Intellectual Property Rights, the WTO and Developing Countries
The TRIPS Agreement and Policy Options

CARLOS M CORREA

Zed Books Ltd.
London and New York

TWN
Third World Network
Penang, Malaysia
Contents

Acronyms and Abbreviations xi
Foreword xiii

CHAPTER I

GENERAL CONTEXT
What is TRIPS? 1
The Context 3
The North-South Asymmetries 5
The Limits of the TRIPS Agreement 6
The TRIPS Agreement as a Ceiling 8
Transitional Arrangements 9
Unilateral or Multilateral? 11
Main Substantive Provisions 12
Transfer of Technology 18
Conclusion 21

CHAPTER II

IMPLICATIONS FOR DEVELOPING COUNTRIES
Introduction 23
Welfare Effects 25
Foreign Direct Investments 26
Transfer of Technology 30
Impact on Domestic Markets 36
Innovation 37
i) General 37
ii) The case of pharmaceuticals 42
Main Conclusions 44
CHAPTER III

IMPLEMENTING THE TRIPS AGREEMENT IN THE PATENT FIELD: OPTIONS FOR THE DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

The Scope of Patentability 50
  Definition of invention 51
  Requirements of protection 57
  Exceptions to patentability 61

Scope of Claims 70

Disclosure 72

Claim Interpretation 74

Exceptions to Exclusive Rights 75
  Experimental exception 76
  "Bolar" exception 77
  Parallel imports 81
  Prior use 88
  Patents on life forms 89

Compulsory Licences 89

Reversal of the Burden of Proof 94

Transitional Periods and Provisions 95

Conclusions 97

CHAPTER IV

CHANGING NATIONAL LAWS: THE CASE OF LATIN AMERICA AND THE CARIBBEAN

Introduction 101

Incorporation into National Law 102

Interpretation 104

Implementation Problems 107
  Normative dimension 107
  Administrative dimension 108
  Political dimension: Facing trade retaliation 108

Changes in Latin American and Caribbean Legislation 111
  Copyright and related rights 111
  Trademarks 112
  Geographical indications 114
  Industrial designs 115
  Patents 115
CHAPTER V

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGIES

Introduction 123
New Developments 124
ITs and Intellectual Property Law 126
  Protecting computer programs 128
  Multimedia products 138
  Integrated circuits 140
  Digital information 143
Implications for Developing Countries 149
  Access, acquisition and use 149
  Impact of IPRs 150
  Software 152
  Hardware 156
  Information 158
Main Conclusions 160

CHAPTER VI

ACCESS TO PLANT GENETIC RESOURCES AND INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

Introduction 167
From “Free” to “Shared” Access 169
Access to PGRs under Patent Laws 173
  Plant biotechnology patents 173
  Do patents restrict access? 175
  Patents on biological materials 177
  Patents on genes 179
  Patents on varieties 183
  Can patents and access for R&B be reconciled? 185
Access under Plant Breeders’ Rights 195
  Scope of protection 196
CHAPTER VII

UPCOMING REVIEW OF THE TRIPS AGREEMENT

Introduction 207
Identifying National Interests 208
Transitional Periods 209
Built-in Agenda 211
Review of the Agreement 214
  Negotiating strategies 214
  Policy-oriented approaches 215
  Other issues 218

ANNEX 223

OPTIONS FOR IMPLEMENTING THE TRIPS AGREEMENT IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

Introduction 223
  Purpose and scope 224
Patent Provisions 226
  The concept of "invention" 226
  Exceptions to patentability 228
  Criteria of patentability 231
  Rights conferred 233
  Disclosure 234
  Interpretation of claims 237
  Foreign applications and grants 238
  Exceptions to exclusive rights 238
  Compulsory licences 240
  Reversal of the burden of proof 245
  Transitional periods and provisions 247
Undisclosed Information 249
Computer Programs 250
Databases 251
Restrictive Practices in Contractual Licences 252