Contents

Introduction: Rediscovering Public Law

I. ORIGINS

1. Medieval Origins
   - I. The Theological-Political Question
   - II. The Papal Monarchy
   - III. Empire and Papacy
   - IV. Theocratic Kingship
   - V. Regnum and Sacerdotium
   - VI. Conciliarism
   - VII. The Secularization of Government
   - VIII. Medieval and Modern Constitutionalism

2. The Birth of Public Law
   - I. The Methodological Turn
   - II. Bodin's Method
   - III. Absolutism
   - IV. The Constitution of Sovereignty
   - V. Modern Natural Law: Subjective Right, Security, and Sociability
   - VI. Transition Paradoxes

II. FORMATION

3. The Architecture of Public Law
   - I. Right Ordering
   - II. Early-Modern Formation
   - III. The Architectural Metaphor
   - IV. The Architecture of Power
   - V. Constitutional Architecture
Contents

4. The Science of Political Right: I

- I. Political Right
  - II. Rousseau's Science of Political Right
  - III. Sovereignty and Government in The Social Contract
  - IV. Modernity and German Idealism: Kant's Rechtslehre
  - V. The Formal Science of Political Right

5. The Science of Political Right: II

- I. Rousseau's Pessimism
- II. The Political Pact in Historical Practice
- III. Rousseau's Sociology of Political Right
- IV. Fichte's Foundations of Natural Right
- V. The Concept of Political Right in Hegel's Rechtsphilosophie
- VI. The Struggle for Recognition

6. Political Jurisprudence

- I. Public Law as Political Jurisprudence
- II. Power
- III. Liberty
- IV. The Grammar of Public Law

III. STATE

7. The Concept of the State

- I. Sovereignty: A Conceptual Sketch
- II. Status, Estate, State
- III. Staatslehre
- IV. Community, Society, State
- V. The State as a Scheme of Intelligibility

8. The Constitution of the State

- I. The Concept of the Constitution
- II. The Normative Power of the Factual
- III. Constituent Power
- IV. The Public Sphere
- V. Droit Politique as the Constitution of the State

9. State Formation

- I. European State-building Practices
- II. The Formation of the English Parliament
- III. Parliament and the Formation of the Modern State
Contents

IV. The Struggle for Responsible Government 255
V. The Formation of the Parliamentary State 259
VI. Representative and Responsible Government 262
VII. State, Law, and Constitution 268

IV. CONSTITUTION

10. The Constitutional Contract 275
   I. Modern Constitutions 276
   II. The Constitution as Contract 278
   III. Revolution and Constitution 282
   IV. The Constitution as Fundamental Law 288
   V. Constitutional Maintenance 297
   VI. Constitutional Patriotism 305
   VII. Reflexive Constitutionalism 310

11. Rechtsstaat, Rule of Law, l'Etat de droit 312
   I. The Ambiguous Character of the Rule of Law 312
   II. Origins 314
   III. Mode of Association 324
   IV. The Rule of Law as Liberal Aspiration 332
   V. Rechtsstaat or Staatsrecht? 337

12. Constitutional Rights 342
   I. Natural Rights, Civil Rights, Constitutional Rights 343
   II. Civil Society 346
   III. Bills of Rights 350
   IV. Constitutional Adjudication 356
   V. Subjective Rights and Objective Law 367

V. GOVERNMENT

13. The Prerogatives of Government 375
   I. Prerogative Power 376
   II. Locke on the Prerogative 383
   III. The Executive within Modern Republican Government 387
   IV. Government Growth, Executive Power, and Modern Constitutions 391
   V. Prerogative Transformed 396
   VI. Prerogative Sublated 402
14. Potentia 407
   I. The Disciplinary Revolution 408
   II. Cameralism 417
   III. The Police Power 422
   IV. Justice and Police 429
   V. The Growth of Administrative Power 432

15. The New Architecture of Public Law 435
   I. The Emergence of Administrative Law 435
   II. The English Quarrel with Administrative Law 440
   III. Administrative Government and the Separation of Powers 445
   IV. The Rise of the Ephorate 448
   V. The New Separation of Powers 452
   VI. The Transformation of Public Law 456
   VII. The Triumph of the Social? 461

Bibliography 467
Index 511