

Proportionate Sentencing

Exploring the Principles

Andrew von Hirsch
and
Andrew Ashworth

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Table of Cases	ix
Table of Legislation	xi
1. Introduction: The Scope of this Book	1
2. The Justification for Punishment's Existence: Censure and Prevention	12
3. Proportionate Sentences for Juvenile Offenders	35
4. Extending Sentences for Dangerous Offenders?: The Bottoms–Brownsword Model	50
5. Proportionate Punishment and Social Deprivation	62
6. Proportionality and Punitiveness?	75
7. Proportionality and the 'Penance' Perspective	92
8. Restorative Justice: A 'Making Amends' Model? (Co-author: Clifford Shearing)	110
9. Criteria for Proportionality: A Review	131
Appendix 1 Equity Factors in Sentencing	165
Appendix 2 Limiting Retributivism and 'Modified' Desert	180
Appendix 3 Gauging Crime Seriousness: A 'Living Standard' Conception of Criminal Harm (Co-author: Nils Jareborg)	186
Bibliography	220
Index	231