Constitutional Systems
in Late Twentieth Century Asia

Edited by
LAWRENCE W. BEER

University of Washington Press
Seattle and London
CONTENTS

Preface vii

1. Introduction: Constitutionalism in Asia and the United States
   Lawrence W. Beer
   1

EASTERN ASIA

   William C. Jones
   55

3. Republic of China (Taiwan): The Constitution and Government of the Republic of China
   Chi-tung Lin and Herbert H. P. Ma
   (translated by John Garver and Herbert Ma)
   88

4. Japan: The United States Constitution and Japan's Constitutional Law
   Nobuyoshi Ashibe (translated by William B. Cleary),
   Lawrence W. Beer, and Masami Ito
   (translated by Keiko Beer and Masako Kamiya)
   128

   Sung Yoon Cho
   270

6. Republic of Korea (South Korea): The Influence of U.S. Constitutional Law Doctrines in Korea
   Tscholsu Kim and Sang Don Lee
   303

   William J. Duiker
   331

SOUTHERN ASIA

8. Kingdom of Brunei: Constitution and Monarchy in Brunei
   Ahmad Ibrahim and Valentine S. Winslow
   365
9. Republic of India:
The Constitution as the Situs of Struggle:
India's Constitution Forty Years On
Rajeev Dhavan
373

10. Republic of Indonesia:
Democracy in Indonesia: Pancasila Democracy
Padmo Wahjono (translated by Joseph H. Saunders)
462

11. Malaysia:
The Constitution of Malaysia
and the American Constitutional Influence
Ahmad Ibrahim and M. P. Jain
507

12. Republic of the Philippines:
The 1987 Constitution of the Philippines:
The Impact of American Constitutionalism Revisited
Enrique M. Fernando and Emma Quisumbing-Fernando
572

13. Republic of Singapore:
The Constitution of the Republic of Singapore
Valentine S. Winslow
628

14. Kingdom of Thailand:
The Development of Constitutionalism in Thailand:
Some Historical Considerations
Preben A. F. Aakesson, Marut Bunnag, and Rujira Bunnag
657

15. Conclusion:
Towards Human Rights Constitutionalism in Asia and the United States?
Lawrence W. Beer
710

About the Authors
723

Index
725