National Remedies Before the Court of Justice

Issues of Harmonisation and Differentiation

MICHAEL DOUGAN
Professor of European Law, Liverpool University

OXFORD AND PORTLAND OREGON
2004
Contents

Table of Cases ix
Table of Legislation xliii

1 Effective Judicial Protection Within the Community Legal Order 1
   Centralised and Decentralised Enforcement of Community Law 1
   Legal Framework of Community Intervention in National Remedies and Procedural Rules 4
   Nature and Structure of Analysis to Follow 65

2 'Integration Through Law' and the Enforcement Deficit Debate 69
   'Integration Through Law': Uniformity and Effectiveness 69
   'Integration Through Law': The Traditional Parameters of the Enforcement Deficit Debate 94

3 Regulatory Differentiation Within the Community Legal Order 113
   Vertical Differentiation 114
   Horizontal Differentiation 152

4 Regulatory Differentiation and the Enforcement Deficit Debate 171
   'Integration Through Law': Differentiation and the Enforcement Deficit Debate 171
   Differentiation as a Symptom of Constitutional Change 174
   Differentiation as a Cause of Constitutional Change 189
   The Enforcement Deficit Debate: An Alternative Sectoral Model 200

5 The Court of Justice's Caselaw on National Remedies and Procedural Rules I 227
   Early Period: Extensive Deference to National Autonomy 227
   Middle Period: The Assertion of Increasing Community Remedial Competence 229
   Current Caselaw: A General Trend Towards Negative Harmonisation 232
   Sectoral Credentials of the General Trend Towards Negative Harmonisation in the Current Caselaw 293
Contents

6 The Court of Justice’s Caselaw on National Remedies and Procedural Rules II 311
   Centralised and Decentralised Enforcement Against Community Institutions 312
   Recovery of Unlawful State Aids 338
   Decentralised Enforcement of Competition Policy 359

7 Conclusion 389

Select Bibliography 397
Index 407