

Combatting Child Abuse
International Perspectives and Trends

Edited by
Neil Gilbert

New York    Oxford
OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
1997

Contents

Contributors	xi
Introduction	3
I. CHILD PROTECTIVE ORIENTATION
1. United States: California's Reporting System Ruth Lawrence-Karski	9
2. Canada: Trends and Issues in Child Welfare Karen J. Swift	38
3. England: Child Abuse Reports, Responses, and Reforms David Berridge	72
II. FAMILY SERVICE ORIENTATION— MANDATORY REPORTING
4. Sweden: Towards a Deresidualization of Swedish Child Welfare Policy and Practice? Sven E. Olsson Hort	105
5. Denmark: Voluntary Placements as a Family Support Vita L. Bering Pruzan	125
6. Finland: Child Abuse as a Family Problem Tarja Pösö	143
III. FAMILY SERVICE ORIENTATION— NONMANDATORY REPORTING
7. Belgium: An Alternative Approach to Child Abuse Reporting and Treatment Catherine Marneffe and Patrick Broos	167

8. The Netherlands: Responding to Abuse—Compassion or Control?	192
Marian A. S. Roelofs and Herman E. M. Baartman
9. Germany: A Nonpunitive Model	212
Reinhart Wolff
Conclusion: A Comparative Perspective	232
Index	241