TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE ........................................................................................................................................... v

CHAPTER I
ECONOMIC LAW, CONSUMER INTERESTS AND EU INTEGRATION
Norbert Reich ............................................................................................................................................. 1

I. Economic law and consumer interests in the complex relations of Community, Member States and undertakings ......................................................................................................................... 6

II. The initial “productivist concept” of the EEC Treaty and the problem of the promotion of consumer interests ....................................................................................................................... 9

III. Consumer rights under primary EU law ............................................................................................... 17

1. Consumer policy as an independent Community policy ........................................................................ 17

2. The consumer right to information ......................................................................................................... 21

3. The consumer right to education, association, protection of legitimate expectations and effective judicial protection ............................................................................................................. 26

IV. “Measures” of consumer policy: a question of competence .................................................................. 30

1. Harmonisation measures according to the “old law” ............................................................................. 30

2. Competence in the internal market and its restrictions ........................................................................... 30

3. “Measures” instead of “specific actions” ................................................................................................. 33

4. “Monitoring” measures .......................................................................................................................... 34

5. Classification of the different policies .................................................................................................... 35

6. Overview of “positive” integration measures of EC consumer law and policy ....................................... 36

V. The position of the consumer under the law of EC directives ................................................................. 38

1. Prevalence of directives in EU consumer policy ..................................................................................... 38

2. Legal effects of directives ..................................................................................................................... 39

VI. Consumer concepts in Community law ................................................................................................. 45

1. The “informed consumer” standard ......................................................................................................... 45

2. “Consumer” as a legal concept: a narrow or a wide definition? ............................................................. 47

VII. Future orientations of EU consumer policy and law – a critical overview ........................................ 49

1. From consumer law to user protection? .................................................................................................. 49

2. Consumer law and contract law in the EU ............................................................................................ 57
3. Review of European consumer contract law: towards “full harmonisation” of the “acquis” or a “European consumer contract law regulation” (ECCLR)? ................................. 58

CHAPTER 2
UNFAIR COMMERCIAL PRACTICES AND MISLEADING ADVERTISING
Hans-W. MICKLITZ .................................................. 61

I. Introduction .......................................................... 64
  1. Summary of the legislative history of Directive 84/450/EEC .......... 64
  2. The development of Directive 97/55/EG concerning misleading advertising so as to include comparative advertising .......... 66
  3. Relationship with primary Community law ......................... 68

II. The purpose of Directive 2005/29/EC ................................ 71
  1. Protection of consumers’ economic interests ............................ 71
  2. Main purpose of the UCPD: freedom of decision-making, market transparency and information ........................................ 71
  3. Internal market reference and general interest .................... 72
  4. The relationship of the protective purposes to each other ........ 73

III. The scope of Directive 2005/29/EC .................................. 73
  1. Personal scope of application ........................................ 73
  2. Factual scope of application .......................................... 74
  3. Limitation of the scope of application ................................ 75

IV. Minimum/maximum harmonisation and internal market clause in the UCPD ................................................................. 78
  1. The background to the debate ........................................ 79
  2. Maximum harmonisation and internal market clause ............ 80

V. The concept of fair trading in the UCPD ................................ 81
  1. The three-level structure of the general clause .................... 81
  2. Conceptual basis of the term “fairness” ............................ 82
  3. Requirements of professional diligence ............................ 85
  4. Material distortion of the economic behaviour of the consumer ... 86
  5. The “average consumer” and particularly vulnerable groups .... 87
  6. Relationship between the comprehensive general clause and the special general clauses ............................................. 88

VI. The concept of misleading advertising in Directive 2005/29/EC .......... 89
  1. The concept of misleading commercial practices .................. 90
2. Misleading commercial practices – abstract or concrete? .......... 91
3. Information requirements and misleading omissions (Article 7) ... 94

VII. Comparative advertising in Directive 97/55/EC ..................... 98
1. The concept of comparative advertising ............................ 99
2. Strengthening of the rational decision-making process .......... 101
3. The required extent of the comparison ............................ 104

VIII. Aggressive commercial practices in Directive 2005/29/EC .... 107
1. Aggressiveness as a new prohibition clause ....................... 107
2. Aggression and culture ............................................. 108
3. Function and system of Articles 8 and 9 ........................... 109

1. The list's concept and national law ............................... 110
2. “Considered unfair” – “considered misleading” – scope for interpretation ....................................................... 111
3. Exclusive or non-exclusive ......................................... 112

X. Codes of practice in Directive 2005/29/EC .......................... 112
1. Function of the codes of practice ................................ 113
2. Substantive requirements and legal consequences of a breach 113

XI. Burden of proof in Directives 97/55/EC and 2005/29/EC .... 115
2. The regulation in Directive 97/55/EC ............................. 116

CHAPTER 3
UNFAIR TERMS IN CONSUMER CONTRACTS
Hans-W. MICKLITZ ......................................................... 119

I. The starting point ...................................................... 122
1. The proposals of the Commission ................................ 123
2. The deliberations in the Council of Ministers .................... 125
3. The protective purpose of Directive 93/13/EEC of 5 April 1993 ... 127

II. The scope of application of Directive 93/13/EEC .............. 128
1. Objective scope of application .................................... 128
2. Exceptions to the scope of application ........................... 130
3. Subjective application criteria .................................... 133

III. The concept of unfairness ......................................... 135
1. Unfairness in the formal sense: the so-called requirement of transparency ...................................................... 135
2. Substantive criteria ................................................... 138
3. The consequences of unfair terms ................................. 143
IV. The so-called indicative list ................................................................. 145
   1. The legal nature of the indicative list ............................................... 145
   2. Is there an obligation to implement for the Member States? ............ 146
   3. The content of the indicative list .................................................. 147
V. Law enforcement .................................................................................. 148
   1. Adequate and effective means of law enforcement – associations and authorities with standing to sue ............................................... 148
   2. Limitation period ........................................................................... 148
   3. Review ex officio ............................................................................. 148
VI. Reform of the Unfair Terms Directive 93/13/EEC. ............................... 149

CHAPTER 4
SALE OF CONSUMER GOODS
Hans-W. MICKLITZ .............................................................................. 151

I. Introduction .......................................................................................... 154
II. Scope of application ............................................................................ 156
   1. Scope of application concerning the subject matter ........................ 156
   2. Scope of application concerning the person affected .................... 158
III. Conformity of the consumer goods with the contract ....................... 160
   1. Description, sample or model, Article 2(2) lit a ............................. 160
   2. Fit for any particular purpose for which the consumer requires them, Article 2(2) lit b ................................................................... 161
   3. Fit for normal use, Article 2(2) lit c ............................................... 161
   4. Normal quality and public statements, Article 2(2) lit d ................. 161
   5. Incorrect installation or incorrect installation instructions ............. 163
IV. Time and presumption of lack of conformity ..................................... 163
V. Statutory exclusion of liability for lack of conformity ......................... 164
VI. The obligor, Article 2 and the right of redress, Article 4 ................. 165
   1. Obligor .......................................................................................... 165
   2. The right to redress in Article 4 ..................................................... 165
VII. Remedies of the consumer, Article 3 .............................................. 167
   1. Repair and replacement ................................................................ 167
   2. Reduction of the price and rescission of the contract ................. 170
VIII. The double period and the period for asserting a claim, Article 5 ... 171
IX. “Commercial” guarantees, Article 6 .................................................. 173
X. Binding nature, minimum protection, PIL, duty to report and inform,
   Articles 7, 8, 9, 11 and 12 ................................................................. 174
   1. Binding nature, Article 7(1) .......................................................... 174
   2. The minimum protection clause ..................................................... 175
CHAPTER 5
CONSUMER CREDIT
Peter Rott ........................................ 177

I. Consumer Financial Services ........................... 180
II. The old Directive 87/102/EEC. ....................... 182
III. The reform process and the harmonisation concept. .... 184
   1. Scope of application ................................ 187
   2. The protective instruments ......................... 191
V. Conclusions and perspectives .......................... 212

CHAPTER 6
LIABILITY FOR DEFECTIVE PRODUCTS AND SERVICES
Hans-W. Micklitz ..................................... 215

I. The work of the EC on a directive on product liability ........ 218
   1. The economic and legal fundamentals of the European approximation work .................................. 218
   2. Consumer interests in product liability law .......... 219
   3. The development stages of the E(E)C – approximation work 220
II. The safety concept of the Directive: what is a defect? .... 222
   1. The notion of defect in the different proposals .... 222
   2. Defect and expected safety ......................... 223
III. The notion of “producer” ................................ 230
   1. Importance of the concept for a system of “strict liability” 230
   2. The concept of “producer” in Directive 85/374. .... 232
IV. Exemptions from liability ................................ 236
   1. Exemptions related to the product .................... 236
   2. Exemptions related to the person ..................... 238
V. Exemptions related to risks: the development risk defence .... 240
   1. The origins of the debate ............................ 240
   2. The present situation of the “development risk” defence 242
VI. The effects of the Directive on the product liability law of the Member States ........................................ 244
    1. The relation to other claims under national law .... 244
CHAPTER 7
CROSS-BORDER CONSUMER PROTECTION

Norbert Reich

I. General remarks ............................................. 266
II. The Rome Convention ........................................ 269
   1. Freedom of choice: Article 3 taken with Articles 8 and 4 of the Rome Convention ............................................. 269
   2. Scope of application as regards the person affected: consumer contracts (1) ............................................. 273
   3. Scope of application as regards the subject matter: consumer contracts (2) ............................................. 275
   4. Special connecting factors in consumer contracts (3) ............................................. 276
III. Rome I-Regulation (EC) 593/2008 ............................................. 279
   1. Issues for reform of PIL ............................................. 279
   3. Rome I-Regulation – relation to the Convention ............................................. 282
   4. Reformulation of consumer contracts ............................................. 283
   5. Special rules for personal passenger contracts ............................................. 285
   6. Relation to special EC instruments ............................................. 285
IV. PIL in secondary Community law ............................................. 285
   1. Special provisions in the consumer law regulations ............................................. 286
   2. Directives ............................................. 286
V. Rome II: Regulation (EC) 864/2007 on PIL arising out of non-contractual obligations
   1. General application of the lex loci delicti
   2. The special case of product liability
   3. Unfairness – the “market principle” vs. country of origin
   4. Restraints of competition
   5. Other non-contractual obligations – limited freedom of choice

VI. Jurisdiction in cross-border litigation
   1. The importance of the Brussels Convention and Regulation
   2. Jurisdiction over consumer contracts under the Convention/Regulation
   3. Actions in tort/quasi-delict

VII. Specific Community procedures also involving consumers
   1. Order for payment procedure
   2. Small claims procedure

VIII. Outlook: “Transnational consumer law” as an alternative to conflict rules?
   1. Lex mercatoria electronica as emerging “transnational law”?
   2. The evolution of “soft law” standards – an alternative to “hard” law concerning cross-border transactions?

CHAPTER 8
LEGAL PROTECTION OF INDIVIDUAL AND COLLECTIVE CONSUMER INTERESTS
Norbert Reich

I. Effective and appropriate legal protection as a general Community law principle
   1. Overview of the development of the case law
   2. The principles of equivalence and effectiveness as a Community guideline for enforcing EU consumer rights under national law
   3. Improvement of effective legal protection of the individual
   4. The meaning of effective legal protection in consumer law

II. The improvement of the legal protection of the individual in horizontal relationships against undertakings
   1. Claims for compensation under Community law as regards the horizontal relationship for breach of directly applicable primary law
   2. Effects on consumer protection – proposed EC action
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>III. Effective legal protection of the individual and liability of the Community</td>
<td>339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>IV. Improving consumers' access to justice</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1. Legal aid in cross-border conflicts</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Alternative dispute resolution (ADR)</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Case law on ADR and consumer arbitration</td>
<td>345</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>V. Enforcement of collective consumer interests</td>
<td>348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1. General principles under Community law</td>
<td>348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Absence of collective redress mechanisms in primary Community law</td>
<td>350</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Secondary law</td>
<td>351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Right of action and standing to sue (legitimate interest to take legal action)</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. International jurisdiction and enforcement in actions for cross-border injunctions</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Cooperation on consumer protection</td>
<td>359</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Collective redress in EC law – a new tendency to law enforcement?</td>
<td>361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EU SECONDARY LAW REGISTER</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>REGISTER OF ECJ DECISIONS</td>
<td>369</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>INDEX</td>
<td>375</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>