CONTENTS

Preface .......................................................... ix
Introduction ...................................................... xi

SECTION I
INTERVIEWING AND INTERROGATION TECHNIQUES .... 1

PART 1 PRELIMINARY CONSIDERATIONS ................. 3

Chapter 1 — Distinctions between Interviews and Interrogations ................. 5
Characteristics of an Interview ......................... 5
Characteristics of an Interrogation .................... 7
Benefits of Conducting an Interview before an Interrogation ......................... 9
Conclusion ..................................................... 10

Chapter 2 — Obtaining and Evaluating Factual Information .... 11
Developing the Case Facts ......................... 11
Conclusion ..................................................... 23

Chapter 3 — Case Solution Possibilities ...................... 25
Evaluating Possible Motives ......................... 26
Evaluating Characteristics of the Crime ............... 28
Chapter 4 — Initial Precautionary Measures for the Protection of the Innocent

Eyewitness Identifications and Motivations for False Accusations
Repressed Memories
Intent Issues
Circumstantial Evidence

Chapter 5 — Privacy and the Interview Room

Privacy
Minimize Reminders of Consequences
Suggestions for Setting Up the Interview Room

Chapter 6 — Qualifications, Attitude, and General Conduct of the Investigator

Interviewer Qualifications
Initial Interview Procedures
Investigator Demeanor during an Interview
Interviewing Approaches for Difficult Suspects
Interrogator Qualifications
Investigator Conduct during an Interrogation
Conclusion

PART 2 INTERVIEWING TECHNIQUES

Chapter 7 — Preparation and Starting the Interview

Formal versus Informal Interviews
Arranging the Formal Interview
Preparing for the Interview
Establishing Rapport
The Use of an Introductory Statement
Conclusion

Chapter 8 — Formulating Interview Questions

Asking an Initial Open Question
Brief Analysis of the Nine Steps of Interrogation . . . 212
Preliminary Preparations for Applying the Nine Steps ........................................... 216
Step 1—Direct, Positive Confrontation ................. 218
Step 2—Theme Development .......................... 232
Step 3—Handling Denials ............................... 303
Step 4—Overcoming Objections .......................... 330
Step 5—Procurement and Retention of a
Suspect's Attention ................................... 337
Step 6—Handling the Suspect's Passive Mood ............ 345
Step 7—Presenting an Alternative Question ............... 352
Step 8—Having the Suspect Orally Relate
Various Details of the Offense ......................... 365
Step 9—Converting an Oral Confession into a Written Confession ................................ 374

Chapter 14—Recommendations for Interrogators .... 399
The Exercise of Patience and Persistence ........... 399
Interrogation of Witnesses and Other
Prospective Informants .............................. 405

Chapter 15—Distinguishing between True and False
Confessions .......................................... 411
Categories of False Confessions ....................... 412
Confession Voluntariness ............................. 417
Confession Trustworthiness ............................ 424
Confession Corroboration .............................. 432
Interrogation Research ................................. 441
Conclusion ............................................. 446

Chapter 16—Testifying on a Confession ............ 449
Testimony Preparation ................................ 450
The Court's View of the Witness ..................... 453
The Witness's Behavioral Responses to Questions .............................................. 457
Direct Testimony ...................................... 463
Cross-Examination .................................... 467
Conclusion ............................................. 472
SECTION II
THE LAW ON CRIMINAL INTERROGATION
AND CONFESSIONS 475

Chapter 17—Interrogation Law 477
“Picking Up” a Suspect for Interrogation 477
Permissible Interrogation Tactics and Techniques 484
 Constitutional Rights and the Responsibilities of the Interrogator 489
 Required Elements for Invocation
 of Miranda Rights 498
 The Nature, Form, and Requirements of a
 Waiver of Rights 500
 The Interrogation of Juvenile Suspects 518

Chapter 18—Confession Law 523
 Historical Review of the Tests of Confession
 Admissibility 523
 Legal Obligations before Conducting an
 Interrogation 542
 Warnings of Constitutional Rights to Custodial Suspects 552
 Confession Voluntariness 594

Appendix A—The Behavior Analysis Interview in a
Homicide Case 619

Index 627