Access to Criminal Justice

Edited by

Richard Young

and

David Wall

Foreword by The Right Hon. Sir Thomas Bingham

BLACKSTONE PRESS LIMITED
Contents

Foreword by The Right Hon. Sir Thomas Bingham v

Preface xi

List of Contributors xiii

1 Criminal Justice, Legal Aid, and the Defence of Liberty — Richard Young and David Wall 1

I Criminal legal aid in England and Wales — II Access to criminal justice and the defence of liberty — III The role of legal aid in society — IV The administration of criminal legal aid — V Controlling the costs of legal aid — VI The impact of legal aid reforms: Structural constraints on access to justice — VII Conclusion

2 The Development of Criminal Legal Aid in England and Wales — Tamara Goriely 26

8 Administrative Justice Within the Legal Aid Board: Reviews by Caseworkers and Area Committees of Refusals of Criminal Legal Aid Applications — Adrian Wood 164

I Introduction — II The political and historical context of the review mechanism — III Pattern of applications — IV Professional domination of the system — V The dynamics of the caseworker/area committee relationship — VI Evaluating Area Office decision-making — VII Conclusion

9 Controlling Lawyers' Costs Through Standard Fees: An Economic Analysis — Alastair Gray, Paul Fenn and Neil Rickman 192

I Introduction — II Standard fees and economic theory — III Simulation study — IV Standard fees and solicitor behaviour — V Conclusions

10 Criminal Legal Aid Expenditure: Supplier or System Driven? The Case of Scotland — Elaine Samuel 217

I Introduction — II Supplier-induced demand and criminal legal aid — III The criminal justice system and legal aid in Scotland — IV Criminal legal aid as system driven: late changes of plea — V Custody courts — VI Assistance by way of representation — VII Intermediate diets — VIII Conclusion

11 Legal Firms, Lawyers' Attitudes and Criminal Legal Aid in Scotland — Karen Kerner 238

I Introduction — II The research samples — III Who does legal aid work in Scotland? — IV Defence agents' opinions and attitudes — V Changes desired and implemented in Scottish criminal legal aid — VI Conclusion

12 Access to Justice in the Police Station: An Elusive Dream? — Andrew Sanders 254

I Introduction: the theoretical and historical background — II Securing legal advice — III Influences on request rates — IV The nature and quality of legal advice and assistance — V Addressing the quality issue — VI Conclusion

13 The Reform of Criminal Legal Aid — Lee Bridges 276

I A cautionary tale — II Ideology versus pragmatic reform — the Green Paper — III From an open to a controlled market for legal services — IV Conclusion
Contents

14 Criminal Legal Aid Reforms and the Restructuring of Legal Professionalism — Hilary Sommerlad 292

I Introduction — II The classical paradigm of legal professionalism and its erosion — III The impact of the new managerialism upon professional autonomy — IV Conclusion

15 Alternatives to Prosecution: Access to, or Exits from, Criminal Justice? — Adam Crawford 313

I Introduction — II Diversion from criminal prosecution: the 'alternatives' — III The role of state-funded legal aid — IV The involvement of lawyers — V The role of the Crown Prosecution Service — VI The voice of the victim — VII The problem of 'net widening' — VIII Exits from, or access to, justice? — IX Managerialist and normative aims: an unresolvable conflict? — X Conclusion

Bibliography 345

Index 367