Class Arbitration in the European Union

Editor
Philippe Billiet

Co-Editor
Association for International Arbitration (AIA)

Authors
Philippe Billiet, Yves Derains, Bernardo M. Cremades, Gabriele Crespi Reghizzi, Ian Hunter, Louis Flannery, José Miguel Júdice, László Kecskés, Hans Bagner, Alexander J. Bélohlávek, Sara Ribbeklint, Pontus Ewerlöf, Jeppe Skadhauge, Lajos Wallacher, Rodrigo Cortes, António Pedro Pinto Monteiro, Aurore Descombes, Matteo Dragoni, Laura Lozano
Table of contents

Introduction

Philippe Billiet & Laura Lozano

General Reflections on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Class Arbitral Awards in Europe

Philippe Billiet & Laura Lozano

1. Introduction

2. The New York Convention

3. Common Law vs Civil Law traditions

4. Due Process concerns

5. Public Policy concerns

5. Conclusion

Class Actions And Arbitration in the European Union – France

Yves Derains & Aurore Descombes

1. Introduction

2. Class actions and French law on domestic arbitration
   2.1. Procedural issues that may constitute an obstacle to class action arbitration development in domestic arbitration
   2.1.1. Jurisdiction ratione materiae
   2.1.2. Jurisdiction ratione personae
   2.2. The impossible recognition and enforcement of a domestic class action arbitration award
   2.1.1. Tribunal constitution and arbitrators’ appointment
   2.1.2. The enforcement of due process
   2.1.3. Public policy concerns

3. Class actions and French law on international arbitration
   3.1. The enforcement in France of an award rendered abroad in an international class action arbitration
   3.2. The organization in France of an international class action arbitration

4. Conclusion

Class Actions and Arbitration Procedures – Czech Republic

Alexander J. Bělohlávek

1. Concept of Class Actions in the Czech Republic and Elsewhere, and Overview of Relevant Rules
   1.1. Concept of Class Actions and Approach by Czech Law
   1.2. Definition of Class Action, Reflecting Czech Law
1.3. Overview of Applicable Laws

2. Typical Elements of Class Action in Czech Domestic Law (Litigation)
   2.1. Current Legal Framework
   2.2. Abstaining from Unlawful Conduct / Remedying Defective State of Affairs (Section 83 of the Code of Procedure)
   2.3. Effects of Res Judicata on Third Parties (Section 159a (2) of Code of Civil Procedure)
   2.4. Shortcomings of Czech Legal Framework concerning enforceability of class actions as a legal institution
   2.5. Differences between Czech Law and [Typical] Models of Class Action
   2.6. Final Observations regarding Czech Attitude towards Institution of Class Actions

3. Arbitration
   3.1. Legal Framework for Arbitration in Czech Republic
   3.2. Amendment to Arbitration Act as of April 1, 2012; Consumer Protection in Czech Lex Arbitri
   3.3. Non-applicability of Class Actions in Arbitration
      3.3.1. Arbitration and Rules Applied to Court Litigation: Independence and Interdependence
      3.3.2. Individualisation concerning Arbitration Agreements (and concerning Parties to Dispute Resolved in Arbitration)
      3.3.3. Individualisation of Disputes; Confidentiality of Arbitration
      3.3.4. Effects of Arbitral Award
   3.4. Final Observations regarding Class Actions in Arbitration

Class Actions and Arbitration – Denmark

JEPPE SKADHAUGE

1. Overview of the relevant rules
   1.1. The Danish Administration of Justice Act and the Arbitration Act
   1.2. Class actions
   1.3. Consolidation of individual actions
2. Presentation of the national class action system
3. Class action and arbitration
   3.1. The concept of “class arbitration”
   3.2. Consolidation in arbitration

Class Actions and Arbitration Procedures – Hungary

LASZLÓ KECSEKES & LAJOS WALLACHER

1. Overview of the relevant rules
   1.1. Brief presentation of the national collective redress system
      1.1.1. Joinder of parties
      1.1.2. Assignment
   2. Collective redress and arbitration
2.1. Restrictions on the possibility to conduct class arbitration
   2.1.1. Does the scope of arbitration clauses cover public actions? 100
   2.1.2. Do public actions fall under exclusive jurisdiction of state courts? 101
   2.1.3. Do the rules on public actions form part of lex fori or lex causae? 103
   2.1.4. When does the scope of the arbitration clause cover class arbitration? 104
   2.1.5. Does the Constitution allow waiver of the right to an effective remedy before a court? 104
   2.1.6. Are clauses excluding public actions or submitting disputes to class arbitration unfair? 105
   2.1.7. Other forms of collective redress 107

2.2. The procedure 110
2.3. Settlement 111
2.4. Court review afterwards 111
2.5. Effects of the class award 112
2.6. Individual action next to class action 112
2.7. Conclusion 113

Class Actions and Arbitration Procedures – Italy 115
GABRIELE CRESPI REGHIZZI & MATTEO DRAGONI

1. Class actions in general 115
   1.1. Traditional forms of collective procedures in Italy 115
   1.2. The recent introduction of a “class action” mechanism in Italy: relevant rules 116

2. Italian Class Actions and their peculiarities 118
   2.1. Limited extension: predefined and predetermined restricted groups or classes entitled to the remedy (plaintiffs) and, above all, against whom the class proceedings can be addressed (defendants) 118
   2.1.1. Users, consumers (and final consumers) 120
   2.1.2. Producer, individual entrepreneurs and business organizations (impresa), other possible defendants responsible for anti-competitive or unfair commercial practices 121
   2.2. Absence of a numeric prerequisite and of other “American” conditions within the Italian class action 121
   2.3. The “opt-in” Italian choice 123
   2.4. The Italian procedure in detail 123
   2.5. Administrative or Public Administration class action 124

3. Class Actions and Arbitration 125
   3.1. Arbitration in Italy. Relevant rules 125
   3.2. The Arbitration Agreement 126
   3.3. Jurisdiction 127
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3.4. Arbitrability</td>
<td>127</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.5. Privity of arbitration and multiparty arbitration</td>
<td>128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.6. Choice of (substantive) Law</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.7. Appointment of Arbitrators</td>
<td>130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.8. Interim Measures</td>
<td>131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.9. Appeal of an Award</td>
<td>131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.10. Enforcement of an Award</td>
<td>132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.11. Confidentiality</td>
<td>133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.12. Arbitrability of class disputes</td>
<td>133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.13. Enforcement of class awards rendered abroad</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Class Actions and Arbitration Procedures – Portugal

José Miguel Judice & António Pedro Pinto Monteiro

1. Introduction                                                        137
2. Portuguese System of Class/Group Actions – The popular action       137
3. Class Actions Arbitrations in Portugal?                              147
4. Conclusion                                                          151

Class Actions and Arbitration Procedures – Spain

Bernardo M. Cremades & Rodrigo Cortés

1. Overview of the Relevant Rules                                       153
2. Brief Overview of the National Class Action/Collective Redress System 153
   2.1. Class Actions – A Historical Perspective                         153
   2.2. Collective Actions in Spain                                      154
   2.3. Collective Action in Consumer Arbitration                        155
   2.4. Collective and Diffuse Interests                                 157
3. Class Actions / Collective Redress and Arbitration                   158
   3.1. The Class Arbitration Procedure                                 158
      3.1.1. Standing for filing collective arbitration actions           158
      3.1.2. Determination of the competent Arbitration Board            159
      3.1.3. Problems in determining the competent Arbitration Board     160
      3.1.4. Necessary acceptance of the arbitration by corporate entities 161
      3.1.5. Summoning the injured parties                               161
      3.1.6. Content of the notification                                 162
      3.1.7. Publication expenses                                        163
      3.1.8. Exception for collective arbitration and suspension of petitions    163
      3.1.9. Petitions subsequent to the period granted in the summons   164
      3.1.10. Time period for issuing the award                          164
   3.2. Publication vs. Confidentiality of the Award                     165
   3.3. Settlement During Class Arbitration                             165
4. Exequatur of Class Awards                                             166
TABLE OF CONTENTS

5. Efficacy of the Arbitration Award issued in a Collective Consumer Arbitration Proceeding 168
6. Corporate Arbitration in the Arbitration Act 169
7. Conclusion 170

Class Actions and Arbitration Procedures – Sweden 173

HANS BAGNER, SARA RIBBEKLINT & PONTUS EWEROF

1. Overview of the relevant rules 173
2. Brief presentation of the national class action system 174
   2.1. The Group Proceedings Act 174
   2.1.1. The conditions for group actions 174
   2.1.2. Court proceedings 176
   2.1.3. Evidence 177
   2.1.4. Funding and costs 178
   2.1.5. Appeal options 179
   2.1.6. Recent Developments 179
3. Class actions and arbitration 179
   3.1. Restrictions on the possibility to conduct class action arbitration 179
   3.2. Enforcement of foreign class action arbitral awards 181
   3.3. Individual action vs. class action
       3.3.1 Individual arbitration vs. class litigation 182
       3.3.2. Individual arbitration vs. class settlement 182
       3.3.3. Individual litigation vs. class settlement 183
       3.3.4. Individual settlement vs. class treatment 183
       3.3.5. Individual litigation vs. class action arbitration 183
4. Conclusion 183

Class Action and Arbitration Procedures – United Kingdom 185

IAN HUNTER QC & LOUIS FLANNERY

1. Introduction 185
2. Class action arbitrations 189
   2.1. Class action arbitration rules introduced by the AAA and JAMS 193
   2.2. JAMS Class Arbitration Procedure 196
   2.3. Class Actions in the UK 197
3. Class arbitrations in the UK (England and Wales) 197
   3.1. The principal obstacles in the way of class arbitrations under English law 198
   3.2. Party autonomy under English law 199
   3.3. Settlement 204
   3.4. Other obstacles 205
4. Other forms of collective redress available in English law 206
5. Group litigation in England 208
6. Enforcement of foreign class arbitrations in England 211