Rights of Passage

Sidewalks and the regulation of public flow

Nicholas Blomley
Acknowledgements

1 Pedestrianism

   Pedestrianism and police  4
   Pedestrianism, people and things  8
   Pedestrianism and social justice  11
   Overview of contents  14

2 Civic humanism and the sidewalk

   The sidewalk as political space  18
   The sidewalk as civic space  21
   The sidewalk as walking space  24

3 Thinking like an engineer

   Administrative pedestrianism  29
   Pervasive pedestrianism  34
   The taken for granted  36

4 Producing and policing the sidewalk

   Sidewalk law  45
   Obstruction and encroachments  48
   Other sidewalk rationalities  50

5 The history of pedestrianism

   The invention of the sidewalk  57
   The reformist sidewalk  58
   Administrative pedestrianism at work  62
The public sidewalk 66
The incomplete sidewalk 69

6 Judicial pedestrianism 73
Introduction 73
The public highway 74

7 Obstructions of justice? 80
Speech, protest and circulation 81
Sidewalks, the homeless and judicial pedestrianism 84
Things and bodies 88

8 Taking a constitutional: circulation, begging and the mobile self 94
Introduction 94
Political pedestrianism 95
Conclusions 103

9 Hidden in plain view 106
Notes 112
Bibliography 120
Index 127