The Economics of Lawmaking

FRANCESCO PARISI % VINCY FON

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Contents

Acknowledgments ix
Introduction xiii

PART I Lawmaking through Legislation: Codified Law  1
1 Lawmaking through Legislation: An Introduction  3
2 Optimal Specificity of Laws: Rules versus Standards  9
3 Optimal Timing of Legal Intervention: Lawmaking under Uncertainty  31
4 Optimal Territorial Scope of Laws: Subsidiarity and Legal Harmonization  51

PART II Lawmaking through Adjudication:
Judge-Made Law  71
5 Lawmaking through Adjudication: An Introduction  73
6 Litigation and the Evolution of Legal Remedies  85
7 Judicial Path-Dependence and Legal Change  97
8 Theories of Legal Precedent: Stare Decisis and Jurisprudence Constante  111

PART III Lawmaking through Practice: Customary Law  127
9 Lawmaking through Practice: An Introduction  129
10 Fostering the Emergence of Customary Law  137
11 Customary Law and Articulation Theories  157
12 Stability and Change in Customary Law  183

PART IV Lawmaking through Agreement: Treaty Law  207
13 Lawmaking through Agreement: An Introduction  209
14 Formation and Accession to Treaties  215
15 Ratification and Reservations: The Effects of Reciprocity 237
16 The Hidden Bias of Treaty Law 249

Conclusions 271
Notes 279
References 309
Index 323