Contents

Michael Mann / Ineke Phaf-Rheinberger
Introduction: ‘Beyond the Line’ – Constructions and Concepts with Focus on the Southern Oceans ...................................................... 7

I. Studying the Ocean

Georg Berkemer
The Seaman and the Fish: Discoveries beyond the Line .................. 31

Michael Mann
Life on the Water. Soldiers, Slaves and Other Subalterns on Board of Ships in the Indian Ocean .................................................. 53

Derek L. Elliott / Sebastian R. Prange
Beyond Piracy: Maritime Violence and Colonial Encounters in Indian History .......................................................... 95

Margret Frenz
Swaray for Kenya, 1949–1965: The Ambiguities of Transnational Politics .......................................................... 121
II. Narrating the Ocean

Frank Schulze-Engler
Africa’s Asian Options –
Indian Ocean Imaginaries in East African Literature .......................... 159

Ute Fendler
Fabulating the Indian Ocean –
An Emerging Network of Imaginaries? .............................................. 179

Ana Sobral
“Oceans of Pain”:
The Sea as Memory and Metaphor –
in Angolan Poetry and Rap Music .................................................... 199

Ineke Phaf-Rheinberger
Oceanic Modernity in Contemporary Narratives –
Remembering Slavery in Brazil and Angola ........................................ 233