Contents

Acknowledgments iv
Map of African Countries Discussed viii

Introduction: Human Rights as an Ethical Framework for Advocacy 1
David Hollenbach

Part I
Displacement as a Human Rights Challenge

1 There Is More Than One Way of Dying: An Ethiopian Perspective on the Effects of Long-Term Stays in Refugee Camps 13
Abebe Feyissa, with Rebecca Horn

2 What We Owe to Refugees and IDPs: An Inquiry into the Rights of the Forcibly Displaced 27
William O'Neill

Part II
Camps, Settlement, and Human Rights

3 The Presence of the Burundian Refugees in Western Tanzania: Ethical Responsibilities as a Framework for Advocacy 53
Joint Commission for Refugees of the Burundi and Tanzania Episcopal Conferences

4 The Right to Freedom of Movement for Refugees in Uganda 77
Lucy Hovil and Moses Chrispus Okello

5 The Plight of Urban Refugees in Nairobi, Kenya 91
John Burton Wagacha and John Guiney

6 Protection as Capability Expansion: Practical Ethics for Assisting Urban Refugees 103
Loren B. Landau
Part III
Gender and the Rights of the Displaced

7 Sexual Violence, Gender Roles, and Displacement
   Binaifer Nowrojee 125

8 Justice, Women's Rights, and Forced Migration
   Susan Martin 137

Part IV
Conflict, Protection, and Return

9 Human Rights, the Use of Force, and Displacement in the Great Lakes Region:
   Reflections on a Troubling Trend
   Khoti Kamanga 163

10 Internally Displaced People, Sovereignty, and the Responsibility to Protect
   David Hollenbach 177

11 Internally Displaced Persons in Northern Uganda: A Challenge for Peace and Reconciliation
   Lam Oryem Cosmas 195

12 Justice and Peace: Reintegration and Reconciliation of Returning Displaced
   Persons in Postconflict Situations
   Stephen J. Pope 205

Part V
Ethics and Rights in Practice

13 Key Ethical Issues in the Practices and Policies of Refugee-Serving NGOs and Churches
   Agbonkhianmeghe E. Orobator 225

Contributors 245

Index 249