

W.G. Hart Legal Workshop Series

Lawmaking in the European Union

Editors

Paul Craig
Carol Harlow

LONDON—THE HAGUE—BOSTON

Contents

PREFACE	v
INTRODUCTION	xvii
TABLE OF CASES	xxxiii
TABLE OF EUROPEAN LAW	xxxix

PART I DEMOCRACY AND LEGITIMACY

1	EUROPEAN MODELS: POLITY, PEOPLE AND SYSTEM, by JHH Weiler	3
	1. Prologue-Polity, Peoplehood and Theory: Problems of Translation	3
	2. The European Polity: International, Supranational, Infranational or taking MacCormick Seriously	9
	Intergovernmentalism	14
	Infranationalism	15
	3. Models of Democracy	17
	(a) International governance and the consociational model	17
	(b) Supranationalism, pluralism and competitive elitism	20
	(c) Infranationalism and the neo-corporatist model of governance and democracy	21
	4. Demos and Democracy	22
2	DEMOCRACY AND RULEMAKING WITHIN THE EC: AN EMPIRICAL AND NORMATIVE ASSESSMENT, by PP Craig	33
	1. The Legislative Process: An Empirical Assessment	35
	(a) The desire to preserve some form of institutional balance within the European Community	35
	(b) Preservation of the European Commission's right of legislative initiative	37
	(c) Reform of the legislative procedures	39
	(d) Union's involvement in the fields of foreign and security policy, and justice and home affairs	40
	(e) Conclusions	41
	2. The Legislative Process: A Normative Assessment	43
	(a) Republicanism and balanced government	43
	(b) Republicanism and the European Community	46

(c) Republicanism, transparency and participation	50
(d) Amsterdam and beyond	57
3. A Competing Justification	58
4. Conclusion	64
3 THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONSEQUENCES OF LAWMAKING IN THE THIRD PILLAR OF THE EUROPEAN UNION, by Elspeth Guild	65
1. What is the third pillar?	65
2. What is the scope of the third pillar?	68
(a) Achieve the goals: what the Council can do	69
(b) The role of the European Commission	70
(c) Limiting the European Parliament	72
(d) Adopting measures	74
3. The Third Pillar's Engine: The K.4 Committee	75
4. The Drifting Policy Maker	78
5. Making Policy Not Law	78
6. Making Law Not Policy	82
7. The Court of Justice	84
8. Constitutional Traditions and the Third Pillar	86
9. The Balancing Act	87
4 NEW INSTITUTIONALISM AND EUROPEAN UNION LEGAL STUDIES, by Kenneth A Armstrong	89
1. "Intergration Theory": The Legacy of Grand Theorising	90
(a) Neo-functionalism	90
(b) Intergovernmentalism	95
(c) Lessons from the theoretical legacy	100
2. The Turn to Institutionalism	101
(a) Institutionalism and European Union studies	102
(b) Institutionalism as the basis for an interdisciplinary research agenda?	104
(c) A historical institutionalist approach to the European Union	106
3. Conclusion	110
5 CONSTITUTIONAL POLITICS: THE RECIPROCAL IMPACT OF LAWMAKING AND CONSTITUTIONAL ADJUDICATION, by Alec Stone Sweet	111
1. The Model	112
(a) Shift 1: the constitution and the legislature	113
(b) Shift 2: from legislator to court	114
(c) Shift 3: the crisis of legitimacy	116
(d) Shift 4: constitutional decision-making and rule-making	116
(e) Shift 1 (again): the judicialisation of policy-making	117

2. The Model Applied: France and Germany	119
(a) Politicisation and constitutional decision-making	119
(b) Constitutional decision-making and judicialisation	124
(c) Legislators and constitutional decision-making	128
3. Conclusion	130
Appendix	132

PART II
PARLIAMENTS

6 "THE STYLE AND THE MACHINERY": THE ROLE OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT IN THE EU'S LEGISLATIVE PROCESSES, by Martin Westlake	137
7 THE CO-DECISION PROCEDURE: RETHINKING THE CONSTITUTIONAL FUNDAMENTALS, by Sophie Boyron	147
1. A Success Beyond Most Expectations	147
(a) An external assessment	148
(b) A substantive assessment: general	151
(c) Substantive assessment: strength and strategies of the European Parliament	153
2. Reforming the Procedure	156
(a) Two contradictory trends	157
(b) Implications for procedural reform	162
3. Conclusion: What Role for the Commission?	166
Postscript	166
8 HARMONISATION UNDER COMMUNITY LAW: THE COMITOLGY ISSUE, by Wolf Sauter and Ellen Vos	169
1. Introduction	169
2. The Harmonisation of Laws in the Context of European Integration	170
(a) 1957–1987 full harmonisation	171
(b) Post-Single European Act: minimum harmonisation	171
(c) Harmonisation and policy co-ordination	173
3. Comitology	174
(a) The purpose and classification	174
(b) Legal issues connected with comitology	175
(c) The inter-institutional conflict on comitology after the Single Act	177
4. Comitology and Multi-level Policy-making: Three Case Studies	180
(a) Telecommunications: a network of national regulators	180

(b) The scientific co-operation model: the case of foodstuffs	182
(c) A Community agency: the case of pharmaceuticals	184
5. Conclusion	186
9 THE POLITICS OF INFORMATION: U.S. CONGRESS AND EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT, by Martin Shapiro	187
1. Introduction	187
2. Congressional Staff	189
(a) Individual and committee staff	189
(b) Committee environment	190
(c) Committee staff	191
(d) Staff orchestration of information	192
(e) Risk of capture of Congress by staff	193
(f) Epistemic communities and loaded fact-finding	194
3. The Committee System	195
(a) Party and committee	196
(b) Committees and information	197
4. The European Parliament and Information	198
(a) EP staff	199
(b) EP committees, parties and groups	201
(c) Committee system	202
(d) Whither the parliamentary staffs?	204
5. Conclusion	207
10 NATIONAL PARLIAMENTS AND THE EUROPEAN UNION: WHERE TO FROM HERE? by Philip Norton	209
1. The Present Role	210
2. Is it Right?	213
3. Is it Possible?	215
(a) Political systems	217
(b) Political will	218
(c) Priorities	220
(d) Co-ordination and compatibility	220
(e) Culture	221
4. Conclusion	221
11 THE COMMITTEE OF EUROPEAN AFFAIRS OF THE DANISH PARLIAMENT (THE FOLKETING): How to maintain some parliamentary control of the legislative power of the Combined Executives in the Council of Minister, by Martin Jarvad	223
1. Background	223
(a) Parliamentarism and the European Union in general	223
(b) The controversial constitutionality of the Danish entry in the EEC	226

2. The European Committee	231
(a) Composition	231
(b) Procedure	231
(c) Ministers' duties towards the Committee	231
(d) Legal effects: external and internal	231
(e) Political effects: external and internal	233
(f) Ongoing changes	233

PART III
INSTITUTIONAL INTERACTION

12 LAWMAKING UNDER THE SOCIAL CHAPTER OF MAASTRICHT, by Gisbert Brinkmann	239
1. The Maastricht Conference	239
2. Basic features the Social Protocol and Agreement	240
(a) Enhanced role of management and labour	241
(b) Expression of subsidiarity	242
(c) Position of the United Kingdom	242
(d) Competence of the Community	243
(e) The relationship between the Treaty and the Agreement	245
3. The Legislative Process: Consultation of Management and Labour	247
(a) Management and labour	247
(b) Consultation process	248
4. Agreements concluded by management and labour	249
(a) Time to initiate negotiations	249
(b) Nature of agreements between management and labour	250
(c) Management and labour	250
(d) Matters of an agreement	252
(e) Implementation	252
(f) Omission of the European Parliament and of ECOSOC	256
(g) Jurisdiction of the European Court of Justice	257
5. Conclusion	258
(a) Experience of the first instruments under the Agreement	258
(b) Effect on the role of the institutions	259
(c) Spillover effect to the United Kingdom	260
(d) Intergovernmental Conference 1996 and the Treaty of Amsterdam	260
13 THE FUTURE OF SOCIAL POLICY-MAKING IN THE EUROPEAN UNION, by Holly Cullen and Elinor Campbell	262
1. Introduction	262
2. The Commission's Attitude to Social Policy Since 1991	264

3. Three Trends in Fourth Phase Social Policy	267
(a) Reducing the role of harmonisation	267
(b) Non-harmonisation policies	269
(c) Social dialogue	272
4. Social Dialogue	272
(a) A fresh impetus for social policy?	273
(b) A greater input for the social partners?	276
(c) Implementation of agreements	278
(d) The Social Policy Dialogue and new forms of European level social regulation	279
5. Conclusion	283
14 A HARD LOOK AT SOFT LAW, by Fiona Beveridge and Sue Nott	285
1. Pregnant Workers Directive	287
2. What is Soft Law?	288
3. Soft Law in the EC	290
4. Soft Law and Social Change	292
5. Soft Law in "Her Infinite Variety"	293
(a) Soft law may supplement hard law	293
(b) Soft law as proto-law	293
(c) Soft law as soft pedalling	294
(d) Soft law as subsidiarity	294
(e) Soft law as a normative guide to community action	295
(f) Soft law as empowerment	295
6. EC Recommendation on the Protection of the Dignity of Women and Men at Work and the Code of Practice on Measures to Combat Sexual Harassment	297
(a) Background to the passage of the recommendation	297
(b) The content of the recommendation and code of practice	299
(c) The practical and legal effects of the recommendation and code of practice on sexual harassment	301
7. Recommendation on Childcare	305
(a) Background to and content of the recommendation	305
(b) The effect of the recommendation on childcare	306
8. Conclusions	308
15 "SOFT LAW" IN EC CONSUMER LAW, by Geraint G. Howells	310
1. What is "Soft Law"?	310
2. Arguments in Favour of Soft Law	311
(a) Criticisms of traditional forms of regulation	312
(b) Benefits of soft law	313
(c) Disenchantment with the regulatory welfare state	313
3. Drawbacks of Soft Law	315
(a) Legislation re-appraised	316

(b) Myths about soft law	316
(c) The dangers of soft law	316
4. What Should the Role of Soft Law be?	317
5. Adoption of Soft Law Techniques	318
6. The EC's Conversion to Soft Law	320
7. Consumer Product Safety	321
8. Advertising	325
9. Payment Systems	327
(a) Payment cards etc.	328
(b) Cross border transfers	329
10. Conclusion	329
16 THE INTERPLAY OF THE COMMISSION AND THE COURT OF JUSTICE IN GIVING EFFECT TO THE RIGHT TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL SERVICES, by Mads Andenas	332
1. Introduction: Another Route to the Internal Financial Market	332
2. Why were Financial Services so Difficult?	333
3. Community Policies before the Liberalisation of Capital Movements	335
4. The Financial Institutions Directives	337
5. The Commission's Draft Communication on the General Good of 1995	338
6. The Commission's Communication on Pension Funds	340
7. What is the Legal Effect of a Commission Communication, and is it Renewable?	340
8. Commission Legislation as an Alternative Route	342
17 CREATING A DIRECTIVE ON PLURALISM AND THE MEDIA CONCENTRATION: A CASE STUDY OF THE EUROPEAN UNION LEGISLATIVE PROCESS, by Francesca Beltrame	343
1. Introduction	343
2. The State of Play in the Initiative	344
3. The Use of Legal Argumentation: The Logic of the Internal Market	345
(a) Internal Market and Competition	346
(b) Internal Market and Pluralism	347
(c) Internal Market and Interests of Industry	348
3. Conclusions	352
18 ACCOUNTABILITY OF INTEREST GROUPS IN THE UNION LAWMAKING PROCESS, by Daniela Obradovic	354
1. Introduction	354
2. Interest Representation in the European Union	360
3. Interest Representation in the Union and the European Parliament	362

4. Accountability and Interest Representation in the Union	367
5. Achievement of Public Interest as the Principle for Reconciling Interest Representation with the Quest for Accountability	372
6. Supplementary Role of Interest Representation as an Accountability Test	381
7. Conclusions	383
19 SOCIAL LAW IN THE EUROPEAN UNION: THE IMPACT OF THE LAWMAKING PROCESS, by Sandra Fredman	386
1. Social Law in the Making	386
2. The ECJ as Lawmaker	397
(a) The ECJ, the EC Institutions and the Member States	398
(b) The Court as Lawmaker	402
3. Social Dialogue	405
(a) The interaction between the social dialogue and the existing lawmaking institutions	406
(b) The effect of social dialogue on the substantive content of the proposals	407
(c) The basis for legitimacy of social dialogue within the legislative process	408
4. Conclusion	411
20 ANIMAL PASSIONS, ANIMAL WELFARE AND EUROPEAN POLICY MAKING, by Mike Radford	412
1. Animal Welfare and the European Union	412
2. The Legal Framework	415
3. Case Study – Animal Transport	418
4. Issues	426
(a) The contribution of pressure groups	426
(b) The relationship between Community institutions and the nature of the legislative process	427
(c) The status of the declaration on the protection of animals and the Directive preamble	430
(d) The sovereignty question	430

PART IV

HARMONISATION, IMPLEMENTATION AND INCORPORATION

21 BETTER LAWMAKING? AN EVALUATION OF LAWMAKING IN THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY, by Tom Burns	435
1. Introduction	435
2. The Problems Associated with the EC Statute Book: the Technical Deficiencies	436

3. Other Criticisms of the Statute Book: There is too much Regulation, it is too detailed and prescriptive, and it is harmful to Economic Development	440
4. Law Reform in the Community: a Process in Two Stages	444
(a) Phase one: the technical reform of the law	445
(b) The second phase of law reform: "deregulation"	449
5. Conclusions	453
22 GOING DUTCH: PROBLEMS AND POLICIES CONCERNING THE IMPLEMENTATION OF EU LEGISLATION IN THE NETHERLANDS, by VJMM Bekkers, AJC De Moor-van Vught and W Voermans	454
1. Introduction	454
2. The Dutch Legal and Administrative System	455
(a) General characteristics of the Dutch system	455
(b) Implementation of EU regulations and decisions	456
(c) Enforcement of EC legislation	457
3. The Legal process of Implementation in theory	458
(a) The constitutional framework	458
(b) The process of implementation of EU Directives	462
4. Dutch Experiences with Implementation	466
(a) Legal problems	467
(b) Contextual problems of implementation	471
5. Conclusions	476
(a) The criteria of the European Court of Justice	476
(b) Information from the European Commission	476
(c) Dichotomy between policy formulation and policy harmonisation	477
(d) The national constitutional system	477
(e) Co-ordination at the interdepartmental level	477
(f) Advisory boards	478
23 IMPLEMENTING EC LAW IN FRANCE: THE ROLE OF THE FRENCH CONSEIL D'ETAT, by Nicole Questiaux	479
24 LEGAL TECHNIQUES FOR IMPLEMENTING DIRECTIVES: A CASE STUDY OF PUBLIC PROCUREMENT, by Sue Arrowsmith	491
1. The European Community Rules on Public Procurement	492
2. The Obligation to Implement Directives	493
3. Techniques Adopted for Implementing the Procurement Directives	494
(a) Implementation by administrative guidance or instructions	494
(b) Legislative implementation "by reference"	496
(c) Detailed legislative implementation	497

4. A Comparison and Evaluation of Implementation Techniques	497
(a) Potential benefits of detailed implementation	498
(b) The problems with detailed implementation	506
(c) The advantages and disadvantages of implementation by reference	508
5. Conclusion	510
25 HARMONISING EUROPEAN PATENT LAWS: WHY SO LITTLE CALL FOR AN APPELLATE SYSTEM?, by Philip Leith	511
1. Introduction	511
2. The EPC, EPO and the CPC	512
3. Legislative Harmonisation and Interpretation	514
4. Problems from the Divergence of National Interpretation	516
5. Do National Divergences Really Matter?	517
6. Why are Interpretation Problems Seemingly of Little Importance	518
(a) Patent property rights are seldom valuable	519
(b) Patent property rights are commercial tools	521
(c) The EPO provides a “harmonised” philosophy	521
(d) The EPO’s “Court Functions” cannot be ignored	524
(e) Industry is not willing to pay CPC costs	525
7. Conclusion: Harmonisation via Trans-National “Quango”	526
26 THE LEGISLATIVE PROCESS AND THE INSTITUTIONS OF THE EUROPEAN UNION: A CASE STUDY OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF EUROPEAN COMPANY LAW, by Lorna Woods and Charlotte Villiers	529
1. Introduction	529
2. Identifying our Representatives	530
3. Company Harmonisation Programme	530
4. The Four “Generations”	531
(a) First generation	533
(b) Second generation	535
(c) Third generation	537
(d) Fourth generation	540
5. Conclusions	541
INDEX	545