Reforming Company and Takeover Law in Europe

Edited by

Guido Ferrarini, Klaus J. Hopt, Jaap Winter and Eddy Wymeersch
Contents

The Contributors ....................................................................................................................... xix

Part I: A Framework for a Modern Company and Takeover Law in Europe: Common Regulatory Issues ......................................................... 1

Chapter 1: The Need for a Regulatory Framework ................................................................ 3

EU Company Law at the Cross-Roads
by Jaap Winter ......................................................................................................................... 3

A. Introduction 3
B. The European Company Statute 4
C. The European Court of Justice 7
D. Capital Market Law and Company Law 10
E. Parenthesis: Competition and Harmonization 13
F. A Modern Regulatory Framework for Company Law in Europe 14
G. The Takeover Bids Directive 17
H. Outlook 19

An Agenda for Reform: Company and Takeover Law in Europe
by Gérard Hertig and Joseph A. McCahery ......................................................................... 21

A. Introduction 21
B. Reflections on Regulatory Arbitrage and Competition 23
C. The Proposed EU Company and Takeover Law Reforms 29
D. An Alternative Approach to Corporate Law Reform 38
E. Conclusion 45

References 46

Trusteeship and Conflicts of Interest in Corporate, Banking and Agency Law: Toward Common Legal Principles for Intermediaries in the Modern Service-Oriented Society by Klaus J. Hopt ............................................................................................................................ 51

A. Introduction 52
B. Duties of Loyalty of Corporate Organs Under Special Contracts and of Professional Intermediaries: A Survey 53
C. Sources, Differences, and Common Features of the Duties of Loyalty of Intermediaries 62
D. Common Legal Principles for Treating Conflicts of Interest 67
E. Prevention of Conflicts of Interest, Sanctions, and Enforcement 80
F. Summary 86
A Modern Regulatory Framework for Company and Takeover Law in Europe
by Michel Prada ................................................................. 89

Chapter 2: Regulation of Corporate Governance, in Particular Disclosure Disclosure and Corporate Governance: An Overview Essay
by Reinier Kraakman .............................................................. 95

A. Introduction 95
B. The Governance Functions of Disclosure 97
C. Why Make Disclosure Mandatory? 99
D. What Companies Are Subject to Mandatory Disclosure? 101
E. The Enforcement of Disclosure Rules 106
F. The Limits of Mandatory Disclosure 110

Disclosing Disclosure: Europe’s Winding Road to Competitive Standards of Publication of Company-Related Information by Hanno Merkt ................................................................. 115

A. Introduction 115
B. Fundamentals of Disclosure 117
C. General Principles of Disclosure 139
D. Sanctioning of Disclosure Duties 143
E. Conclusion 144

Chapter 3: Modern Company Law-Making
About Techniques of Regulating Companies in the European Union
by Eddy Wymeersch .............................................................. 145

A. Regulation of Companies and Their Conduct 145
B. The Regulation of Companies at the EU Level 160
C. Which Way Forward? 169
D. Conclusion 182

Part II: Corporate Governance: Inside the Corporation

Chapter 4: Board Structure, in Particular the Role of Non-Executive and Supervisory Directors
Post-Enron Developments in the United Kingdom
by Paul Davies ................................................................. 185

A. The Enron Issues and the British Response 185
B. General Points 188
Contents

C. Board Structure 193
D. Auditor Independence 206
E. Executive Remuneration 211
F. Analysts’ Conflicts of Interest 218
G. By Way of Conclusion: The Non-Barking Dog 220

Corporate Scandals Across the Globe: Regulating the Role of the Director by Jennifer Hill .......................................................... 225
A. Introduction 225
B. A Tale of Two Australian Corporate Collapses 227
C. Board Structure and Composition as a Contemporary Corporate Governance Tool 232
D. Director and Officer Liability as an Accountability Mechanism 253
E. Executive Remuneration 259
F. Conclusion 266

Chapter 5: The Remuneration of Executive and Non-Executive Directors .................................................. 267

Executive Remuneration and Corporate Governance in the EU: Convergence, Divergence, and Reform Perspectives by Guido Ferrarini and Niamh Moloney .................................................. 267
A. Theoretical Foundations 268
B. Comparative Overview 320
C. Reform Perspectives 340

Accounting for Share-Based Remuneration
by Kimberley Crook .......................................................... 347
A. Introduction 347
B. Overview of the Accounting Issues 348
C. U.S. Accounting Requirements 352
D. IASB Project 354
E. Concluding Comments 358
Appendix: IASB – Share-Based Payment 358

Chapter 6: The Responsibility of the Management and of the Board and Its Enforcement .................................................. 373

The Responsibility of the Management and Its Enforcement by Holger Fleischer .......................................................... 373
A. Introduction 373
B. Fiduciary Duties in Different Legal Systems 374
C. Duties to Creditors and the Responsibility for Wrongful Trading 393
D. Management Responsibility for Financial Statements 403
E. Directors’ Disqualification 408
Chapter 7: The Role of the Shareholder ................................................................. 417

The Role of the Shareholder in Internal Corporate Governance:
Shareholder Information, Communication and Decision-Making by Eilis Ferran ........................................................................................................ 417

A. Introduction 418
B. The Development of European Company Law 420
C. Shareholder Information 422
D. Beyond Disclosure: Active Exercise of Internal Control
   by Shareholders 436
E. A Concluding Observation 454

Chapter 8: The Auditors ..................................................................................... 455

Gatekeeper Failure and Reform: The Challenge of Fashioning Relevant Reforms
by John C. Coffee, Jr. ......................................................................................... 455

A. Introduction 455
B. Gatekeepers: Past and Present 460
C. The Near Future of Gatekeepers: Sarbanes-Oxley and the Looming Litigation Crisis 480
D. The Future Gatekeeper: Remedies for Gatekeeper Failure 489
E. Conclusion 505

Corporate Governance and Auditor Independence:
The Battle of the Private Versus the Public Interest
by Werner F. Ebke .............................................................................................. 507

A. Introduction 507
B. The Role and Position of the Independent Auditor 514
C. Auditor Independence 517
D. Public Oversight 536
E. Conclusions 538

Part III: Corporate Governance: The Market for Corporate Control and the Level Playing Field .............................................................................. 539

Chapter 9: American Experience and EU Perspectives ............................ 541

An American Perspective on Anti-Takeover Laws in the EU:
The German Example
by Jeffrey N. Gordon ......................................................................................... 541

A. Introduction 542
B. Germany and the 'Level Playing Field':
   The Problem of Economic Nationalism 545
C. The Different Impact of Anti-Takeover Measures,
   Germany vs US 548
Contents

D. Prospects for a Revised 13th Directive? 556
E. Conclusion 558

Why Continental European Takeover Law Matters
by Allen Ferrell ................................................................. 561
A. Why Worry About Continental European Takeover Regulation? 561
B. Interaction Between Technical and Structural Barriers to Takeovers 563
C. Standing the Test of Time? Two Case Studies 566
D. Conclusion 574

The Economics of the Proposed European Takeover Directive by Joseph A. McCahery, Luc Renneboog, Peer Ritter, and Sascha Haller ......................................................... 575
A. Introduction 576
B. Corporate Governance and the Cost of Capital 578
C. The Pattern of Ownership and Control in Europe 584
D. Explanations for Differences in Ownership and Control Concentration Across Companies and Countries 589
E. Takeovers in the European Union and the US: Evolution 599
F. The Determinants of Bidder and Target Returns in the Economic Literature 605
G. Takeover Regulation in the European Union 613
H. The Market for Corporate Control and Tender Offers 616
I. Board Neutrality 631
J. Squeeze-Out 635
K. The Level Playing Field Considered and Conclusions 644

Reciprocity in Takeovers
by Marco Becht ................................................................. 647
A. Introduction 647
B. Models of Corporate Control 651
C. Achieving Reciprocity 653
D. Reciprocity in Takeovers as a Policy Objective 659
E. Conclusion 662
F. Figures 665

Chapter 10: The Proposed ‘Break-Through’ Rule ................................................. 677

Ownership, Takeovers and EU Law: How Contestable Should EU Corporations Be?
by John C. Coates IV ............................................................. 677
A. The DTB and the BTR 677
B. The High-Level Goals of the DTB 680
C. Doubts About the BTR 682
D. Why Do Takeover-Proof Firms Exist? 690
E. Summary 702
F. Implications 703
Annex 2:

Annex 3:

Cases ......................................................................................................................................................... 1091
Index ........................................................................................................................................................ 1097