Contents

Notes on contributors ix

Introduction
Matthew Happold 1

1 The Security Council, the security imperative and international law
Nigel D. White 4

2 Ascertaining inchoate threats to international peace and security
Isobel Roele 23

3 Nuclear non-proliferation and the UN Security Council in a multipolar world: can international law protect states from the Security Council?
Daniel H. Joyner 43

4 Using force in international affairs: the role of international law in contemporary international politics
Dominika Švarc 68

5 Russia and competing spheres of influence: the case of Georgia, Abkhazia and South Ossetia
James Summers 91

6 Hegemony, multipolarity and the system of international law
Alexander Orakhelashvili 114
Contents

7 Orthodox generalists and political activists in international legal scholarship
   Jörg Kammerhofer 138

8 Basic rights and global justice: the problem of international coercion
   Silviya Lechner 158

9 The duality of the legitimacy of global actors in the international legal order
   Jean d'Aspremont and Eric de Brabandere 179

10 Democracy as a global norm: has it finally emerged?
    Christian Pippan 203

11 International law and East Asia's regional order: the strengthening of a fundamental institution
    Pablo Pareja-Alcaraz 224

12 Post-Soviet states and international law in a multipolar world
    Rima Tkatova 242

13 Universality, the UN and the Organization of the Islamic Conference: single, complementary or competing legal orders?
    Katja Samuel 263

14 The development of self-contained regimes as an obstacle to UN global governance
    Carmen Draghici 283

15 The relationship between Community law and international law after Kadi: did the ECJ slam the door on effective multilateralism?
    Aurel Sari 303

Index 323