Jurisdictional Competition of International Courts and Tribunals

Edited by Bartłomiej Krzan

Wrocław 2012
Wydawnictwo Uniwersytetu Wrocławskiego
Contents

Preface (Bartłomiej Krzan) .............................................. 7

I. General Problems

James Crawford, Jurisdiction of International Tribunals: Some Ramifications of the Chorzów Factory Principle ..................................................... 11
Pavel Šturma, International Investment Arbitration and Human Rights .......... 45
Izabela Skomerska-Muchowska, Res judicata as a Principle of International Law — an Effective Solution to the Problem of Competing Jurisdictions? .......... 63

II. Specific Issues

Joanna Gomula, Competing Jurisdictions in WTO Jurisprudence ................... 97
Astrid Wiik, Choice or Default? UNCLOS, Other Dispute Settlement Systems and Choice of Procedure Pursuant to Article 287 UNCLOS .................. 121
Bartłomiej Krzan, The Relationship between the International Criminal Court and the International Court of Justice ............................................. 161
Tobias Thienel, The Exclusive Jurisdiction of the European Court of Justice and Its Effect on Other International Courts and Tribunals .................. 189
Andreas Kulick, Many Questions, Few Answers — the Energy Charter Treaty and EU Disputes .......................................................... 247

III. Relations with Domestic Courts

Karolina Wierczyńska, The Principle of Complementarity in International Criminal Law ................................................................. 263
Clemens Hofmeister, Hannes Hofmeister, "Clash of Courts or Continued Cooperation?" — the Relationship between the ECJ and the German Constitutional Court ....................................................... 285
Barbara Mielnik, Cooperation between National Courts and the Court of Justice of the Andean Community ................................................. 303
Witold Jakimko, Jurisdiction of International Judges within the EULEX Mission in Kosovo and Their Executive Functions in Criminal Cases .......... 327

IV. Case Studies

Michael Geistlinger, Competing Jurisdictions in International Sports Law — a Case Study ................................................... 341

Justyna Bazylinska-Nagler, International Arbitrator's Obligation to Apply EU Competition Law — Case Comment to the Judgement of the European Court of Justice of June 1, 1999 — Eco Swiss China Time Ltd. v. Benetton International NV. No. C-126/97 .......................................................... 357

Artur Kozlowski, Award on Jurisdiction, Arbitrality and Suspension (Eureko B.V. v. the Slovak Republic, PCA Case no. 2008-13) — Intra-EU Jurisdictional Objection .............................................. 367