CONTENTS

Foreword by Charles E. Hammer xiii
Preface xv
Acknowledgments xvii

PART I: INTRODUCTION

1. General Information
   Kenneth D. Sibley 1
   1.1 Using the Patent Statute Requires Planning 2
   1.2 An Overview of the Content and Chapters 2
   1.3 A Brief Overview of the Patent Statute 3
   1.4 A Case Study: The Production of Acetone with Clostridium Acetobutylicum 6
       References 9

2. Patent Claims
   Kenneth D. Sibley 11
   2.1 The Central Role of Patent Claims 11
   2.2 General Rules of Claim Interpretation 12
   2.3 The Practical Interpretation of Patent Claims 14
   2.4 Examples of Patent Claims in Biotechnology 16
       References 23

3. The Legal Decision-Making Process
   William M. Atkinson 27
   3.1 The Patent Application Process 27
   3.2 Proceedings on Issued Patents 36
   3.3 Miscellaneous Matters 41
       References 43

4. Ownership of Tangible and Intellectual Property
   David E. Broome, Jr. 49
   4.1 Tangible Property versus Intangible Property 49
   4.2 Trade Secret Issues 53
   4.3 Ownership of Intellectual Property 54
       References 58

PART II: BASIC REQUIREMENTS OF PATENTABILITY

5. Patentable Subject Matter
   Brian P. O'Shaughnessy 61
10. Competitive Research

Kenneth D. Sibley

10.1 Priority of Invention under the First-to-Invent System 154
10.2 Applying the First-to-Invent System to Inventions Made Outside the United States 164
10.3 Interference Procedure: Initiation of Interferences 164
10.4 Priority under the First-to-File System 166
References 167

11. Plant Biotechnology

Virginia C. Bennett

11.1 Plant Patents 171
11.2 The Plant Variety Protection Act of 1970 175
11.3 Trade Secrets 177
11.4 Plants as Tangible Property 178
11.5 Utility Patents 178
11.6 The Strategy of Protecting Plants 179
11.7 International Considerations in Plant Protection 180
References 183

12. Foreign Patents

Kenneth D. Sibley

12.1 Avoiding Forfeiture of Foreign Patent Rights 188
12.2 Choosing Where to File Foreign Applications 190
12.3 Strategy: Preserve Foreign Rights and Defer Foreign Costs 191
12.4 An Approach to Securing Foreign Patents 194
12.5 Conclusion 198
References 198

PART IV: PATENT LITIGATION

13. Substantive Aspects of Patent Litigation

James D. Myers, Brian P. O'Shaughnessy, and Robert W. Glatz

13.1 The Patent Grant 202
13.2 Patent Infringement 203
13.3 Patent Validity in the Courts 216
13.4 Patent Enforceability in the Courts 219
13.5 Estoppel Applied to the Accused Infringer 223
References 223

James D. Myers and Robert W. Glatz

14.1 Steps Taken Prior to a Lawsuit 231
14.2 Initiating the Suit 232
Contents

14.3 The Discovery Phase .......................................................... 235
14.4 Determination of the Issues ............................................... 242
14.5 Alternative Dispute Resolution and Settlement .......................... 247
References ............................................................................... 247

Index .................................................................................... 253