Corporations and Transnational Human Rights Litigation

SARAH JOSEPH
Monash University, Melbourne
Contents

Series Editor's Preface  ix
Preface  xi

1 Introduction

- Informal Accountability  6
- Self Regulation  7
- Legal Accountability  8
  - International Human Rights Law  8
  - National Laws  11
  - Extraterritorial Laws  12
- Transnational Human Rights Litigation against Corporations  13
  - Criminal Liability  13
  - Civil Liability  14
  - Common Law and Civil Law  15
  - Litigation in the United States of America  16
  - Litigation in non-US forums  19
- Conclusion  20

2 The Alien Tort Claims Act

- Historical Development of the ATCA  21
- Human Rights Norms within ‘the Law of Nations’  22
- Requirement of State Action  33
  - Abstention Issues Associated with State Action Doctrine  39
  - Act of State  40
  - Political Question  44
  - Comity  46
- Private Actor Abuses  48
- A Summary of Corporate Complicity under ATCA  50
- The International Treaty Limb of ATCA  53
- Choice of Law under ATCA  54
- The Future for ATCA  55
  - Rolling back Filartiga: Attacks upon the ATCA in Litigation  55
  - Potential Legislative Amendments  60
  - Consequences of Defusing the ATCA  61
- The Torture Victim Protection Act  61
- Conclusion  63
3 Other Jurisdictional Bases in the US 65
  Tort Jurisdiction 65
    A Brief Overview of Relevant Tort Principles 67
    Doe v Unocal 68
  Other Examples of Transitory Tort Cases 72
  Choice of Law 74
  Do Tort Cases against Private Sector Parties Raise Human Rights Issues? 76
  Jurisdiction under § 1331 77
  Liability under RICO 78
  Conclusion 81

4 Procedural Obstacles in the US 83
  Personal Jurisdiction 83
    Forum non Conveniens 87
    Deference to Plaintiff's Choice 88
    Adequate Alternative Forum 89
    Public Interests Considerations 92
    Weighing Respective Private Interests 94
    Retaliatory Legislation: Trumping Forum non Conveniens? 96
    Conditional FNC Dismissals 97
    Conclusion on FNC in the US 98

5 A New Front: The Nike Case 101
  The Case of Kasky v Nike 101
  Assessment of the Nike Case 106
    Corporate Rights of Freedom of Expression 107
    Corporate Silence: An Undesirable Consequence of the Nike Case 109
    Improving the Quality of the Debate regarding Corporations and Human Rights 111

6 Transnational Human Rights Litigation in Other Countries 113
  England 113
    Extraterritorial Jurisdiction over Corporations 113
    Subject Matter Jurisdiction 115
    Forum non Conveniens in England 115
    Choice of Law 119
    Advantages and Disadvantages of Litigation in England 120
  Australia 122
  Canada 125
  Conclusion 128
Contents

7 Parent Corporation Liability in Transnational Human Rights Cases 129
   The Corporate Veil 129
   Joint Liability 132
   Direct Parent Liability 134
   Multinational Group Liability 138
   Multinational Economic Networks 142
   Conclusion 143

8 Conclusion 145
   Summary of Current Litigation 145
   Is Transnational Human Rights Litigation against TNCs 'a Good Thing'? 148
   Litigation Pressure will Increase 151
   The Limits of Transnational Human Rights Litigation against Companies 153
   An International Approach? 153

Appendix: Table of Selected Cases 155

Index 171