CRIME’S POWER
Anthropologists and the Ethnography of Crime

Edited by
Philip C. Parnell
and Stephanie C. Kane
CONTENTS

List of Illustrations vii

Introduction: Crime's Power 1
Philip C. Parnell

1. Traversing the Q'eqchi' Imaginary: The Conjecture of Crime in Livingston, Guatemala 33
Hilary E. Kahn

2. Crime as a Category—Domestic and Globalized 55
Laura Nader

3. The Anthropologist Accused 77
June Starr

Daniel T. Linger

5. Recognition of State Authority as a Cost of Involvement in Moroccan Border Crime 125
David A. McMurray

Anne Brydon and Pauline Greenhill

7. Criminal Instabilities: Narrative Interruptions and the Politics of Criminality 173
JoAnn Martin

8. Criminalizing Colonialism: Democracy Meets Law in Manila 197
Philip C. Parnell

9. Mafia without Malfeasance, Clans without Crime: The Criminality Conundrum in Post-Communist Europe 221
Janine R. Wedel
10. Hear No Evil, Read No Evil, Write No Evil:
Inscriptions of French World War II Collaborationism
Vera Mark
245

11. Solidarity and Objectivity: Re-reading Durkheim
Carol J. Greenhouse
269

Epilogue
Stephanie C. Kane
293

Contributors
297

Index
301