Table of contents

Introduction

Mohammad Almoaily, Anders Holmberg and Isabelle Buchstaller

Ethnohistory of speaking: Maritime Polynesian Pidgin in a trilogy of historical-sociolinguistic attestations

Emanuel J. Drechsel

The ‘language of Tobi’ as presented in Horace Holden’s Narrative: Evidence for restructuring and lexical mixture in a Nuclear Micronesian-based pidgin

Anthony P. Grant

Language variation in Gulf Pidgin Arabic

Mohammad Almoaily

How non-Indo-European is Fanakalo pidgin? Selected understudied structures in a Bantu-lexified pidgin with Germanic substrates

Rajend Mesthrie

Language change in a multiple contact setting: The case of Sarnami (Suriname)

Kofi Yakpo and Pieter Muysken

Pidgin verbs: Infinitives or imperatives?

Kees Versteegh

Area index

Language index

Subject index