Elizabeth "Betita" Sutherland Martínez: A Life in Struggle
Elizabeth “Betita” Sutherland Martínez: A Life in Struggle

Editor’s Introduction
Tony Platt

With All the Struggles, Remember to Keep Life Sweet
Tessa Koning-Martínez

Elizabeth “Betita” Sutherland Martínez: A Chronology

Elizabeth Sutherland / Elizabeth “Betita” Sutherland Martínez:
Bibliography, 1960–2013
Kathryn Blackmer Reyes

The Heart Just Insists: In Struggle with Elizabeth “Betita” Sutherland Martínez
Tony Platt

• Elizabeth “Betita” Sutherland Martínez, In Her Own Words •

Personal Notes
Last Night I Was a Dreamer (1942)
Yeah, Yeah, Yeah (1964)
Every Now and Then (1966)
The Mood Is upon Me (1966)

Poetry
Love of Another Sort (1958)
B’s Blues (c. 1960)
Love (1960)
Tierra Amarilla at Dusk (1969)
The Silver Yes (1971)

Political Writings
... because he was black and I was white: Six Young Women Discuss Their Various Experiences in the Civil-Rights Movement (1967)
Women of the World Unite—We Have Nothing to Lose but Our Men (1968)  75
Who Will Ring the Bells for Humanity? (2002)  81

• BETITA THROUGH ARTISTS’ EYES •

Works by Favianna Rodríguez, Jesus Barraza and Melanie Cervantes of Dignidad Rebelde, John Kaine, Fernando Martí, Laura Rosenfeld, Margaret Randall, Suzie Dods Thomas, and Judith Sandoval

• MEMORIES OF BETITA •

Elizabeth Occupies Wall Street  83
Mike Davis

Always Connecting the Struggles  90
Chude Pam Allen

Before I Knew Elizabeth Martínez  96
Angela Davis

The Right Direction  101
John Nichols

Solidarity Forever  104
Barbara Dane

Go-Go Betita  107
Sofía Martínez

How Betita Saved My Life  113
Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz

Searching for Common Ground  117
Mike Miller

Fellow Traveler  120
Susanne Jonas

Bridging Borders  125
Alejandro Alvarez

Bread and Roses Too  129
Fredi Avalos

Betita: Compañera y Mentora  132
Marta López-Garza
A Chicana Icon on the Left
Carlos Muñoz, Jr.

A Twenty-first Century Activist for Peace
Max Elbaum and Ellen Kaiser

La Amistad Perdura/A Friendship Endures
Olga Talamante

... ...

In Memoriam (Suzie Dod Thomas, 1947–2013)