Theory and Method in Socio-Legal Research

Edited by
Reza Banakar and Max Travers

Onati International Series in Law and Society

A SERIES PUBLISHED FOR THE ONATI INSTITUTE
FOR THE SOCIOLOGY OF LAW

HART PUBLISHING
OXFORD AND PORTLAND OREGON
2005
Contents

List of Contributors .......................................................... vii

Introduction
Reza Banakar and Max Travers ............................................. ix

1. Law, Sociology and Method
Reza Banakar and Max Travers ............................................. 1

SECTION 1: METHOD VERSUS METHODOLOGY

Introduction to Section One
Reza Banakar and Max Travers ............................................. 27

2. Socio-Legal Ethnography
John Flood ................................................................. 33

3. Systems Theory and Qualitative Socio-Legal Research
Klaus A Ziegert ............................................................ 49

SECTION 2: ETHNOGRAPHY AND LAW

Introduction to Section Two
Reza Banakar and Max Travers ............................................. 69

4. Courses of Mobilisation: Writing Systematic Micro-Histories of Legal Discourse
Thomas Scheffer ............................................................. 75

5. ‘Standpoint’, ‘Difference’ and Feminist Research
Samia Bano ....................................................................... 91

6. Using Ethnography as a Tool in Legal Research:
An Anthropological Perspective
Anne Griffiths ............................................................... 113

SECTION 3: STUDYING LEGAL TEXTS

Introduction to Section Three
Reza Banakar and Max Travers ............................................. 133

7. Studying Cases Empirically: A Sociological Method for Studying
Discrimination Cases in Sweden
Reza Banakar ................................................................. 139

8. Researching Ombudsmen
Mary Seneviratne ............................................................ 161
9. Researching Discourse and Behaviour as Elements of Law in Action
   Bettina Lange .................................................................175

SECTION 4: STRUCTURAL APPROACHES

   Introduction to Section Four
   Reza Banakar and Max Travers .........................................195

10. How to Study Danish Judges
    Ole Hammerslev .............................................................203

    John Paterson and Günther Teubner ..................................215

SECTION 5: STUDYING LEGAL CULTURES

   Introduction to Section Five
   Reza Banakar and Max Travers .........................................239

12. Doing Research into Comparative Criminal Justice
    David Nelken .................................................................245

13. Researching Legal Culture in Russia:
    From Asking the Question to Gathering the Evidence
    Marina Kurkchiyan ........................................................259

SECTION 6: SOCIO-LEGAL RESEARCH IN THE UK

   Introduction to Section Six
   Reza Banakar and Max Travers .........................................279

14. Constructing a Typology of Administrative Grievances:
    Reconciling the Irreconcilable
    Michael Adler ..............................................................283

15. The Formalisation of Research Ethics
    Andrew Boon .................................................................301

16. Evaluation Research and Legal Services
    Max Travers .................................................................327

Bibliography .................................................................347

Index .............................................................................373