

Modelling and predicting property crime trends

in England and Wales

by Sanjay Dhiri,
Sam Brand,
Richard Harries and
Richard Price

A Research, Development and Statistics Directorate Report

---

Contents

Home Office Research Studies	ii
Foreword	iii
Acknowledgements	iv
Summary	vii
1 Why model trends in crime?	1
2 Previous research on trends in crime	3
3 How good have the models been?	7
4 Expanding the analysis	11
Policy variables	11
Unemployment	12
5 Projecting future trends	13
6 How reliable are the projections?	17
7 Interpreting the projections	19
8 Next steps	21
References	23
Technical Annex	25
Time series properties of the data	25
Models of theft and handling and burglary	32
Specification tests	36
Projections	39
Parameter stability	40
Choice of demographic variable	41