Contents

List of Contributors vii
Preface ix

Introduction
Dagmar Schiek and Anna Lawson 1

PART I DISCRIMINATION GROUNDS AND INTERSECTIONALITY: A REAPPRAISAL

1 Organizing EU Equality Law Around the Nodes of ‘Race’, Gender and Disability
   Dagmar Schiek 11

2 Intersections between Disability, Race and Gender in Discrimination Law
   Theresia Degener 29

3 Disadvantage at the Intersection of Race and Disability: Key Challenges for EU Non-Discrimination Law
   Anna Lawson 47

4 Tackling the Conceptual Order of Multiple Discrimination: Situating Different and Difficult Genealogies of Race and Ethnicity
   Ulrike M. Vieten 63

PART II TACKLING INTERSECTIONALITY AT NATIONAL LEVELS

5 Women with Disability in Turkey and France
   Ayse Idil Aybars 79

6 Promises of an Intersectional Approach in Practice? The Dutch Equal Treatment
   Commission’s Case Law
   Susanne Burri 97

7 Intersectional Discrimination and the Underlying Assumptions in the French and German Headscarf Debates: An Adequate Legal Response?
   Stephanie Fehr 111

8 The Status of Muslim Minority Women in Greece: Second Class
   European Citizens?
   Stergios Kofinis 125
PART III CONVINCING THE JUDICIARY TO ENTERTAIN INTERSECTIONAL ANALYSIS

11 Identity-based Discrimination and the Barriers to Complexity

Suzanne B. Goldberg

12 The Assimilationist Anti-Discrimination Paradigm and the Immigrant Muslim Woman: Suggestions on How to Re-Conceptualize Discrimination Claims

Lynn Roseberry

13 A Legal Remedy for Corpulent Women of Colour

Iyiola Solanke

PART IV INTERSECTIONS BETWEEN GENDER, ‘RACE’ AND DISABILITY FROM EU PERSPECTIVES

14 Gendered Experiences of Racial Discrimination: Comparative Socio-Legal Research

Isabelle Carles, Erica Howard and Eleonore Kofman

15 EU Non-Discrimination Law and Policies in Reaction to Intersectional Discrimination against Roma Women in Central and Eastern Europe

Kristina Koldinská

16 Intersectionality in EU Law: A Critical Re-appraisal

Dagmar Schiek and Jule Mulder

Bibliography

Index