Contents

Abbreviations xvi
Table of Cases xx
Table of United Nations Resolutions xxix
Table of Treaties and Other Documents xxxi

1 The Problem 1

1. Introduction 1

2. Identification of Third Parties 7
   2.1 States as third parties 7
   2.2 International organizations as third parties 11
   2.3 Individuals as third parties 13

3. Third Parties in International Disputes and Conflicts 15

4. Rights, Obligations, and Interests 18

PART I. TREATIES AND THIRD PARTIES

2 States as Third Parties to Treaties: Formal Prescriptions 25

1. The Current Status of the Pacta Tertiis Rule 25

2. General Legal Prescription on Treaties and Third Parties 26
   2.1 Before the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties 26
   2.2 Drafting the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties 29
   2.3 The Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties: Articles 34–38 32
   2.4 Exclusions from the Vienna Convention 35
   2.5 Other Articles of the Vienna Convention 37
   2.6 Comments on the Vienna Convention 39

3. Specific Legal Prescription 44
   3.1 Interlocking arrangements: Treaties of Guarantee 44
      3.1.1 The Peace Treaty between Egypt and Israel 45
      3.1.2 The Afghanistan Peace Treaties and Guarantees 46
3.2 Other Treaty Devices
3.2.1 Protocols
3.2.2 Reciprocity

3 States As Third Parties to Treaties: Claims by and against Third Party States

1. Claims of Participation
   1.1 Claims of accession
   1.2 Claims of adherence
   1.3 Claims of assignment
   1.4 Claims of third party beneficiary
   1.5 Claims of agency
   1.6 Claims of newly independent States

2. Claims of Non-participation

3. Claims for Performance

4. Claims that a Treaty Should not be Entered into or Performed
   4.1 Treaties conflicting with the rights of third States
   4.2 Conflicting treaties
   4.3 Surrender of treaty-making power

5. Claims of Amendment

6. Claims Relating to International Communications
   6.1 Interoceanic canals
   6.2 Straits

4 International Organizations as Third Parties to Treaties

1. International Organizations as Third Parties

2. The Vienna Convention on The Law of Treaties between States and International Organizations

3. Claims by Member States against International Organizations
   3.1 Claims that organizations are bound by their constitutive treaties
   3.2 Claims that the actions of the organization are invalid

4. Claims by International Organizations against Member States
   4.1 Claims that member States acted contrary to the constitutive treaty
Contents

4.2 Claims that member States are estopped from denying an extension of institutional power 101

4.3 Claims of status 102

5. Options Available to Dissenting Member States 104

6. Claims by Third Parties with Respect to International Organizations
   6.1 The position of third parties 106
   6.2 Third party procedural claims 108

7. Third Party Claims against the Member States of an Organization 109

5 Individuals as Third Parties to Treaties 120

1. Introduction 120

2. States' Claims on Behalf of Individuals 122

3. Individuals' Claims before National Courts 123

4. Individuals' Claims to Status 129

5. Claims Based upon Human Rights and Humanitarian Principles 131

6 Conclusions to Part I: The Pacta Tertiis Rule in Modern International Law 134

1. Introduction 134

2. The Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties 134

3. The Displacement of Treaty Law 138

4. Analogy to Municipal Law Devices 141

5. Conclusions 142
PART II. INTERNATIONAL JUDICIAL AND ARBITRAL PROCEDURE AND THIRD PARTIES

7 Intervention before the International Court of Justice: Articles 62 and 63 of the Statute of the Court

1. Introduction: The Bilateral Model of Adversary Proceedings

2. Legal Basis for Intervention before the International Court of Justice

   2.1 Articles 62 and 63 of the Statute of the Court
   2.2 Article 62 of the Statute of the Court
   2.3 Article 63 of the Statute of the Court
   2.4 Relationship between Articles 62 and 63
   2.5 Relationship with Article 59

3. Interpretation of Article 62 by the International Court

   3.1 Interest of a legal nature
   3.2 'May be affected'
   3.3 Purposes of Intervention
      3.3.1 Precise nature of expressed purpose
      3.3.2 To join interests with one of the parties
      3.3.3 To introduce a peripheral matter
      3.3.4 To assist the Court
      3.3.5 Improper purposes

4. Jurisdiction for Intervention

   4.1 No jurisdictional requirement for intervention
   4.2 Rights of the intervening State

5. Interpretation of Article 63 by the International Court

   5.1 Purposes of intervention under Article 63
   5.2 Jurisdictional link under Article 63

6. Policies of Intervention

   6.1 Policies under Article 62
   6.2 Policies under Article 63

8 Multiparty Disputes: Intervention and Indispensable Parties before the International Court of Justice

1. Introduction

2. Party and Third Party Strategies
Contents

2.1 Notification of conventions under Article 63 186
2.2 To request or block access to pleadings 188
2.3 To request or object to intervention 190
2.4 Timing of a claim of intervention 195

3. Decision Not to Intervene: Indispensable Parties 198

4. Other Options Available to Third Parties 212
   4.1 Where other proceedings have been commenced 212
       4.1.1 Commencement of separate proceedings 212
       4.1.2 Joinder of proceedings 213
   4.2 Where no other proceedings have been commenced 213
       4.2.1 Designation as a third state 213
       4.2.2 Proceedings in the public interest 214
       4.2.3 To seek an advisory opinion 216

9 Intervention before the European Court of Justice 218
1. The Legal Framework 218
2. The Practice of Intervention before the European Court 219

10 Other Third Party Procedures before International Adjudicative Tribunals 226
1. The International Court of Justice 226
   1.1 Information from third party States 226
   1.2 Information from third party organizations 229
   1.3 Information from third party individuals 232
2. The European Court of Human Rights 237
   2.1 Individual standing before the Court 237
   2.2 Presentation of information by non-parties 238
3. The Inter-American Court of Human Rights 242
4. Interpretation of Treaties Affecting Non-parties to an Organization 244

11 Third Parties before International Arbitral Tribunals 247
1. Introduction: Differing Models of Arbitration 247
2. Party Autonomy in International Arbitration 249
Contents

3. Claims that an Arbitral Award Prejudices Third Party 251
   3.1 Claims by parties to the award 251
   3.2 Claims by third parties 254

4. Claims to Enforce the Arbitration Agreement 257
   4.1 Claims that an arbitral agreement be enforced against a third party 257
   4.2 Third party prejudiced by failure to seek arbitration 262

5. Third Party Claims that Rights Have Been Bestowed by the Arbitral Agreement 262
   5.1 Third party claims of accession 262
   5.2 Third party claims of intervention 265

6. Third Party Claims that a Tribunal Should Not Hear a Case 272

12 Conclusions To Part II: Third Parties in International Proceedings 275

1. Third Party Procedural Claims 275
2. Third Party Procedures in the Public Interest 282

PART III. THIRD PARTIES AND INTERNATIONAL CRIMES: ARMED CONFLICT

1. Introduction 291
2. Policies with Respect to Third Parties to Armed Conflict 294
3. Identifying the Aggressor 296
4. Unilateral Third Party Claims: Neutrality 299
   4.1 Neutrality under the United Nations Charter 299
   4.2 Claims of neutrality where there has been no Security Council determination of aggression 303
   4.3 Claims of neutrality where there has been a Security Council determination of aggression 311
Contents

14 Third Party Unilateral and Collective Responses to Armed Conflict 315

1. Unilateral Third Party Responses 315
   1.1 Non-forcible counter-measures 315
   1.2 Collective self-defence 318
   1.3 Counter-intervention 325

2. Collective Response to an Act of Aggression: Constructive Injury to Third Parties as Members of the International Community 331

15 Conclusions to Part III: Third Parties and International Crimes 343

1. Introduction 343

2. Third Party Claims in International Armed Conflict 344

16 Conclusions 349

Bibliography 357

Index 377