

Contents

List of figures	ix
List of tables	xi
Notes on authors	xiii
Acknowledgements	xvii
PART I
Introduction	1
1 From global peripheries to the earth's core: the new extraction in Latin America	3
MICHAEL L. DOUGHERTY
PART II
Conceptual approaches to excavating the new extraction	25
2 Investment, governance and resistance in the new extractive economies of Latin America	27
HENRY VELTMEYER
3 The new extractivism, raw materialism and twenty-first century mining in Latin America	45
PAUL S. CICCATELL AND DANIEL PATTEN
4 Post-neoliberalism in Latin America: continuities and discontinuities in regimes of extraction	63
LIISA L. NORTH, RICARDO GRINSPUN AND CARLOS LARREA

PART III
The role of Canadian capital in Latin American extraction	81
5 Scarcity and control: the new extraction and Canada's mineral resource protection network	83
MICHAEL L. DOUGHERTY
6 Rethinking 'Canadian mining imperialism' in Latin America	100
J.Z. GARROD AND LAURA MACDONALD
7 Canadian capital, mining taxation and the return of some (strong) states	116
PABLO HEIDRICH AND PAOLA ORTIZ LOAIZA
PART IV
Innovations on the ground: privatisation, people and governance	139
8 Mining movements and political horizons in the Andes: articulation, democratisation, and worlds otherwise	141
BRET GUSTAFSON AND NATALIA GUZMÁN SOLANO
9 Extractive industries and the global human rights regime for businesses: The Marlin Human Rights Impact Assessment	160
KALOWATIE DEONANDAN AND JENNIFER MORGAN
10 Moving overseas? Critical reflections on the implementation of Latin American ethical gold schemes in Sub-Saharan Africa	182
GAVIN HILSON AND JAMES MCQUILKEN
11 Mining, property, and the reordering of socionatural relations in Peru	208
MATTHEW HIMLEY
PART V
Jurisprudence and the new extraction	227
12 The rise of the corporate investment rights regime and 'extractive exceptionalism': evidence from El Salvador	229
SARAH ANDERSON, MANUEL PÉREZ-ROCHA, AND MICHAEL L. DOUGHERTY

13 Impeding access to justice: establishing civil jurisdiction in Canadian courts in the global extractive economy	250
BERNADETTE MAHEANDIRAN
PART VI
Conclusion and ways forward	271
14 The role of women and international non-governmental organisations in the resistance to the new extraction in Latin America: the unexplored dimensions	273
KALOWATIE DEONANDAN AND REBECCA TATHAM
Index	284