EU Competition Law and Regulation in the Converging Telecommunications, Media and IT Sectors

By

Dr. Nikos Th. Nikolinakos (LL.B, LL.M, Ph.D)

IKRP Rokas & Partners Law Firm – Senior Member of the Telecoms, Media & IT Practice

Regulaid B.V., Regulatory Consultancy Firm – Associate Partner

National Technical University of Athens (NTUA), postgraduate degree on Internet Technology and Broadband Networks – Visiting Lecturer

Athens Information Technology (AIT) – Teaching Fellow on electronic communications policy and law
Contents

Introduction

1. Privatization – Liberalization – Regulation – Competition 1
2. Structure of this book 14

PART I: THE EVOLUTION OF EU TELECOMMUNICATIONS POLICY AND LAW 19

Chapter 1: The Transition from a Regime of a State-run Monopoly to a Liberalized Market 21

1. Introduction 21
2. Policy Papers
   2.1. The 1987 Green Paper 22
   2.2. Satellite Communications 23
   2.3. The Creation of a Framework for Full Competition in Telecommunications Services
       2.3.1. The 1992 Review and the Council Resolution of 22 July 1993 25
       2.3.2. Bangemann ‘Information Society’ High Level Group and the 1994 Action Plan 27
   2.4. Extending Competition from Services to Network Infrastructure
       2.4.1. Infrastructure Green Paper (Part I) 29
       2.4.2. Infrastructure Green Paper (Part II) and the Communication of 3 May 1995 30
   2.5. The Mobile Green Paper: The Development Towards a Universal Mobile Telecommunications System 32
   2.6. The Rulings of the European Court of Justice on the Commission’s Use of Article 86 (ex 90) of the EC Treaty 35
3. Opening up of the Markets: Legislative Measures
   3.1. Opening the Market for Radio Equipment and Telecommunications Terminal Equipment
       3.1.1. The Terminal Equipment Directive
       3.1.2. The Internal Market for Radio and
        Telecommunications Terminal Equipment
   3.2. The Liberalization of Telecommunications Services and Infrastructure
       3.2.1. Services other than Public Voice Telephony
       3.2.2. The Satellites Directive
       3.2.3. Cable Television Networks
       3.2.4. The Mobile Directive
       3.2.5. The Full Competition Directive
4. The Framework for Harmonized Regulatory Principles:
   Legislative Measures
       4.1.1. The ONP Framework Directive
       4.1.2. The Leased Lines Directive
       4.1.3. The Voice Telephony Directive
       4.1.4. The Interconnection Directive
       4.1.5. The Licensing Directive
5. Concluding Remarks

PART II: THE APPLICATION OF EU
COMPETITION POLICY AND LAW TO THE
ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION SECTOR

Chapter 2: Access Agreements – Refusal to Supply and the Essential Facilities Doctrine under EU Competition Law

1. Introduction
2. Article 82 and Refusal to Deal – The Case Law of the ECJ
   2.1. Description of Cases
       2.1.1. Commercial Solvents v. Commission
       2.1.2. United Brands
       2.1.3. Telemarketing
       2.1.4. RTT v. GB-Inno-BM
       2.1.5. Magill
   2.2. Discussion
3. The Essential Facilities Doctrine in EU Law
   3.1. Discussion of the Commission’s Essential Facilities Cases
       3.1.1. B&I Line plc v. Sealink
       3.1.2. Sea Containers v. Stena Sealink
       3.1.3. Port of Roedby
       3.1.4. London European v. Sabena
       3.1.5. British Midland v. Aer Lingus
3.2. Summary of the Principles Emanating from the Essential Facilities Cases 81
3.3. The Rationale for an Essential Facilities Doctrine 82
3.4. Definition of Essential Facilities in the Access Notice 83
3.5. Access to Essential Facilities – Objective Justification for Refusing Access 83
3.6. The Dual-role Situation and the Significance of a Competitive Market Downstream of the Essential Facility 85
3.7. The Significance of New Entrants and New Products or Services 88
3.8. Special Duties Imposed on the Operators of Essential Facilities 89
3.9. Comments – Case Law of the ECJ and CFI 90

Chapter 3: Specific Issues of Competition Law 97

1. Excessive Pricing 98
   1.1. Theoretical Background 98
   1.2. The Approach in the Case-law 101
2. Price Discrimination and Other Exclusionary Pricing Practices such as Discounts and Rebates 104
   2.1. Theoretical Background 104
   2.2. The Approach in the Case-law 108
3. After-markets 113
   3.1. Theoretical Background 113
   3.2. The Approach in the Case-law 115
4. Tying 117
   4.1. Theoretical Background 117
   4.2. The Approach in the Case-law 121
5. Predation 123
   5.1. Theoretical Background 123
   5.2. The Approach in the Case-law 126

Chapter 4: Strategic Alliances and Mergers in the Converging Telecommunications, Media and IT Sectors 131

Section I: Horizontal Strategic Alliances 131
1. Introduction 131
2. Discussion of Cases 132
   BT-MCI 132
   Atlas and GlobalOne Cases 133
   Unisource and Uniworld Cases 136
3. Comments 137

Section II: Mergers and Strategic Alliances in the Emerging Multi-media Sector – EU Competition Policy 138
1. Introduction 138
2. Discussion of Cases 138
  2.1. MSG Media Service 138
  2.2. Nordic Satellite Distribution 139
  2.3. HMG Groep SA 140
  2.4. Kirch/Richemont/Telepiu 141
  2.5. Kirch/Richemont/Multichoice/Telepiu 142
  2.6. Bertelsmann/CLT 142
  2.7. Bertelsmann/Kirch/Premiere and Deutsche Telecom/
       BetaResearch 144
  2.8. Re Television Par Satellite 149
      2.8.1. The Relevant Product Markets 150
      2.8.2. Structure of the Market 152
      2.8.3. The Commission's Legal Assessment 153
  2.9. WorldCom/MCI 157
  2.10. MCI WorldCom/Sprint 160

Section III: Access to Premium Content – The Emergence of
New Media 162
  1. Introduction 162
  2. Access to Premium Content 162
  3. Brief discussion of Relevant Cases 164
Conclusions of Sections II and III 170
General Conclusion of Chapter 4 175

PART III: ADAPTING THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS
REGIME TO THE EMERGING MULTIMEDIA
ENVIRONMENT – THE EU ELECTRONIC
COMMUNICATIONS FRAMEWORK 177

Introduction 178

Chapter 5: The Challenges of Convergence to Regulatory Approaches – Nature and Scope of the Regulatory Regime 181
  1. Horizontal Regulation of Infrastructure – Split between Economic and Content Regulation 181
  2. Sector-specific Regulation and Competition Law 185
     2.1. Limitations of the Previous ONP Framework 185
     2.2. Limitations of Competition Law 187
     2.3. Interrelation between Competition Law and Sector-specific Regulation 187
     2.4. Comments 190
  3. Scope and Extent of the Infrastructure Regulatory Regime 192

Chapter 6: The Competition Directive 195
  2. Joint Provision of Cable and Telecommunications Networks by a Single Dominant Operator/Line-of-business Restrictions 197
2.1. Cross-ownership Hinders the Development of Multimedia Markets
2.2. Ineffectiveness of the Measure of Accounting Separation – Requirement for Legal Separation of Telephone and Cable Interests
2.3. Legal Separation Versus Structural Separation
2.4. Line-of-business Restrictions
2.5. Article 8 of the Competition Directive

Chapter 7: The Framework and Access Directives – Imposition of Specific Remedies

Section I
1. National Regulatory Authorities
2. Right of Appeal
3. Exchange and Provision of Information to NRAs and the Commission
4. Significant Market Power and Dominance – The Two-tier Approach is Abandoned
5. Undertakings with Significant Market Power (SMP)
6. Market Definition and Analysis Procedure
7. Consultation and Transparency Mechanism
8. Numbering – Availability of Numbers
9. Rights of Way/Co-location and Facility Sharing
10. Obligations of Accounting Separation and Financial Reports on Undertakings which Enjoy Special or Exclusive Rights in Other Sectors
11. Powers of NRAs Concerning Dispute Resolution
   11.1. Dispute Resolution Between Undertakings
   11.2. Resolution of Cross-border Disputes

Section II: Access/Interconnection
1. Rights and Responsibilities of Undertakings and NRAs in Relation to Access/Interconnection
2. Review of Former Obligations for Access and Interconnection
3. Imposition, Amendment or Withdrawal of Obligations

Section III: Imposition of Remedies as Set Out in the Specific Directives
1. Objectives for Selection of Remedies
2. Specific Obligations
   2.1. Obligation of Transparency
   2.2. Obligation of Non-discrimination
   2.3. Obligation of Accounting Separation
   2.4. Obligations of Access to, and Use of Specific Network Facilities
   2.5. Price Control and Cost Accounting Obligations
   2.6. Regulatory Controls on Retail Services
Contents

2.7. Regulatory Controls on the Minimum Set of Leased Lines 260
2.8. Carrier Selection and Carrier Pre-selection 263
Concluding Comments 263

Chapter 8: The EU Authorization Framework for Electronic Communications Networks and Services 269

1. Introduction 269
2. The Previous Licensing Directive 270
3. Major Problems and Assessment of the Previous Licensing Regime 270
   4.1. General Principles 274
   4.2. Simplification of the Licence Application Process 275
   4.3. Minimum Rights of Undertakings under the General Authorization 276
   4.4. Conditions Attached to the General Authorization and to the Rights of Use for Radio Frequencies and Numbers 277
   4.5. Compliance with the Conditions of the General Authorization or of Rights of Use 281
   4.6. Rights of Use for Radio Frequencies and Numbers – Procedure for Restricting the Number of Rights of Use to be Granted for Radio Frequencies 282
   4.7. Information Required under the General Authorization and for Rights of Use – Publication of Information 287
   4.8. Administrative Charges 289
   4.9. Modification of Rights and Obligations 292
Concluding Comments 292

Chapter 9: Universal Service Provision – End User Rights 295

Section I: Universal Service Provision 295
1. Introduction 295
2. Scope and Availability of Universal Service 297
3. Designated Undertakings Providing Universal Service 299
4. Provision of Access at Fixed Locations 300
5. Directory Enquiry Services and Directories 301
6. Public Pay Telephones 302
7. Specific Measures for Disabled Users, on Low Income and/or Persons with Special Social Needs 303
8. Affordability of Tariffs 305
9. Control of Expenditure and Provision of Additional Facilities 305
10. Quality of Service of Designated Undertakings 308
11. Costing of Universal Service Obligations 309
12. Financing of Universal Service Obligations 310
13. Review of the Scope of Universal Service 312
Section II: End User Rights
1. End User Contracts 315
2. Transparency and Publication of Information/Quality of Service 316
3. Accurate, Comprehensive and Accessible Tariff Information 318
   3.1. Accurate Tariff Information 318
   3.2. Comprehensive Information on Tariffs 319
   3.3. Accessible Tariff Information 319
4. Integrity of the Network 320
5. Operator Assistance and Directory Enquiry Services 320
6. Free Calls to Emergency Services 321
7. European Telephone Access Codes 325
8. Non-geographic Numbers 325
9. Provision of Additional Facilities 325
10. Number Portability 326
11. Handling of Complaints 326
12. Out-of-court Dispute Resolution 328

Chapter 10: Data Protection, Security and Confidentiality 333

Section I
1. General Data Protection Directive 333

Section II: Specific Measures in the Electronic Communications Sector 337
2. Directive on the Processing of Personal Data and the Protection of Privacy in the Electronic Communications Sector 337
   2.1. Security of Network and Services 338
   2.2. Confidentiality and Data Protection 339
   2.3. Traffic Data 341
   2.4. Itemised Billing 343
   2.5. Calling and Connected-line Identification 343
   2.6. Location Data Other than Traffic Data 346
   2.7. Automatic Call Forwarding 347
   2.8. Subscriber Telephone Directories 347
   2.10. Unsolicited Communications (Spam) 349
3. Proposed Directive on the Retention of Communications Traffic Data 355

Chapter 11: The Impact of the EU Electronic Communications Framework on the Broadcasting Sector 369

1. Authorization of Electronic Communications Networks and Services Used for the Provision of Broadcast Content 369
2. Assignment of Radio Frequencies for Broadcasting Purposes 370
3. Must-carry Obligations 372
Contents

4. Access Regime for Digital Gateways
   4.1. Structure of the Market – Identification of the Problem
   4.2. The Relevant Access Regulatory Regime
      4.2.1. Specific Provisions for Conditional Access Systems to Digital Radio and TV Broadcasts
      4.2.2. Access to Other Associated Facilities for Digital Television Interactive Services
   4.3. Digital Gateways – The Essential Facilities Doctrine and Sector Specific-regulation

5. Interoperability and Standardization of Digital Interactive Television Services
   5.1. Interoperability and Standardization
   5.2. Interoperability versus Product Differentiation
   5.3. Digital Gateways and Standardization
   5.4. Relevant Provisions in the Framework and the Specific Directives

6. The Role of Public Service Broadcasters in the Emerging Multi-media Environment

7. Funding of Public Service Broadcasters

Chapter 12: EU Radio Spectrum Policy in the Converging Environment

1. Introduction
2. Strategic Planning of the Use of Radio Spectrum: Political and Legal Framework in the Telecommunications Sector
3. The Commission’s Assessment of the Functioning of the Legal Framework
4. Major Issues Raised in the Consultation Process
   4.2. The Need to Balance the Varying Commercial and Public Interests in the Allocation of Radio Spectrum – Criteria to Identify Priorities
   4.3. Harmonization is not Suitable for all Circumstances
   4.4. Re-farming
   4.5. Radio Spectrum Assignment and Licensing
   4.6. Radio Equipment and Standards
   4.7. Ensuring Availability of Information on Spectrum Use
   4.8. The Radio Spectrum Decision
5. Concluding Remarks and Latest Developments
   5.1. Latest Developments – Spectrum Trading
   5.2. A New EU Strategy for an Optimal Use of Radio Spectrum
Chapter 13: Market Definition and Analysis of the Relevant Markets 451

Section I: The Markets Included in the Annex to the Commission Recommendation on Relevant Markets 451
  Retail Level 452
  Wholesale Level 457

Section II: Market Definition and Analysis Procedures for Electronic Communications Markets – A Practical Guide 478
  1. Market Definition 478
  2. Market Analysis and Imposition of Remedies 482
  3. Notification Procedures Before the European Commission 486

Section III: Methodology for Market Definition and Analysis of Electronic Communications Markets 492
  1. Market Definition Methodology 492
  1.1. Product Market 494
  1.2. Geographic Market 500
  1.3. The Commission’s Approach in Practice 503
  2. Market Analysis Methodology 516
  2.1. Case Law of the ECJ and CFI – The Commission’s Approach 516
  2.2. Collective Dominance 522

PART IV: SPECIFIC ISSUES: EU AUDIOVISUAL POLICY – CONTENT REGULATION/BROADBAND 535

Chapter 14: EU Audiovisual Policy – Content Regulation 537

  1. Introduction 537
  2. The ‘Television without Frontiers’ Directive 541
    2.1. Principles of Jurisdiction – Place of Establishment 543
    2.2. Responsibility of the Transmitting State to Check Compliance by Broadcasters 546
    2.3. Free Movement for Broadcasts – Freedom of Reception and Retransmission – Specific Exceptions to the Transmitting State Principle – Protection of Minors and Avoidance of Incitement to Racial, Sexual, Religious or National Hatred 546
    2.4. Rules Applicable to Domestic Broadcasters 548
    2.5. Events of Major Importance to the Public – List of Major Events – Notification to the Commission 549
    2.6. Measures to Promote European Programmes – Definition of European Works – Independent Productions 551
    2.7. Broadcasts of Cinematographic Works – Exclusion of ‘Local Television’ from European Content Requirements 553
2.8. Regulation of Television Advertising, Sponsorship and Teleshopping 553
  2.8.1. Advertising and Teleshopping 553
    Format 553
    Timing of Advertising and Teleshopping 554
    Content of Advertising and Teleshopping 555
  2.8.2. Sponsorship 557
  2.8.3. Advertising Quotas 557
    Teleshopping 558
  2.8.4. Possibility for Member States to Impose Stricter Rules 559
  2.8.5. Right of Reply 559

3. Protection of Minors and Human Dignity in Audiovisual and Information Services 560
  3.1. The Green Paper on the Protection of Minors and Human Dignity in Audiovisual and Information Services 560
  3.2. Council Recommendation on Protection of Minors and Human Dignity 563

4. Nature and Scope of Content Regulation for On-line Services 568
  4.1. Introduction 568
  4.2. Content Regulation of On-line Services 569
  4.3. Balance between Public Interest and Market Considerations: The Role of Self-regulation in the On-line Environment 572
    What Kind of Self-regulation? 573
    Comments 576

5. Towards a Modern Framework for Audiovisual Content: Media Regulation in the Converging Era 577
  5.1. A New Audio-visual Content Services Directive? 580
  5.2. The Scope of Future Audiovisual Content Regulation 581
    5.2.1. Definition of Audiovisual Content Services 583
    5.2.2. Basic Tier of Obligations 583
      i) Protection of Minors and Human Dignity 583
      ii) Identification of Commercial Content and Minimum Qualitative Obligations Regarding Commercial Communications 586
      iii) Right of Reply 587
      iv) Basic Identification/Masthead Requirements 588
    5.2.3. Determination of Jurisdiction – Territorial Competence 588
    5.2.4. The Regulation of Advertising 592
    5.2.5. Events of Major Importance to Society – Right to Information/Right to Short Reporting 596
    5.2.6. The Promotion of European Content and Independent Production 597
Chapter 15: Broadband

1. Introduction – Definition and Importance of ‘Broadband’ 601

2. Technologies/Platforms for the Provision of Broadband Access 602
   2.1. Wireline Platforms 602
   2.2. Wireless Platforms 605

3. Interaction Between Broadband Competition, Growth and Regulation 607
   Why Focus on DSL Regulation 609

4. Broadband Regulation 611
   4.1. Competition Law 611
   4.2. Regulating Local Loop Unbundling 613
      A. Regulating LLU under the Previous ONP Framework 613
         The LLU Working Document 614
         The LLU Communication 619
         The LLU Recommendation 625
         The LLU Regulation 629
      B. Regulating LLU under the ECNS Framework 632
         i) Obligations of Access to, and Use of, Specific Network Facilities 634
         ii) Obligation of Transparency 635
         iii) Obligation of Non-discrimination 636
         iv) Obligation of Accounting Separation 637
         v) Price Control and Cost Accounting Obligations 637
   4.3. Regulating Bitstream Access 638
      A. Regulating Bitstream Access under the ONP Framework 639
      B. Regulating Bitstream under the ECNS Regulatory Framework 640

5. Broadband Policy 643
   5.1. Choosing between the Different Types of Bitsream Access 643
   5.2. Complementary Use of Bitstream Access and LLU 648

Appendix 1 653

Appendix 2 657

Index 671