outcomes with those of natives .....	264
2.3. Factors affecting labour market performance .....	265
2.4. Outcomes in the face of changing migration currents.....	267
2.5. The 1990s economic crisis and its impact on integration.....	269
3. Policy impacts.....	271
3.1. Labour market effects of the introduction programme.....	271
3.2. Recognition of qualifications .....	274
3.3. The impact of dispersal policies .....	276
3.4. The filling of job vacancies.....	278
3.5. Discrimination .....	279
Summary and Recommendations .....	281
References .....	285

List of Figures

Figure 1.1. Educational attainment of the native- and foreign-born populations 15+ in the OECD countries under review, circa 2000.....	37
Figure 1.2. The immigrant population by OECD/non-OECD origin in the OECD countries under review, circa 2000.....	37
Figure 1.3 Share of persons with a migration background in the population aged 20-29 .....	59
Figure 1.4. PISA (2003) results in mathematics for the children of immigrants.....	60
Figure 1.5. Differences in employment rates between native-born persons without a migration background and native-born children of immigrants (second generation), by gender, latest available year.....	64
Figure 1.6. Unemployment rate of immigrants and second generation relative to that of native-born persons without a migration background.....	65
Figure 2.1 Evolution of employment-population ratios of foreign- and native-born in Australia, population aged 15-64, men and women .....	76
Figure 2.2. Characteristics of the immigrant population since 1947 .....	79
Figure 2.3. Evolution of Australia's migration programme outcomes (incl. humanitarian programme) since financial year 1990/1991.....	83
Figure 2.4. Overview of the English-language training available to migrants.....	89
Figure 2.5. Percentage-point differences in employment rates between foreign- and native-born and the impact of the qualification structure, population aged 15-64, 2004 .....	92
Figure 2.6. Differences (in percentage points) between the employment-population ratios of 15-64years old native-born and immigrant men and women, by years of presence in the host country, 2004.....	96
Figure 3.1. Evolution of the employment/population ratios of native- and foreign-born since 1984, by group of origin, population aged 16-66, men and women.....	128