MICHAEL H. FISHER

The Inordinately Strange Life of Dyce Sombre

Victorian Anglo-Indian MP and ‘Chancery Lunatic’

HURST & COMPANY, LONDON
CONTENTS

 Acknowledgments  ix
 Abbreviations xi
 List of Illustrations and Maps xiii
 Genealogical Chart for David Ochterlony Dyce Sombre xvii
 Cast of Other Major Characters xix

Introduction: Questioning Categories
A Life in Brief
Evidence and Approaches
The Many Meanings of His Life

PART ONE: ASIA
1. The State of David's Origins
   Rise to Begum of Sardhana
   Ruling Sardhana in Tempestuous Times
   Uncertain Military, Political and Cultural Transitions to British Rule
   Begum Sombre among Competing Cultures
   Recruiting Her Heir
2. The Childless Begum's Possible Heir
   Uncertain Youth in a Cosmopolitan Court
   Displacing His Father
   The Begum's Will
3. Heir Apparent to a Doomed Principality
   David's Record of Life
   Living in Sardhana
   Moving among Mughals
   Moving among British Men and Women
CONTENTS

4. Made Rootless
   Securing the Begum's Estate 71
   The End of the Begum and Sardhana 75
   Away from Home for the First Time 77
   Traversing North India 80

5. The Last of Asia
   Encountering Calcutta 87
   David's Life among British and Indian Elites 90
   In Seamy Calcutta 96
   Legal Entanglements 100
   Divesting His Concubines 102
   Touring Southeast Asia and China 104
   Departing India 108

PART TWO: EUROPE

6. To Britain
   Passage to Britain 119
   Arriving in London Society 120
   Indian Society in the Capital 126
   Dyce Sombre's Patronage 131

7. A Viscount's Daughter
   The Future Mrs Dyce Sombre's Family of Repute 137
   Mary Anne Jervis Rises in High Society 145
   Viscount St Vincent as Father-in-Law-to-Be of 'the Black Prince' 152

8. Encountering the European Aristocracy
   The Affianced Couple Apart 157
   On the Continent 159
   The Intermittent Engagement 163
   Newly Married Life 168

9. Dyce Sombre in British Parliament
   Dyce Sombre Stands for Parliament 173
   As Honourable Member of Parliament 173
   Dyce Sombre's Links to Indians and India 184
   Troubled Life in High Society for the New Member of Parliament 188
   Controversion of the Sudbury Election 191

vi
CONTENTS

10. Lunacy
   His Troubles Intensify 201
   In Custody 210
   Another Indian on Trial 215
   Dyce Sombre on Trial 217
   In and Out of the Lord Chancellor’s Charge 225

11. Lunatic Only in England, Sane Elsewhere 231
   Dyce Sombre’s Dash to Freedom in France 233
   Dyce Sombre Enjoys His Sanity in Paris 240
   First Appeal and Rehearing for Supercedas in London 244
   On the Continent and in Russia 260
   Second Petition and Rehearing for Supercedas in Dover 268
   Third Petition and Rehearing for Supercedas in Brighton 272

12. Travelling, Publishing, Challenging and Expiring 277
   Exploring the Continent and Ottoman Empire 277
   Revolution and Refutation in Paris 281
   Fourth and Fifth Petitions for Supercedas in London 284
   Living, Writing, and Publishing on the Continent 295
   Sixth and Final Petition for Supercedas in London 309

13. Legacies 317
   Postmortem 317
   Aftermath 325

Notes 329

Bibliography 363
   Libraries and Archives Used 363
   Journals and Newspapers Cited 363
   Books and Articles Cited 365

Index 379