Capital Markets in the Age of the Euro

Cross-Border Transactions, Listed Companies and Regulation

Editors
Guido Ferrarini
Klaus J. Hopt
Eddy Wymeersch

KLUWER LAW INTERNATIONAL
THE HAGUE / LONDON / NEW YORK
PART I THE INTERNAL MARKET AND INVESTOR PROTECTION

1 Financial services and the internal market
   David O'Keeffe and Nelius Carey
   1.1 Introduction 3
   1.2 Freedom to provide services under the EC Treaty 4
   1.3 Exceptions to the principle of free movement of services 5
   1.4 Recent developments in financial services regulation 9
   1.5 The application of internal market rules to financial services 13
   1.6 Conclusion 16

2 Investor protection and the Treaty: an uneasy relationship
   Niamh Moloney
   2.1 Introduction 17
   2.2 The significance of the relationship between the Treaty and investor protection 19
   2.3 Investor protection and the provision of investment services: key concepts 22
   2.4 The Treaty and investor protection: the Treaty free movement provisions and national investor protection rules 25
   2.5 The Treaty and investor protection: harmonisation policy 32
   2.6 The Treaty and investor protection: investor participation in the law-making process 53
   2.7 The Treaty and investor protection: a Securities Commission 56
   2.8 Conclusion 60
PART II CONDUCT OF BUSINESS

3 Conduct of business rules and their implementation in the EU Member States 65
  Michel Tison
  3.1 Introduction 65
  3.2 The inclusion of conduct of business rules in the ISD and their implementation in the EU Member States 66
  3.3 Characteristics of Article 11 and its implementation in the EU Member States 73
  3.4 Rules of conduct and the principles of free movement under primary EC law 89
  3.5 Further prospects: FESCO, the FSAP and the Lamfalussy Report 94
  3.6 Conclusions 98

4 The sophisticated investor and the ISD 101
  Jane Welch
  4.1 Introduction 101
  4.2 Authorisation and prudential supervision 102
  4.3 Regulation of conduct of business 102
  4.4 FESCO initiatives 103
  4.5 Provision of services under the Second Banking Directive 104
  4.6 National jurisdiction and cross-border business 105
  4.7 Classification of investors 106
  4.8 Commission Communication on Article 11 108
  4.9 Proportionality 109
  4.10 Regulation of branch business 109
  4.11 What are ‘conduct of business’ rules? 110
  4.12 Classification of investors 110
  4.13 The E-Commerce Directive 111
  4.14 ‘Home state’ versus ‘country of origin’ 112
  4.15 A move to home state control via the general good test 112

5 Conduct of business rules and collective investment schemes 115
  Filippo Annunziata
  5.1 Introduction 115
  5.2 Conduct of business rules and investment services regulation 116
  5.3 Are conduct of business rules necessary for collective investment schemes? 118
  5.4 An example: conflicts of interest and CIS 119
  5.5 Other possible issues: best execution, suitability, disclosure 122
  5.6 The development of new types of CIS 123
PART III  FINANCIAL SERVICES AND THE INTERNET

6  Trading on-line and the protection of the consumer
Guido Alpa
6.1  The legal framework
6.2  The Directive on electronic commerce
6.3  The distance marketing of consumer financial services
6.4  The distance marketing of consumer financial services in Italy
6.5  Some critical observations: the legislative approach
6.6  The marketing of financial services on-line

7  Is the E-Commerce Directive the best solution to achieving an integrated internal market in financial services?
Carlo Biancheri
7.1  The Internet and the offer of financial services: an introduction
7.2  The purpose of the E-Commerce Directive: the creation of the internal market for services in the information society – the Treaty framework
7.3  The financial services sector
7.4  Final remarks

8  Jurisdiction, conflicts of law and the Internet
William Blair and David Quest
8.1  Introduction
8.2  Contracts on the Internet
8.3  False statements on the Internet
8.4  Regulation on the Internet
8.5  The future
A Comment by Luca G. Radicati di Brozolo

PART IV  EXCHANGE GOVERNANCE

9  Customer-controlled firms: the case of financial exchanges
Carmine Di Noia
9.1  Introduction
9.2  Financial exchanges: from cooperatives to for-profit companies
9.3  Customer-controlled firms
9.4  The ownership structure of financial exchanges
9.5  Governance of exchanges, conflicts of interest and self-regulation
9.6  Conclusions
10 Different stock exchange interest groups

Susanne Kalss

10.1 Preface 193
10.2 The stock exchange as a firm 195
10.3 Generally affected interests on the stock exchange 196
10.4 Legal status quo ante 199
10.5 Reasons for the legal structure 202
10.6 The nature of mutual enterprises 203
10.7 Change of interest positions – economic background 204
10.8 Legal framework 209
10.9 Legal reasons 209
10.10 Changes in the field of interest and its legal framework 212
10.11 Going public 214
10.12 Special issues of a stock exchange concerning the capital market 214
10.13 Summary 216

11 Is governance an issue for plumbers? Preliminary remarks on consolidation of securities settlement systems

Giovanni Sabatini and Isadora Tarola

11.1 Introduction 217
11.2 Current market developments and new challenges 220
11.3 Automation, economies of scale and network effects 225
11.4 The importance of the governance structure 227
11.5 Recent economic theories on corporate governance 230
11.6 The issue of corporate governance structure in securities settlement systems 232

PART V TRANSNATIONAL MARKETS

12 Securities regulation and the rise of pan-European securities markets: an overview

Guido Ferrarini

12.1 Introduction 241
12.2 Regulated markets and the ISD 252
12.3 Market abuse 264
12.4 Stock exchanges and the Listing Directive 271
12.5 Financial reporting and disclosure 277
12.6 Towards a new institutional structure 282
12.7 Conclusions 287
Contents

13 Regulatory implications of an exchange merger 289
    Susanne Bergsträßer
    13.1 Introduction 289
    13.2 Outline of the plans to merge Deutsche Börse AG and the London Stock Exchange Limited into iX-International Exchanges plc 289
    13.3 The regulatory work involved in the project 290
    13.4 Supervision of cross-border securities and exchange activities in a European context 292
    13.5 The efforts of FESCO to realise a common market for financial services 294
    13.6 Conclusion 295

14 The performance of European stock exchanges: evidence from listing decisions 297
    Marco Pagano
    14.1 The changing geography of equity listings 298
    14.2 The role of exchange and country characteristics in cross-listing decisions 299
    14.3 The role of company characteristics in cross-listing decisions 301
    14.4 Main findings and lessons for the future 302

15 Internationalisation of primary public securities markets revisited 305
    Hal S. Scott
    15.1 Refinements of the proposal 306
    15.2 The European Commission’s Common Prospectus
        Proposal 310
    15.3 A reprise on harmonisation 312

16 Cross-border financial transactions: 25 questions to consider in making risk management decisions 315
    Andrea M. Corcoran
    16.1 Introduction 316
    16.2 Transparency 318
    16.3 Liquidity 324
    16.4 Accountability 327
    16.5 Certainty 332
    16.6 Conclusion 336
    Annex I: 25 questions to consider in making risk management decisions 338
    Annex II: International financial institutions and international standard-setting bodies 340
    Annex III: Transparency 342
    Annex IV: Liquidity 350
PART VI CROSS-BORDER TAKEOVERS

18 The duties of the directors of the target company in hostile takeovers – German and European perspectives
Klaus J. Hopt
18.1 The fundamental issue: obligation of neutrality or business judgement of the board of the target company in hostile takeovers 392
18.2 Duties of the directors of the target company 407
18.3 Duties of the board of the target company before and after a successful takeover bid 425

19 Takeovers and conflicts of law
Anton K. Schnyder
19.1 Introduction 427
19.2 Problems relating to conflicts of law and procedural provisions applying in the event of a takeover by way of the acquisition of a shareholding 429

20 The 13th Directive on takeover bids – formation and principles
Philippe Lambrecht
20.1 Introduction 442
20.2 Formation of the 13th Directive 443
20.3 Principles 444
20.4 Conclusion 464
PART VII  COMPANY LAW AND JURISDICTIONAL COMPETITION

21 The use of ICT in company law matters
   Eddy Wymeersch
   21.1 Introduction 469
   21.2 The use of ICT in general company law 470
   21.3 The use of ICT in listed companies 474
   21.4 Looking into the future 499

22 Centros and the proper law of companies
   Peter Behrens
   22.1 Recognition of companies 503
   22.2 Seat transfer 513
   22.3 Cross-border restructuring of enterprises 518
   22.4 Conclusions 526

23 The Centros case and the rise of an EC market for corporate law
   Francesco Munari and Paolo Terrile
   23.1 Introduction 529
   23.2 The Treaty provisions on the freedom of establishment 531
   23.3 The facts of the Centros case and the judgment of the Court 535
   23.4 The Court's Opinion with respect to the operation of right of secondary establishment 537
   23.5 The effects of the Centros judgment 539
   23.6 The scope and operation of a duty of deference by the host Member State 540
   23.7 The effects of Centros on private international laws of Member States 543
   23.8 The protection of host Member State legitimate interests after Centros 546
   23.9 The general framework of an EC market for corporate law 549
   23.10 The demand side of an EC market for corporate law 550
   23.11 EC Member States as suppliers of corporate law 553
   23.12 The differences in national legal systems, the market for incorporation and the rise of a market for corporate law 555
   23.13 An EC market for incorporations as a market without reincorporation 557
   23.14 The convergence of national legal systems in the absence of an active EC market for corporate law 558
Contents

24 Regulatory competition in European company law – some different genius?
Stefan Grundmann
24.1 State of the art: US American precedence and the European discussion
24.2 A framework for discussing and designing regulatory competition in European company law
24.3 The market for corporate finance (capital)
24.4 Formation of companies – mainly capitalisation
24.5 Seat transfers and restructuring firms

Index